MacArthur's Bombers Smash 10 Warships and 12 Transports

U. S. WILL MOVE 50,000 FARMERS TO BETTER LAND

Hill Folk to Help in Midwest.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., March 3.—A rural migration designed to relocate 50,000 farmers, most of them with families, from the hills of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and Arkansas, on farms in the midwest, the west, and east, is getting under way here. The movement is directed by the farm security administration, in coöperation with other federal agencies, and its aim is to help meet farm labor shortages.

Already about 1,000 farmers have been moved to new regions in various states to aid in production of food. Of these 100 have been transported with their families and their household goods, while 500 others are leaving families and furniture behind to send for them after they have become located.

The migration program and policy is directed from Washington, D. C., headquarters, but Cincinnati is the center of much of the activity, as two thirds of the office force of FSA was moved here a year ago. The plan is on a regional basis. The Indianapolis, Ind., office of FSA is in charge in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, and Missouri.

Has Dramatic Aspects.

Information at the Cincinnati office is that the proposed exodus of 50,000 farmers from their present homesteads is expected to be accomplished in a year. About 75 per cent of the farmers are family men with possessions, and if the average family has four persons, it would indicate that if the project is successful more than 160,000 men, women, and children might be affected. The men who already have moved are for the most part between 36 and 50 years of age.

Ancestral roots are to be torn up by the migration, which is to be from the hills and mountains which are the largest reservoir of old colonial stock and descendants of the frontiersmen, the old Daniel Boone country, where the saying is that patriarchs fancy they still are voting for Gen. Jackson.

Two Weeks of Schooling.

In some places farmers have complained that the movement is disrupting associations ranging back for generations. The FSA says the disruption is no greater than if the men went into war industries outside their locale.

The avowed purpose of the relocation is to move year-round workers, drawn mostly from less productive regions where there is a surplus of farm man power, principally into dairy and live stock regions to replace experienced workers who are in service or in war industries.

Short courses in modern farming are part of the program. Those who volunteer are given about two weeks of schooling with modern farm machinery.

Pick Their Locations.

As described by officials, the men, after deciding to change their habitation, pick the state and region to which they desire to move. They take a training course. Farmers file requests for labor with the federal employment service.

Some of the year round workers, FSA says, are expected to be placed as renters of farms which otherwise would stand idle this year.

One of the big jobs is the transportation of the possessions. Negotiations are reported to have been opened with several large van companies. Much of the household goods will have to be carted down the hills by wagon to main roads, and FSA says it is planned to transport each family's belongings complete.

In addition to the 50,000 year round farmers which FSA proposes to move to pastures new, a second part of the program contemplates the recruiting and transporting of 275,000 seasonal workers, many of whom have followed the crops from north to south, and who would work on farms a few months in the year.

FUEL RATIONING NEEDLESS, SAY STATE PROBERS

Stronger Statement May Come Later.

Use No. 5 Monday

The office of price administration yesterday advanced the date for use of the No. 5 fuel oil coupon to next Monday in the Chicago area, and fixed its value at 11 gallons, the same as that of the No. 4 coupon, Michael F. Mulcahy, area rationing administrator, announced. The move was in line with similar action taken in the eastern states. The No. 5 coupon originally was scheduled to become valid March 14.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—Office of price administration fuel oil rationing in Illinois was assailed as unnecessary and as futile in supplying army and navy needs in a report of the joint legislative committee to investigate rationing, made public today.

Sen. Walker Butler.

And there were indications that this criticism may be made even stronger next week by the addition of another chapter dealing at length with the "control" theory behind rationing measures.

Majority members of the committee expressed anger over the action of three Democratic members who insisted on modification of the report as it was drawn Monday night, and then withheld their signatures.

Plans to Ask Changes.

Sen. Walker Butler [R., Chicago], said he would ask Sen. Earle Benjamin Searcy [R., Springfield], committee chairman, to allow an addition to the report next week.

"We changed the wording of the report at every point the three dissenting members asked," Butler said. "It was our understanding that this was being done in order to bring back a unanimous report. As a result, the report was weakened, and we still didn't get the signatures of the three members.

"The most startling development of this investigation, to me, was the brazen contention of Joel Dean [director of the OPA fuel oil rationing division], the self-acknowledged creator of this rationing scheme, that the American people could not be depended upon to comply voluntarily with a program essential to the war effort.

Holds Distrust Indicated.

"His whole attitude and his philosophy, as expressed, indicated a view that our citizens could not be trusted, but that some master mind had to formulate a plan of what was best for us and then obtain compliance under dire threats of severe penalties.

"I resent deeply the view that a group of impractical dreamers must be allowed to saddle their un-American ideas upon us under the guise of aiding the war effort. It is about time for the American people to say in words that can't be misunderstood in Washington [D. C.] that we have come to the conclusion that the quicker they stop this meddling and snooping into citizens' private lives—this attempt to foster the brain trust ideal of a planned society — the quicker we will win this war."

Sen. Nicholas L. Hubbard [D., Mount Pulaski], who leads anti-New Deal Democratic forces in the legislature, also struck at Dean's testimony before the committee, saying:

"American progress has been the result of individual initiative and not the product of ideas imposed by self-selected shepherds for the good of the flocks.

"The basic idea of the administra-

London's Guns Repel German Revenge Raids

BULLETIN.

LONDON, March 4 (Thursday) —(AP).—RAF bombers were over Germany last night in their eighth successive night raid on continental targets, the British announced today.

LONDON, March 4 [Thursday]—(AP).—Amid indications that British bombers again were attacking targets in western Europe, German air raiders struck weakly at London twice during the night in expected reprisal for the R. A. F.'s smashing Monday night assault on Berlin.

The first Nazi raiders appeared over the British capital shortly after dark and kept the city under alert for about 90 minutes. The second attack was made just before dawn and lasted slightly more than an hour.

Only a few enemy planes succeeded in flying over the center of the city on the first attack and the second raid was apparently even more ineffective.

Four Planes Shot Down.

A barrage greeted the first wave of raiders, four of which were shot down, according to unofficial reports.

The first raiders unloaded showers of fire bombs and other planes later dropped explosives, but there was no concerted attack.

The noise of the raiders' motors frequently was drowned out by the thunderous barrage of London's powerful anti-aircraft weapons, which drove off the planes.

Several districts were bombed and there were casualties at one place. Rescue workers dug in the ruins of one bombed dwelling for trapped residents.

Only Few Planes Seen.

Indicating the lightness of the German attack on London, one observer counted only a few planes.

The sirens, the crumping of bombs, and hail of anti-aircraft fire sent pedestrians—American soldiers among them—into air raid shelters, some of which had scarcely been used in two years.

The barrage of defense fire at times was as heavy as it ever has been. The first few planes over the city appeared to swerve as the guns roared, then they dropped flares. The sound of two or three bombs was heard, but buses and trains carried on as the raiders fled for home.

Last Night Raid on Jan. 17.

The last night raid on London was Jan. 17, when the Germans retaliated with 60 planes after the big British assault on Berlin the night before. Of the 60 raiders, R. A. F. fighters shot down 10.

In daylight on Jan. 20 a few fighter-bombers raided a southeastern London school, killing 42 children and 5 teachers.

But the R. A. F. apparently was smashing back again, for the Deutschlandsender, Germany's main domestic radio in the Berlin area, went off the air. Its silence indicated allied planes were raiding the continent for the eighth successive night.

British wooden Mosquito bombers yesterday attacked mines only 40 miles from Stavanger, Norway. Other raiders struck at France and Holland, attacking railways and other targets.

HOUSE IS WARNED ON DANGER OF FOOD RIOTS WITHIN YEAR

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Rep. Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.] today told the house: "I have been informed by competent government authority that we in the United States are headed for food riots within 12 months."

This statement was made by the Illinois representative during a speech by Rep. Edwin A. Hall [R., N. Y.] in which he predicted that the country will have government controlled community farms because of what he termed "farmers' inability to get needed farm machinery and repair parts for their present equipment."

SPELLMAN FLIES TO SPAIN; SILENT ON PAPAL TALKS

SEVILLE, Spain, March 3 (AP). — Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York said on his arrival here today from Rome that Pope Pius XII. was "very much affected by world events" and "extremely interested in all developments."

This was the archbishop's only comment on his two audiences with the pope after his arrival at Vatican City Feb. 20 on a mission which caused widespread speculation.

He arrived here aboard an Italian Lati air liner from Rome after extending his congratulations to the pope on the latter's 67th birthday yesterday. It was not announced whether the archbishop would proceed directly to Lisbon tomorrow or visit Madrid first.

Archbishop Spellman said the pope gave him a special benediction, personally and for the New York diocese.

Repeats Hint of Favoritism to F.D.R. Sons

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—William P. Lambertson [R., Kas.] told the house today that while Walter Winchell was describing by radio Sunday night the "magnificent soldiery" of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. the President's son "and his du Pont wife were doing the night clubs of New York."

The Kansan, frequent critic of the war records of the "Roosevelt boys," again raised the question whether the President's sons are being given "preferential treatment" in the military services.

He previously had asked the house if the Roosevelts had not been "jerked" from war zones when the going got rough.

Rankin Answers Critic.

Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.] took the floor immediately after Lambertson was seated, telling the house "I am shocked," and adding:

"I cannot understand the mentality of any man who will rise on this floor and attempt to belittle the services of any one now wearing the uniform of the United States. These boys are not asking any special favors and are not getting any."

Gives His Version.

In his new criticism of the Roosevelt sons, Lambertson said:

"Walter Winchell dwelt on the magnificent soldiery of Franklin Jr. in Africa, intimating that he had been there from the beginning except for a few days, when the facts are that he landed by plane here the third of December and stayed until some time in January, going back in time to be photographed with his father [at Casablanca].

"When Rommel started west so did Franklin Jr. again, yet the gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. McCormick [house majority leader], and the brilliant young knight from Tennessee, Mr. Gore [who previously had replied to Lambertson's criticism of the Roosevelt sons], will probably insist that the Roosevelt boys have no preferential treatment."

Harry Bridges Allowed to Sign New $3,000 Bond

San Francisco, Cal., March 3 (AP).—Harry Bridges, waterfront labor union leader and California congress of industrial organizations director, who is fighting deportation, was permitted to sign a new $3,000 bond today in the office of United States Commissioner Frances Fox and remain at liberty pending appeal from denial of a habeas corpus writ.

DESTROY 15,000 TROOPS; SHOOT DOWN 55 PLANES

"Victory Major Disaster to the Enemy; Providence Must Have Guided Us," Says General.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 4 (Thursday)—(AP).—"The battle of the Bismarck sea now has been decided. We have achieved a victory of such completeness as to assume the proportions of a major disaster to the enemy."

In these words Gen. Douglas MacArthur's daily communique today told the story of one of the greatest triumphs of the war, in which 10 Japanese warships and 12 transports, all the ships in a convoy approaching New Guinea, were destroyed with a loss of 15,000 men. Fifty-five Japanese planes also were shot down, at the low cost of only one American bomber and three fighter planes.

Jap Disaster

Map locates the allied victory over a big Jap convoy that resulted in a major disaster for the enemy.

"His entire force was practically destroyed. His naval component consisted of 22 vessels, comprising 12 transports and 10 warships—cruisers and destroyers.

"They represent tonnage estimated at approximately 90,000 tons. All are sunk or sinking. His air coverage of this naval force has been decimated and dispersed, 55 of his planes having been shot out of combat and many others damaged. His ground forces, estimated at probably 15,000 destined to attack in New Guinea, have been sunk or killed almost to a man.

Eight Vessels Join Convoy.

"The original convoy of 14 ships was joined during the afternoon by eight other vessels. Our air force in all categories constantly attacked thruout the day, and ship after ship was again and again hit with heavy bombs from low altitudes.

"Enemy air coverage became weaker and weaker; his forces were scattered and dispersed, and finally his remnants, isolated and bewildered, were gradually annihilated by our successive air formations as we sent them into combat.

"Our losses were light, one bomber and three fighters shot down and a number of others damaged but returned to base.

Greatest Air Victory.

"Our decisive success cannot fail to have most important results on the enemy's strategic and tactical plans. His campaign for the time being at least is completely dislocated."

The battle was believed at Headquarters to be the greatest victory ever achieved anywhere by purely air action against a naval surface force.

A spokesman estimated that possibly several thousand Japanese naval personnel died in the wreckage of the convoy, in addition to the 15,000 troops aboard, as the allied planes hurled down more than 100 tons of bombs.

General Credits Providence.

Gen. MacArthur himself declared that "a merciful providence must have guided us in this great victory."

This was the convoy which had been sighted Monday advancing from New Britain toward New Guinea, protected then by foul weather.

The convoy was attacked as it scattered in a wide area off Finschhafen, New Guinea. Supposedly it was bound for Lae, or

New Triumph Scored by Land Based Planes

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's air force, in shattering 22 ships of a Jap convoy bearing down on New Guinea, has proved once more that a force of land based bombers manned by skilled and daring pilots is more than a match for a seaborne invasion army.

The bag of 10 enemy warships and 12 transports reported yesterday brings to 126 the number of enemy surface vessels destroyed by aircraft under MacArthur's command since the Papua campaign began last September. Ninety-seven of these were transports crammed with troops and supplies. Twenty-nine were warships.

500 Aircraft Downed.

In this same period nearly 500 enemy aircraft, many of which were used as fighter cover for the numerous invasion attempts, have been downed by southwest Pacific airmen.

The success of MacArthur's aerial command began with the arrival in Australia last summer of Lt. Gen. George Kenney, one of the most brilliant air men in the allied nations' armies. Without sufficient surface vessels to keep the Japs from their shores, MacArthur and Kenney developed a small but hard hitting air force which has filled the rôle of a navy.

The southwest Pacific — including principally Australia and New Guinea —is the only theater in this war in which an air force alone has been successful in turning back task force after task force. The repeated attempts to land troops in New Guinea have cost them dearly.

Compares with Midway.

Probably the only comparable operation is the battle of Midway, where land based planes again bested surface ships in what was a disastrous defeat for the Japanese.

The successes of the southwest Pacific air force have been scored not only in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire from the escorting warships and transports, but against heavy opposition from a strong umbrella of enemy fighters based on New Britain, which at one point is only 80 miles from New Guinea.

the Huon gulf, now being slowly threatened by allied ground forces coming up from the Papuan peninsula.

The convoy first was sighted Monday afternoon, but bad weather prevented immediate attack. But when rain, haze, and thick clouds persisted Gen. MacArthur sent his planes out Tuesday morning.

In the initial attacks, despite the bad weather, four cargo or transport ships were hit and sunk or left in a sinking condition.

As the allied aerial onslaught was stepped up the weather cleared somewhat, permitting the more devastating blows which followed.

A spokesman at allied headquarters said some of the convoy might have been able to reach Lae if the ships had not spent so much time scattering while under air attack. He added that "our air losses were so small because of the planes and the pilots and the good breaks—plus thoro preparation."

The intention of the convoy was properly diagnosed, he continued, and the allied air force was conditioned and prepared for the attack.

33 Planes Definitely Gone.

The convoy, which had proceeded from Rabaul and other points in New Britain along the north coast of New Britain, went thru Vitiaz straits, where the first attacks were made, and reached the Huon gulf in the Lae-Salamaua area before the final, smashing blows were dealt.

The 55 enemy planes shot down in combat included 13 on Tuesday and 42 Wednesday. Of the total, 33 were confirmed as definitely destroyed, and the other 22 were listed as probables, the spokesman said.

[If all the 22 ships find their way to the bottom of the Pacific, it will raise the unofficial total of Jap losses since Pearl Harbor to 510 ships of all types, according to the Associated Press tabulation. United States losses, based on a tabulation of navy announcements, total 94 ships.]

The triumph was believed by observers here to indicate a reduction of any threat of immediate attack upon Australia, and a considerable setback in the enemy's preparations "in readiness," of which the allied communique warned March 1.

Reports Still Confused.

The battle was so extended, with so many planes and ships involved, that observation was difficult and detailed reports are still confused.

In addition to the four ships sunk or badly damaged and 13 planes shot out of combat Tuesday, later reports on that day's activities gave Flying Fortresses two direct hits and two near misses on a 6,000-ton cargo ship which was left sinking, and near misses on two other cargo ships, two Japanese fighter planes shot down and two damaged out of 16 or 18 that intercepted.

Fighting in minor theaters was described in the communique as follows:

"Northwestern sector—Aru Islands: Our medium units bombed and strafed the remaining portion of the town of Dobo, demolishing buildings and starting fires.

Guinea Bases Bombed.

"Kai Islands: Our medium bombers attacked Toeal, effecting considerable damage and starting fires.

"Northeastern sector—New Guinea: Finschhafen: One of our heavy units bombed the airfield and jetty.

"Lae: In a predawn raid our attack units bombed the airdrome from extreme low level. During the day our fighter bombers with strong escort dive bombed and strafed the field. In air battles seven enemy fighters were shot out of combat."

Allied headquarters also announced that British Spitfire fighter planes have joined the air war in the southwest Pacific, and that they have achieved notable successes.

CHINESE CHEER MME. CHIANG IN SPEECH AT N. Y.

New York, Mach 3 (AP).—Gesturing more frequently and forcefully than before American audiences, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek told a Chinese rally today that China would not stop fighting until all its lost territory was regained. She spoke in Kuo Yu, a Chinese dialect used by the Mandarins.

Somewhat wan as she entered Carnegie hall and bowed to cheering Chinese packed to the roof, Mme. Chiang sang steadily as the Chinese national anthem was played. After an introduction by the consul general, Mme. Chiang, who wore a black velveteen jacket over a flowered Chinese gown, stepped to the lectern and halted prolonged applause by a gesture of her hands.

As she related incidents of Chinese resistance during incessant bombings by the Japanese, her voice and gestures increased in intensity. She concluded with the admonition that Chinese in America must be good citizens here as well as at home "bcecause we all have the same common objectives and ideas."

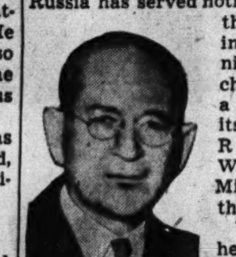
SOVIET POLICIES HELD REBUFF TO 'CHARTER' AIMS

Woodruff Raps Russians' Claims as 'Shocking.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Soviet Russia has served notice on the world that it does not intend to recognize the Atlantic charter or to be a party to any of its provisions, Rep. Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.] asserted in the house today.



Rep. Roy O. Woodruff.

Woodruff said he based his charge on recent announcements by the soviet embassy of Russia's vast territorial claims in post-war Europe. He added that these shocking claims, as he put it, have been disquieting news on this side of the Atlantic and should give the American people food for grave thought.

Recalls Demand for Poland.

The Michigan representative recalled that a soviet claim to rich industrial and agricultural areas of prewar Poland was disclosed in an embassy bulletin published in this country last month. He said the bulletin reproduced an article published in the government controled press in Moscow in which the demand was made for Polish territory around the city of Lwow and additional regions bordering on White Russia.

Describing these declarations as a "Russian challenge" to the Atlantic charter, Woodruff said the soviet embassy has also published a claim to Bessarabia, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

"These claims come as a great shock in the face of the first three articles of the Atlantic charter upon which President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill agreed, ostensibly for the allies," said Woodruff.

Notes Charter Terms.

He noted that these articles state that the United States and Great Britain seek no territorial aggrandizement; that they desire to see no territorial changes not in accord with wishes of the people concerned; and that the two nations respect the right of all people to choose their form of government and wish to see sovereign rights of self-government restored to those who have been deprived of them.

"The rest of the charter discussed the outlook for a peaceful and happy life for everybody after the Nazis had been destroyed," said the Michigan congressman. "It is most disquieting in view of these declarations by President Roosevelt for the United States and Winston Churchill for the British empire, that the soviet embassy should now lay claim to the territory of other nations which have been overrun by the Germans and Russians since Hitler marched into Poland."

Woodruff went on to recall that the European war began when Germany made certain territorial demands on Poland and Britain promised to aid the Polish government in resisting any action threatening that country's independence.

He said the Russian-German nonaggression pact of August, 1939, expedited the German march into Poland on Sept. 1.

SOVIET EMBASSY CALLS EXECUTED UNIONISTS SPIES

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Answering accusations that the Russian government had committed a "bloody crime" by executing two Polish labor union leaders, the soviet embassy said tonight that the two men, Henryk Erlich and Victor Alter, had been convicted as spies and subversive agents.

The two were convicted last December by a military court of appealing to Red army troops not to fight the Germans, the embassy said in commenting on a charge by the American Representation of the General Jewish Workers' union of Poland that "the good names of these well known anti-Fascist and Socialists were besmirched with the shameless accusation of complicity with Hitler Germany."

Green Sought Release.

Maxim Litvinof, the soviet ambassador, on Feb. 23 informed AFL President William Green of the executions, the embassy said, explaining that Green and other American labor leaders had sought release of the two men.

In an advertisment in a New York newspaper, the Jewish Workers' union described Erlich and Alter as "prominent leaders of the Jewish labor movement of Poland."

Seized in December.

"The Jewish people will never forget this bloody crime," the union declared in protesting the execution.

The embassy said Erlich and Alter were first arrested in August, 1941, but released a month later at the request of the Polish government. Subsequently, the embassy said, they "resumed their subversive activity and espionage" and were arrested again in December and sentenced to death.

400 'RUSHEES' SEE HOW WAVES AND SPARS FIGHT WAR

W-G-N Gives New Kind of 'Sorority' Party.

The WAVES and SPARS gave a "rush" party for 400 Chicago girls last night in the W-G-N audience studio. The "rushees," all possible applicants for admission to the women's reserves of the navy or coast guard, saw and heard the regular Service Men's Show broadcast plus a strictly "women of the navy" epilogue.

During this 20 minute dramatization of WAVES and SPARS at work, WAVES stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training station portrayed the various rôles navy women are trained to fill and the situations they are prepared to face.

Enact Military Duties.

One by one the spotlights picked out a WAVE intercepting an S. O. S. call from a torpedoed ship; a WAVE quietly guiding a young birdman in a Link trainer; a WAVE talking with a plane over Glenview, directing the pilot to the field and to his landing runway, then suddenly warning him to crash land because his landing gear was broken and telling another WAVE to order a "crash landing" ground crew of doctors, ambulances, and fire trucks.

In a purely feminine "extra" the WAVES and SPARS paraded their trim Mainbocher uniforms on two Chicago models, Edythia Turnell and Kathleen O'Donnell, and on Audrey Norman of Northwestern university, selected by the men stationed at Navy pier as "the girl most worth fighting for."

Girl Yeoman Describes Life.

The "rushees" heard, too, how much a WAVE or SPAR is paid, how she is trained, what sort of job she does, and how vital a part of the regular navy she is. Yeoman 3d Class Evelyn Velut described her job.

Lt. Mary Daily, in charge of WAVES recruitin~ in this area, welcomed the guests.

TOUGH RANGERS TOUGHEN FOR WAR IN TOUGHEST WAY

Bullets Fly in Realistic Invasion Tactics.

AT A U. S. RANGER AND BRITISH COMMANDO TRAINING AREA IN SCOTLAND, March 4 [Thursday]—(AP).—American Rangers who have been nominated to help lead the allied invasion of Europe will be there in numbers—thousands of them—when the shooting starts.

The Ranger forces now being coached by their British counterpart, the Commandos, in the fine art of dispatching the most Germans in the shortest time, will be greatly expanded soon, Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle indicated after watching them.

"Sooner or later we will be doing something like this on our own," he told a press conference. He did not elaborate, but his words supported recent talk that the Americans are preparing their own combined operations command which would dwarf even the Commandos.

The Rangers are training over the toughest Commando course. From dawn until dusk seven days a week—and sometimes at night—these former clerks, truck drivers, farmers, and office workers are learning their job—how to be plenty tough without becoming "toughies."

Undergo Realistic Training.

Their weapons range from the latest type of firearms to stilletos and being under fire won't be new to them when they finally engage the enemy. They are accustomed to bullets, hand grenades, and land mines kicking up dirt into their faces or drenching them with water during amphibious operations and beach landings.

From the top of a hill overlooking a picturesque loch, Gen. Hartle, Maj. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, Brig. Gen. R. W. Barker, and Brig. Gen. Norman D. Cota, and a group of correspondents watched a simulated night assault on "enemy" shore batteries which Hartle and Barker pronounced the "most realistic type of training that can be provided when they are not immediately confronted with the enemy."

It was the zero hour. From a cluster of distant islands a detachment of Rangers pushed their boats out into the swift stream. Their objective was to surprise and neutralize the "enemy" shore batteries and withdraw.

Behind machine guns at strategic points along the hills bordering the river crouched the crack shots of the British Commando school faculty. Their job was to lay the fire as close as possible to the Rangers without hitting them.

Swarm Up Slope.

The first groups landed without detection and swarmed silently up the slope with bayonets fixed. Then the "enemy" awoke to the fact that he was being attacked.

Machine guns cracked. Streams of tracer bullets splashed all around the furiously paddling Rangers. Grenades exploded among the craft still bobbing on the choppy stream. It seemed a miracle that nobody was hit for sometimes the bullets struck only a foot or two from the boats.

Once when a disembarking Ranger stumbled just as the red streak of a tracer flashed by his head the watchers held their breath. The only woman correspondent present screamed and pleaded with the man behind a nearby gun to stop shooting.

"Don't worry, ma'm," calmly assured the British commandant of the training school. "He's the best shot in the British army. We been doing this a long time and nobody has been hit yet."

Intensity of the fire increased as the last of the boats disgorged its yelling attackers. Landmines—remotely controled—exploded in front of them as they advanced up the mile long, rugged, wooded slope, thus simulating enemy artillery fire.

Blasts Resound Thru Hills.

The roar of explosions and the whine of bullets resounded thru the highlands as the Rangers, laying down heavy fire themselves with Tommy guns, rifles, and grenades, darted forward under the cover of rocks, trees, and ditches.

While supporting units withheld fire, an advance patrol sneaked forward and "overpowered and wiped out" the battery personnel and planted explosives under the guns. Shortly after the patrol withdrew, a terrific blast blew up the big guns.

Still peppered by "enemy" fire, the Rangers withdrew under cover of a smoke screen, and fought delaying actions until they reached their landing boats. Then they paddled back across the river.

Part of each Ranger's day is devoted to sparring like boxers with long stilletto-like knives so sharp one Ranger said "some of us guys sometimes use them to shave with."

Then come "speed marches" of 7 to 15 miles three or four times a week. "Speed marching" consists of walking at the fastest pace—then running.

Other phases of the training include scaling 200 foot bluffs and descending with equipment and wounded, and charging in pairs over one mile assault obstacle courses, where cardboard enemy snipers pop out from behind trees and fallen logs. They must complete the course in 11 minutes.

The Rangers' day begins at 6:45 a. m. and ends at 9 p. m.

BATAAN'S JEER: 'GIVE US 1 PLANE OF THAT 65,000'

'Rock' Sky Undefended, M'Arthur Aide Says.

(This is the fifth instalment of "I Saw the Fall of the Philippines," most revealing book yet published on the defense of Bataan and Corregidor. The author is Col. Carlos P. Romulo, Filipino editor and aide-de-camp to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Yesterday he told of arriving at Corregidor—and finding it far from ready for defense.)

BY COL. CARLOS P. ROMULO.

[Copyright 1942.]

I only hope most Americans realize the masterful strategy MacArthur was displaying on that nubbin of rock in Manila bay! The Japanese forces had closed an iron fist over the island of Luzon, only to find MacArthur's forces entrenched on Corregidor and Bataan, almost within their fingers but still impossible to crush.

"They have the bottle," MacArthur chuckled, "but I have the cork."

Outnumbered by thousands, without planes, equipment, medicine or adequate food, his Filipino and American troops were staging a delaying action on Bataan that has set a precedent in military history.

Both President Manuel Quezon and Gen. MacArthur were anxious to get a radio installed in the [Corregidor] tunnel, so we might reëstablish communications with the civilan population of the occupied and unoccupied areas. "Get it going," the general urged me, "in 48 hours."

Dig Water Mains.

Every one was working on Corregidor. From sunrise to sunrise men toiled, trying to strengthen the defenses of the Rock and make the tunnel habitable.

New gun emplacements were being built and new water mains dug. Communication was being maintained by underground cable with Bataan, Fort Hughes, Fort Drum, and Fort Frank, the small islands near Corregidor, and on to Washington.

There wasn't room, enough bedding, or enough of anything in the tunnel, except smells, bedbugs, and flies.

We got busy right away installing the radio. Somehow we got it together in the time limit. I think it was Jan. 5 when we first broadcast over the Voice of Freedom.

When I stepped up to the mike that first day to speak the initial words, did I realize I was putting a price on my head and risking reprisal for those I love? I do not know. Somehow one does not think of such things in moments of necessity.

Back from Manila, in the form of boasts or threats, came answers to our broadcasts from the Japanese. Their planes showered us with leaflets and pamphlets.

Printed in Dialects.

To show you how thoroly the Japanese had prepared for this invasion, these were printed not only in English and Spanish, but in the dialects of the district for which they were intended.

The same farsighted preparedness was revealed by the phony currency with which they flooded the Philippines. The paper bills were exactly like ours except that the word Japan was substituted for Philippines. The dies must have been prepared months before Saburo Kurusu left for Washington. [Kurusu was special emissary to the United States at the outbreak of the war.]

I told the stories of our heroes over the Voice of Freedom for all who would dare listen.

We praised Capt. Alberto Navarrete, who had led his two little mosquito boats in an attack against Japanese dive bombers. MacArthur had introduced these motor torpedo boats to the Philippines. I recall the almost universal hoots of derision that had met his proposal, five years before, for an offshore patrol of such boats for our army. But Quezon had upheld the suggestion and saw to it that funds were appropriated for the little mosquito fleet.

Rout Jap Planes.

They had proved their value on Bataan. These two boats, under Navarrete, were patroling the Bataan shore lines when two waves of enemy bombers began attacking military objectives on shore. The little boats might easily have fled to cover. But they stayed right out on the open water and from that exposed position the crew manned the anti-aircraft guns and fired up at the planes.

The Japanese ships started dive bombing. The little boats refused to budge. They kept on firing back. Three of the planes were hit. They wheeled, trailing black smoke, and headed back for Formosa. The other planes fled after them.

Radio was both our curse and our comfort. We listened to programs from the United States, dedicated to us, and resented the food "plugs" because we were hungry. And the uproarious laughter with which the studio audience greeted every gag wasn't very funny to us.

Then there were the "news commentators" who dwelt gloatingly on American war production. "America will produce 65,000 planes this year! Fifty bombers have just landed in England!"

Save for our anti-aircraft guns we were undefended in the skies. We had four P-40s [Curtiss Hawks] in hiding on Bataan. Often our boys jeered back to the radio:

"Give us 10 planes out of that 65,000—today, not next year! Give us 5! Give us 1!"

Knew Manila Was Looted.

We did not like hearing the enemy's gloating descriptions of their occupation of Manila, but we tuned in. We crowded around the radios and listened and pictured everything that was going on in our city across the bay. We knew homes were being invaded and stores looted by Japanese soldiers unrestrained by their officers.

Not everyone on the Rock could get into the tunnel. But everyone who could crowd in was there by the time the drumming of enemy planes was heard over the Rock. Then came the explosions, one after another, while the laterals rocked and it seemed as if the entire stone body of Corregidor must be driven deep under the waters of Manila bay.

And during the hours that followed we remained in the tunnel, which continued to shake to its uttermost stone laterals while 60 Japanese bombers kept pouring their bombs over Corregidor.

The bombs, which at first were detonating singly, came faster together until the concussion was a steady vibration that maddened human nerves and seemed to loosen the stone foundations of the Rock.

What had we to fight back with on Corregidor? Nearly all the guns were obsolete, having been placed there before 1920. Our rifles were of an older make than those of the Japanese.

So much for our "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan against fortifications!

MacArthur was ridden by anxieties, but his talk remained cheerful. "Sooner or later American bombers will be flying over Tokio," he told us confidently, long before any one dreamed of the adventures of Jimmy Doolittle.

It never occurred to us to doubt that help was on the way.

One noon MacArthur gave us an analysis of the Japanese soldier.

"It is not true he is not a good soldier," MacArthur explained. "He may not be as good as the best troops were in the World war, but it would have taken the best troops in that war to beat him. The Japanese are first class soldiers and they are splendidly equipped. Their advantage is that, given a little rice, they can go for four or five days.

"And they have the best trench mortar I have ever seen."

CARDINAL'S CONDITION SATISFACTORY.

LONDON March 3 (AP).—The condition of Cardinal Arthur Hinsley, 77 years old, archbishop of Westminster and primate of the Roman Catholic church in Great Britain, "remained satisfactory thruout the day," a bulletin announced tonight. He suffered a heart attack last Saturday.

RUSSIANS PERIL ENTIRE GERMAN FRONT IN NORTH

Capture of Rzhev Spurs Soviet Offensive.

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—The strategic Nazi central front stronghold of Rzhev fell to the Russian army today after a violent struggle in which 2,000 Germans were slain and much enemy booty was captured, Moscow announced tonight in a special communique. The booty included 112 tanks, 78 guns, and 35 locomotives.

Capture of Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, threatened Adolf Hitler's entire northern defense line.

The German high command earlier had admitted the loss of Rzhev—a German reverse which, the soviet army newspaper said, Hitler himself had ranked as "equal to the loss of half of Berlin." The Berlin bulletin represented the setback at Rzhev as a withdrawal "in accordance with planned movements for shortening the front."

Reds Tell of Long Battle.

A German rear guard was said to have "detached itself from the enemy unnoticed during the night of March 2 after blowing up bridges over the Volga."

But the Russian communique recorded by the soviet monitor said the strongly fortified town fell "after a prolonged and violent engagement" begun several days ago.

Military observers saw serious implications for the Germans in the loss of Rzhev. To shorten his lines, Hitler must give up Vyazma, 80 miles south of Rzhev and 130 miles from Moscow, and fall back 100 miles to Smolensk on the road over which Napoleon made his disastrous retreat.

Nazis May Give Up Orel.

A Reuters news agency Stockholm dispatch said the Germans also were preparing to evacuate Orel, hinge of the central and southern fronts following the Red army's occupation of a point less than 20 miles south of that bastion.

It appeared obvious that the Germans had given up Rzhev, held since the 1941 autumn push that failed to take Moscow, to escape a trap. Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces striking to the northwest had punched a hole thru a Nazi fortress area below Lake Ilmen, and Red troops already had toppled Veliki Luki, 150 miles west of Rzhev.

The entire German front from Smolensk to Leningrad was imperiled and there were reports Timoshenko had massed 1,500,000 men on the northwest front for an offensive against the German held corridor along the Baltic.

Reds Seize Two Towns.

The Germans had captured Rzhev in their first invasion of Russia and converted it into a formidable fortress. The Nazis entrenched there had withstood two soviet offensives, but steady Red army flanking moves made its doom almost certain. In Russia's winter drive a year ago Rzhev was almost engulfed. Early this winter the Russians fought into its streets.

On the southern front the Russians' special communique said they had seized two towns, 45 and 55 miles northwest of Kursk and only about 45 miles from the Bryansk railway which runs to Kiev, Ukraine capital.

Russia's midnight communique reported violent fighting on all fronts and advances west of Kharkov. There, it said, three populated places fell and more than 400 Germans were killed.

Gain on Northwest Front.

Another 300 Nazis were slain southwest of Voroshilovgrad and war booty was captured, the war bulletin said, and enemy infantry concentrations were dispersed.

On the northwest front [south of Lake Ilmen], the Red offensive also was reported continuing, with several populated places taken and 200 Germans slain.

Earlier the Germans had claimed their counter-attacking forces had reached the middle Donetz river in the Izyum sector southwest of Kharkov. Moscow acknowledged heavy Nazi blows in the Donetz basin and west of Rostov along the Sea of Azov.

1,000 U. S. BOMBS HURLED ON KISKA DURING FEBRUARY

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Carrying out nine raids thru fog and storms in the Aleutians, United States aircraft during February dropped half a million pounds of bombs on Japanese positions at Kiska without the loss of any planes, the navy reported today.

It also reported that the 81st raid on the Japanese base at Munda on New Georgia Island in the South Pacific had been carried out by a patrol bomber. No details were given.

The communique said:

"During February United States aircraft, operating under adverse weather conditions, executed nine bombing attacks on Japanese positions at Kiska. During the raids, which have been previously announced, more than 1,000 bombs were dropped and 10 enemy planes shot down. No United States planes were lost during these operations."

RUSSIA OF OLD WINS BOW FROM 1943 RED ARMY

Epaulettes and Honors Spruce Up Uniforms.

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY.

New York, March 3 (AP).—The Red army is stepping out these days with epaulettes on its troops' shoulders.

The placing of epaulettes on the Red army uniform last month constituted a startling change. These were once the ornaments of the czarist soldiers; to the soviet people, the insignia of enemies of the state. Their restoration was taken to indicate a return to traditions of old Russia.

Another sign of this rooting of modern Russia in its past was seen in the creation of numerous decorations and orders, including those named after czarist marshals.

The epaulettes, stiff, oblong boards covering the shoulder, and bearing the colors of the various branches of the Red army, insignia of rank and number of regiment, were not the only touching-up given to the uniform.

New Code of Behavior.

As they were being distributed other regulations, providing a uniform code of behavior, went out to the troops:

Keep uniforms pressed, hair combed, faces shaven.

Carry no bundles, except a small parcel in the left arm.

Carry no babies in public, except at railroad stations.

Do not hang on to the steps of a crowded street car.

Do not appear in public markets.

Do not sit in a public conveyance if a superior is standing.

There were rumors in Moscow, just as I left recently, that another change was coming: That the word "tovarisch," or "comrade," used for a quarter century since the revolution, would be dropped from the Red army vocabulary, in addressing superiors, and that "gospodin," the pre-revolutionary word for "mister," would be substituted.

Formula of Address.

As it is, the Red army man follows a regular formula in speaking to his officers. He salutes briskly, announces his rank and name, and says: "I am listening to you, comrade commander." As the officer speaks, instead of "Yes, sir," he says again, "I listen to you."

If addressed in a group, the soviet soldiers acknowledge orders by saying in unison, "We serve the soviet union." Formalities are dropped in the heat of battle, or when the men are at ease.

ONLY TOUGHEST SURVIVE ORDEAL OF SKI TROOPS

Zero Weather Is Mild for Trainees in Rockies.

BY FRANK STURDY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Hale, Colo., March 3.—Mountain fighters are being trained here in one of the coldest and most rugged sections of the Rocky mountains at an elevation that puts a premium on the mere pitting of man against the elements.

The mountain training center, a collection of frame barracks constructed within the last 10 months, is on Pando flat in a valley about 4 miles long and ½ mile wide, cupped in a ring of jagged peaks.

On the flat, the elevation is 9,357 feet. The slopes of the surrounding mountains, rutted and pine wooded, rise to 12,000 feet.

Winters Are Lengthy.

Winter arrives early and stays late. Snow on the mountainsides never is less than 3 or 4 feet deep in the cold months, drifting in some places to tremendous depths.

A temperature of zero marks a chilly but otherwise unremarkable day. Usually the temperature is 10 to 20 degrees below zero, and once this winter it fell to 37.

This is where thousands of men are learning to live a new life in which carelessness means frostbite or possibly death. Exertions that take little energy in the lowlands cause the heart to pound and the lungs to gasp for air that is razor thin, short in oxygen.

New recruits require at least a couple of months to become sufficiently acclimated to perform normally and there are some who apparently cannot become adjusted to thin atmosphere. These men are chronically mountain sick and are reassigned to other branches.

The ones whose systems prove adaptable get the best of cold weather accoutrements and the ski and snowshoe training that are specialties of the mountain trooper. Each man's personal clothing and fighting equipment cost about $750.

The soldier's first eight weeks are spent in basic infantry school. Then he puts on for the first time the skiis on which he will travel and fight. The next 40 days are the recruit's best. Half of each day is spent on skiis, about the fatigue limit. When he finishes the course he is capable of cross country travel with a 50 pound pack on his back.

Marches Into Wilds.

His battle with the unrelentingly hazardous snows, winds, blizzards, and snowslides begins with bivouac marches into the wilds for periods of several days.

The experiences of this winter, officers freely concede, have proved that mountain troops require considerable practice in beating the elements. The majority of the troops here have been in training only a few months and the best of them are far from finished.

Making camp doesn't mean simply pitching a tent. It means packing the snow down by tramping it with snowshoes and skiis, laying a foundation of boughs for tents, melting snow to cook dehydrated foods over a tiny, one burner gasoline stove, changing wet clothing for dry despite the bitter breezes, and finally, crawling into a down sleeping bag for the night.

Tough for Artillery.

The artillery units have the toughest grind of all the mountain troopers. Their 75 mm. pack howitzers are packed on mules which frequently tire of plowing thru belly deep snow and stop dead, quite willing to wait on the spot for a spring thaw. Mountain artillerists who have survived this experience say life can hold no further bitterness.

Despite all the hardships of the mountain troops, a large part of the division is made up of volunteers. The most enthusiastic were ski experts or at least ski amateurs before joining. There are plenty of grumblers. Most of them, officers say, are men who had never skied and thought they were in for a life of winter sport. Between the two lies the majority.

The program is still an experimental testing ground for equipment and methods. One of the problems confronting the training officers is the impossibility of predicting where the troops will fight: In the peaks and glaciers of the Alps, the flatter lands of Norway, the snow wastes of Siberia, or the jungle mountains of the South Pacific.

Later, it is planned to develop troops with training adapted to special types of mountain terrain.

The organization of the division at present brings it to about 12,000 men—infantry, pack artillery, engineers, quartermaster, signal, and ordnance troops, a medical unit, and a reconnaissance troop.

LESSONS LEARNED IN TUNISIA TO BE USED IN U.S. CAMPS

McNair Tells Errors of Yanks in Battle.

Washington, D. C., March 3 [Special].—American troops inexperienced in battle made the same errors in Tunisia that they made in practice maneuvers in the United States, Lt. Gen. Leslie J. McNair, commanding general of the army ground forces, disclosed today. However, he asserted that the lessons learned already were being used in an effort to train "a more nearly mistake-proof army."

The Americans in Tunisia failed to dig fox holes promptly, fell down on use of camouflage, and apparently were taken in by enemy "booby traps," McNair said in a memorandum issued to all units of his command. The Americans killed or maimed thru these failings, however, left behind them a lesson which their successors will be taught to heed.

The solution, he said, is to drill the American soldier into "such a state of discipline that the men, in the excitement of battle, will instinctively do the things which they have been taught to do in the classroom, on the drill field, and on maneuvers."

Apply Corrective Measures.

"Under Gen. McNair's pre-battle training program," the army's announcement of his memorandum stated, "errors observed abroad will be demonstrated to help officers and men now being trained to eliminate mistakes which may prove costly in actual combat. The corrective measures already are being put into effect."

Prompt digging of fox holes and "proper use of cover and concealment" will be stressed in future training. Experience of "battle-wise soldiers" who have fought in Tunisia will teach troops now training to avoid the Yankee predelection for "souvenir hunting."

"'Booby traps' are being employed extensively by the enemy," Gen. McNair said. "Anything left lying about on the ground which has just been gained, which might be considered a good souvenir, should be studiously avoided."

The fatal "booby traps" usually are in the form of fountain pens, pencils, and other inviting articles.

Important to Disperse.

Another lesson to be taught is "the importance of dispersing," to reduce the effect of enemy bombing.

Observers also brought back from Tunisia some battle chapters on the proper use of motor transport and the employment of route reconnaissance. Truck columns sometimes operated in daylight when the movements should have been made at night. There also were some failures to make proper route reconnaissance or to size up the true condition of the road selected, and this "resulted in some unnecessary loss of motor equipment."

Gen. McNair highly praised the leadership shown by commanders and the personal bravery of officers.

YANKS DROP 15 TONS OF BOMBS ON BURMA BASE

NEW DELHI, India, March 3 (AP).—Fighter planes of the 10th United States air force inflicted widespread damage on Japanese military installations in northern Burma yesterday and Monday, a communique announced today. The Americans damaged a bridge at Yupannaga and fired buildings at Taihpaga, Maingkwan and Wehsi, the bulletin said.

Fifteen tons of bombs were dropped at Myitkyina—an enemy base—on March 2, causing "great damage to barracks and military installations," the communique stated. All the raiders returned safely.

Start Road Test

Another road test of a tire saving idea offered to THE TRIBUNE by Bernard Graetz, 6603 Greenview avenue, was started last night on one of the company's passenger cars. Charles B. James, purchasing agent for THE TRIBUNE, has offered to put to actual test all feasible ideas for substitute tires or tire saving devices, in line with the rubber conservation program.

Graetz offered a new type of tire overshoe, made from a casing too worn to be reclaimed. It is unique in that it requires no clamps or other devices to hold it to the original tire. It is made of a casing the same size as the original tire. Slots are cut in the old casing along the walls on both sides to give ventilation and prevent dirt from accumulating. The overshoe casing is forced over the regular tire casing and remains in place thru air pressure in the inner tube. The bead of the overshoe casing is free on all sides.

"If people were allowed to keep their old tires and use my idea, they could run on the bare fabric for thousands of miles and in this way save their good tires," Graetz said. Another tire-shoe idea being tested by THE TRIBUNE has gone thru 900 miles of driving successfully. A wooden tire failed in a test on a three ton Tribune truck after 25 miles of hard cobblestone pavement.

AIRPORT SHUNNED BY AURORA UP TO KANE COUNTY

A proposal that Kane county buy 800 acres of land to be used as the site of a 2 million dollar government financed airport was presented to the county board of supervisors yesterday by John J. Hogan, regional engineer of the civil aeronautics administration. Under the plan the army or navy would take over the airport during the war and then it would be given to the county for civilian aviation. Voters of Aurora recently rejected a $150,000 bond issue to buy the airport site. The county board has until March 20 to take action on the offer. A committee was named to confer with 14th district legislators tomorrow on the possibility of passing an emergency measure at this session of the state legislature to permit counties to organize airport districts which could issue bonds to acquire the necessary land.

AXIS DIPLOMATS SEIZED IN ALGIERS NOW HELD IN U. S.

Exchange for Yanks in Germany Sought.

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Former German and Italian consuls general at Algiers, their staffs and members of their families captured by United States forces in North Africa, have arrived in the United States, where they are under guard in the Ingleside hotel near Staunton, Va.

The state department, in making this announcement today, said negotiations are under way for the exchange of these axis officials for officers of the United States and other American republics seized by the Germans in France and now held in Germany.

U. S. Writers Among Them.

American newspaper correspondents and Red Cross personnel held with these officials in Baden Baden, Germany, it was added, figure also in the exchange negotiations.

(David Darrah, who was THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S correspondent in Paris and Vichy, is among the Americans held in Germany.)

The state department said the American officials, together with members of their families, who were seized in the former occupied zone of France by the Germans, are being maintained in Germany under conditions corresponding to those of the German and Italian official group now in the United States.

There was no mention in the announcement as to military members of the axis armistice commission captured in North Africa by the Americans.

Hotel in Scenic Area.

Negotiations for the repatriation of the American officials in Germany have been slowed by German insistence that the armistice commission's military men be included.

The Ingleside is a three story 55 room hotel situated three miles north of Staunton, on U. S. Route 11, sometimes known as Valley of Virginia turnpike. Standing on a landscaped knoll, it commands views of the Allegheny mountains to the west and the Virginia Blue Ridge to the east.

Facilities of the colonial-type hotel, which was built in 1928, include an 18 hole golf course, tennis courts, and a swimming pool. It has catered to tourist and vacation trade.

ALLIED RELIEF FUND DRIVE STARTS SOON ON RED CROSS PLAN

New York, March 3 (AP).—Winthrop W. Aldrich said tonight formal announcement would be made this week of the creation of a "national war fund" which will have "the same standing as the Red Cross in this country and which will direct relief work among the allied nations."

Aldrich said President Roosevelt had named him to head the fund, the resources of which, Aldrich intimated, would be applied to France, as well as other nations pitted against the axis, only after all doubts were removed as to the unity of all factions. Addressing a dinner honoring heads of the French military and naval missions to the United States, Aldrich said:

"The war relief fund was created for the purpose of utilizing the generosity of the American people to relieve our allies. We will concur in the work of the Red Cross and in lend-lease projects to see that no duplication of functions among the various agencies exists."

FUGITIVE HUNTED AS SLAYER.

REPORTS ILLINOIS HAS 67 MILLION IN U. S. SECURITIES

Springfield, Ill., March 3 [Special].—State Treasurer William G. Stratton said today that 45 million dollars invested in federal securities has been segregated and placed in a new general revenue investment fund. This gives the state of Illinois a total of $67,145,000 in federal securities—the highest in its history.

The fund was set up in accordance with the recent legislative act vesting authority in the state treasurer to invest unneeded funds in United States bonds.

In breaking down the $67,145,000 Stratton said $36,245,000 is invested in treasury bills; $28,900,000 in treasury certificates, and $2,000,000 in treasury ⅞ per cent notes due Sept. 15, 1944.

ALTMEYER ASKS BROADER SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM

New York, March 3 (AP).—Arthur Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board, today advocated a national system of unemployment insurance to replace state unemployment insurance and the extension of old age insurance to cover farmers, public employés, and domestics.

"Now is the time to expand the nation's social security program," Altmeyer told a New York City welfare council's conference on child care, "because the contributions by workers and employers will lessen the danger of inflation and will help the nation in any post-war recession."

The social security board head also proposed cash benefit payments for permanent and total disability, cash benefits for temporary disability, and hospitalization benefits.

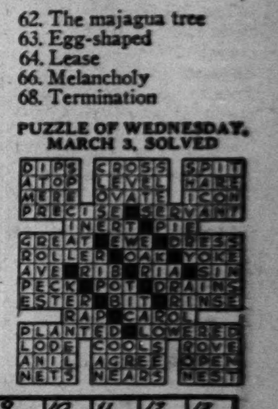
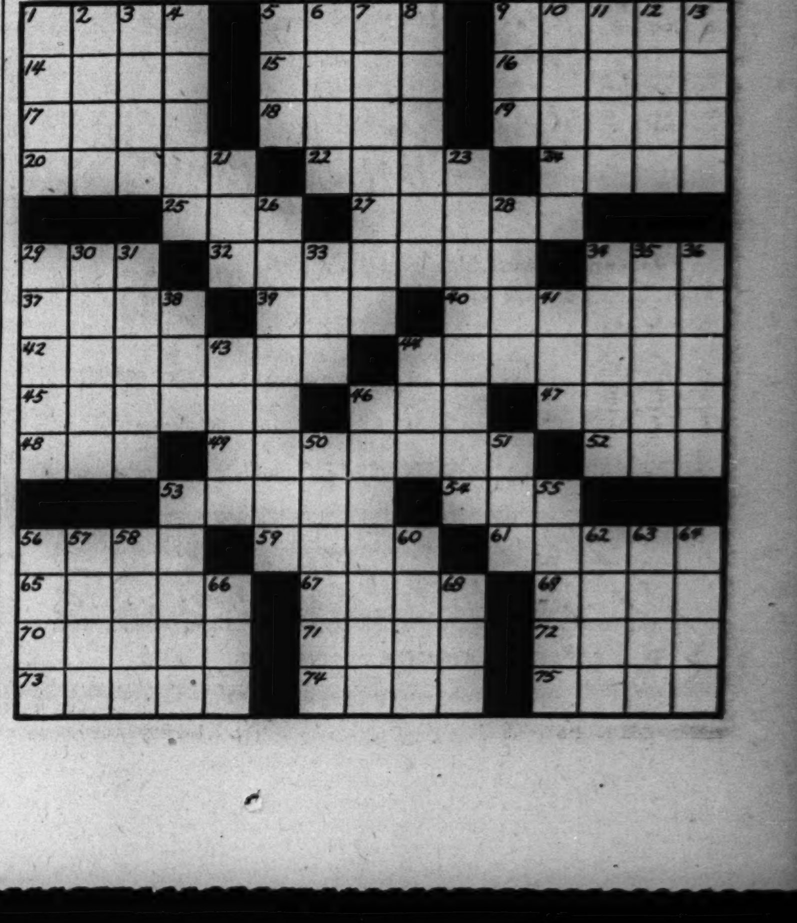
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, SOLVED





ALLIES PRESS FOE ON 2 SECTORS OF TUNISIAN FRONT

Defeat Attacks in North; Advance from Sbeitla.

West of Mareth Line

LONDON, March 4 [Thursday] —(AP).—A Reuters [British] news agency correspondent in North Africa, cabled today that forward scouting patrols of the British 8th army had been reported to have joined with American reconnaissance forces pushing down towards Gafsa in Tunisia. The Berlin radio as heard by the Daily Herald broadcast a report which could be interpreted as substantiation of the dispatch. It said that "in addition to three British infantry divisions and two tank brigades facing the axis army, there is a small fighting group in the desert west of Rommel's [Mareth line] defense zone."

ALLIED HDQ., North Africa, March 3 (AP).—American and British forces, retracing the trail of their defeat of 18 days ago, pushed farther toward Sidi Bou Zid from Sbeitla in central Tunisia and the British 1st army began putting pressure on the Germans farther north after a sharp defeat of enemy thrusts, allied headquarters announced today.

The French high command reported that in southwestern Tunisia French camel corps patrols "have reached" the town of Nefta. Previously the French had reached Temerza. Both places are southwest of the German anchor at Gafsa. They are north of the salt marshes which protect the rear of the Mareth line.

The leading elements of the allied army in the central sector advanced to the south and southeast of Sbeitla, the communique said. Sbeitla is about 35 miles from Faid pass, where Marshal Erwin Rommel sprang his offensive in a bid for the initiative a little more than two weeks ago, and about 125 miles southwest of Tunis.

This indicated that half of the territory won by the German smash that began on Feb. 14 had been abandoned without battle.

Allies Continue Pressure.

North of Beja and east of Sedjenane in the northern sector, British artillery had withered a similar offensive of Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim, and the communique said the allied forces were now exerting pressure on the enemy. Sedjenane is 12 miles inland from the Mediterranean and 40 miles west of Bizerte. Beja is 53 miles southwest of Bizerte.

At least 10 German tanks were knocked out by the gunners, the dispatch said, in this action near Kasar Mezous. Kazar Mezous is about nine miles northeast of Beja and about 18 miles northwest of the allied jump-off base of Mejez-el-Bab.

Two waves of Flying Fortresses smashed at the inner and outer harbors of Tunis and La Goulette, hitting docks, warehouses, factories, the drydock, and dockyard.

Chicagoan Downs a Foe.

The Fortresses and their Lightning and Spitfire escorts shot down three out of 10 or 15 German fighters at Tunis and only one allied plane was lost thruout yesterday, the communique said. Sergt. Lee Wong Gem of 1132 East 43d street, Chicago, a Fortress gunner, added a Focke-Wulf 190 to the Messerschmitt 109 he shot down on Jan. 2 near Tunis.

[A Reuters (British) news agency correspondent with the British Mediterranean fleet reported a steady flow of American troops, guns and planes was pouring into North African ports. Only a few days ago, the correspondent said, he watched the debarkation of a heavily loaded American convoy.]

TELL OF AXIS RAIDS.

The Italian high command reported a heavy exchange of aerial thrusts while there was "lively action and increased activity by patrol elements and artillery on the Tunisian front."

The Italian communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said axis air forces downed three allied planes, started fires in the Algerian port of Bone and made effective raids on the Libyan port of Tripoli.

"Numerous bombs were dropped by enemy planes on Bizerte and Tunis," the bulletin added.

SUBMARINE TOLL OF BRITISH SHIPS CALLED SMALLER

February Best Month, Commons Told.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 3.—A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, today gave the house of commons cheering news regarding the battle against the U-boat. Nevertheless, members of parliament still demanded that the government publish the list of sinkings, so that the public would know exactly what the allies are up against.

Alexander said that in February the attacks on U-boats were "the best yet experienced" and that from Dec. 1 to Feb. 28, tonnage losses were much less than in the corresponding period last winter. He reiterated the old warning that U-boat production was still greater than the sinkings by the allies.

The fleet is stronger today than a year ago, he added. Nine hundred warships of all types have been completed in British shipyards since the war began. New warships, faster and heavier than corvettes, have been developed which may be called frigates, he said.

Strong in Battleships.

Britain is as strong in battleships as at the beginning of the war, cruiser replacements almost equal losses, and the navy has more destroyers and submarines than when the war started, Alexander said.

Losses of the home fleet in escorting convoys to Russia cost Britain two cruisers, 10 destroyers, six smaller warships, with many merchant ships and many lives. Merchant ship building in 1942, he said, exceeded the goal, yards in Canada producing 40 per cent more than the United Kingdom's.

C. G. Ammon, Laborite, complained that Alexander dealt too much in generalities. Ammon suggested that the sinkings must be very high and said it was just possible that the Germans, despairing of military victory, are now devoting everything to cutting off supplies to Britain.

Rear Adm. Murray Sueter, Conservative, ridiculed the idea that bombing could knock out submarines in their cradles or that Germany had any difficulty finding crews for U-boats which, he asserted, are certainly built faster than sunk. He proposed a special committee on which American and British experts would sit to devise a campaign against the U-boat.

Sinkings a Little Higher.

Washington, D. C., March 3 [Special].—Enemy submarine sinkings of allied merchant ships will be a little higher in February than in January, Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, said today.

"We have had three fairly good months, and the situation has been quite good when we consider the rate of construction," Davis said.

Winter weather conditions may have made submarine operations more difficult, Davis said.

FITZROY, COMMONS SPEAKER, DIES AT 73 AFTER LONG ILLNESS

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—Capt. Edward A. FitzRoy, speaker of the house of commons since 1928, died today after a long illness. He was 73 years old.

Capt. Edward A. FitzRoy.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, almost recovered from pneumonia, presided over a special meeting of the cabinet to unravel a constitutional tangle caused by FitzRoy's death.

The British constitution rules that the house of commons cannot assemble, legally, without a speaker and also provides that there can be no deputy speaker if the holder of the speakership is dead. Not since 1789 had such a situation arisen.

The house, therefore, will meet soon as a "collection of private gentlemen," and, at the request of King George, choose another speaker.

A Conservative party member from Northampton, FitzRoy had been a member of parilament since 1900, with the exception of four years from 1906 to 1910.

1,299 POLITICAL PRISONERS FREED IN NORTH AFRICA

All De Gaullists Released, Eden Discloses.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 3.—Of the 6,900 political prisoners detained in North Africa at the time of the United States-British landings, 5,601 still were held Feb. 1, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today in the house of commons.

The political prisoners originally in North African concentration camps or jails consisted of 900 French, 3,000 Spaniards, and 3,000 other nationals, Eden said. Of these, up to last month, the total released were 1,299, of which 200 were French, 219 Spaniards, and 880 other nationals.

French authorities in Africa, Eden asserted, have stated that no Frenchmen now were held because of their sympathies for Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Fighting French leader.

Still Isn't Satisfied, However.

Eden said he still was not satisfied with the treatment accorded to Jews in North Africa, altho, he insisted, they no longer were suffering the disabilities imposed on Jews in metropolitan France.

Gen. Henri Giraud's war council, Eden said, already has confirmed the restoration of Jewish property in North Africa and has given access to primary and secondary schools to Jewish children. It also has been announced, he continued, that Jews performing compulsory military service in North Africa in labor battalions might transfer to fighting units if they wish. Jews of the 1920 to 1923 classes have been called up and have the right to join any fighting unit they desire, Eden said.

Leaflets Dropped on Germany.

In reply to a question by R. J. G. Boothby, a Conservative, Eden admitted he still was not satisfied with the facilities given to Jews to exercise their rights.

Earl Winterton, Conservative, suggested that Britain make "the strongest representations to whoever is responsible for the Jews' disabilities, whether it was the United States or the local government." But Eden said he couldn't go that far.

Eden assured the house that the allied declaration of Dec. 17 had been broadcast to Europe and dropped in leaflets on Germany so that, as David Robertson, Conservative, suggested: "Every persons guilty of taking any part in the torture and death of Jews and other citizens in occupied territories would know that he will be punished by hanging or long term penal servitude."

HULL PROPOSES ANGLO-U. S. TALKS ON REFUGEE AID

Says One Nation Can't Meet Need Alone.

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull has proposed an Anglo-American conference at Ottawa, Ont., to discuss international action for the relief of political refugees and victims of racial persecution.

Hull's proposal is contained in a Feb. 25 note to Britain, the text of which was made public tonight by Acting Secretary Sumner Welles. It emphasizes the view that the refugee problem cannot be solved satisfactorily by any one government and calls for intergovernmental action on a wide scale.

It summarizes steps taken by the United States to aid persecuted peoples and stated that since the advent of Adolf Hitler more than 547,000 American visas have been issued to natives or nationals of countries now axis dominated.

Offer to Take Axis Nationals.

It also discloses that the United States "has offered to receive dangerous axis nationals" from American republics where adequate internment facilities are lacking, and adds that a number of them have been sent here.

The note proposes no date for the Ottawa meeting. It suggests that the exploratory talks be guided by the following considerations:

1. The refugee problem should not be considered as being confined to persons of any particular race or faith.

2. Wherever practicable in view of shipping difficulties, arrangements should be made for "temporary asylum for refugees as near as possible to the areas in which those people find themselves" now.

3. Maintenance of refugees in neutral countries "may involve the giving of assurances for their support until they can be repatriated."

Asked About Jewish Aid.

The text was issued after Welles was asked at his press conference for comment on the recent appeal of Jewish and Christian organizations for immediate measures to aid 5 million Jews in enemy dominated countries.

Welles said the 11 point program advocated by the organizations would receive immediate state department attention.

Later Welles conferred with Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Jewish agency for Palestine, who was accompanied by Moshe Shertok, political officer of the Jewish agency.

Asks U. S. to Lead.

Shertok told reporters he had come from Palestine to confer with Weizmann and others on action "to save the Jews from Europe" and "to prepare the ground for solving the Jewish problem at the end of the war," when the agency "wants Palestine established as a Jewish commonwealth."

Meanwhile, Rep. Samuel Dickstein [D., N. Y.] urged in a house speech that this country lead a movement to "save and salvage" persecuted groups abroad.

He said approximately 70,000 Jews in concentration camps in Rumania could be released and sent to Palestine by agreement, if the United States led such a movement.

GANDHI IS FED LIKE A CHILD AS HE ENDS 21 DAY HUNGER STRIKE

POONA, India, March 3 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi sat up in bed and sipped a glass of orange juice at 9:30 a. m. today [11 p. m. Tuesday, Chicago time], ending the 21 day hunger strike which he undertook on Feb. 10 in protest against detention.

Looking tired but cheerful, he said in a weak voice, "I am very thankful to the doctors for serving me so well but I feel there must have been something higher than the doctors' power that saved me."

Tonight in the guarded palace of the Aga Khan, the 73 year old Indian leader sipped more orange juice—"fed like a child at first because of his weakened condition," the doctors said.

Gandhi's friends and relatives who had been allowed to visit him in his palace prison during the three weeks of fasting were leaving today and he was again with his nine fellow prisoners.

KNOX SEES 10% LOSS IN NAVY OF 2,250,000 MEN

Plans to Dominate All Seas of World.

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—A warning to expect a 10 per cent casualty rate in navy personnel was laid before congress and the nation today as Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox disclosed an operating force plan calling for a navy "big enough to dominate all seas over the world."

The navy estimate that it would lose, and have to replace, one man out of each 10—killed or wounded—came as Knox and ranking naval officials unfolded their program for building up personnel strength to 2,250,000 by July, 1944.

Knox's outline of the navy's "operating force" plan and his figures of potential costs of the sea warfare were made public by the house subcommittee on naval appropriations as it completed work on a new 4 billion supplemental naval spending bill.

3.8 Billions Appropriation.

As it emerged from the subcommittee the measure carried $3,816,206,583 in direct appropriations—a reduction of $187,793,417 from the budget estimates—and contract authorizations amounting to $239,740,400.

The subcommittee pared the navy's estimate of $147,240,000 for clothing an estimated personnel strength of 2,250,000 down to an even $100,000,000, advising congress that:

"While no ceiling has been imposed by law upon naval enlisted strength built up thru the reserve, an expansion of such magnitude . . . should be the subject of careful scrutiny and recommendations to the house by the naval affairs committee."

Pressed on Casualties.

Members of the subcommittee were shown by the record to have pressed Knox for an explanation of the casualty estimate. They drew from him testimony that on Feb. 8 the total casualties in navy officers and men had been only 19,022.

"Does that not indicate an overestimation?" asked Chairman Harry R. Sheppard [D., Cal.]. The navy secretary paraphrased the words of John Paul Jones, one of America's most famous sea fighters, in his reply.

"Well," said Knox, "it is hard to answer that question because we have just begun to fight.

"We are building not a two ocean navy but a navy big enough to dominate all seas over the world. The estimates are predicated upon the needs as the ships come in, and as they come in they greatly increase the size of the shore installations to handle such a fleet."

Plan to Rule All Seas.

Rear Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of the navy's bureau of personnel, explained that, to date, "less than 10 per cent of the total navy has been involved in any fight."

The new figures were brought to light when Sheppard, studying the estimate of the navy's financial needs, discovered an item to provide clothes for 2,250,000 persons, and demanded to know "what warrant there is" for that number.

From Jacobs later, the committee obtained a report that the navy had 3,205 ships in commission on Jan. 1, 1943, and that that number would be increased by the end of this year to approximately 4,100.

But from Vice Adm. F. J. Horne, vice chief of naval operations, came the statement that "we have not by any means completed the shipbuilding program to bring the navy up to what we call a two ocean navy."

COURTHOUSE HAS A HEATLESS DAY IT DIDN'T EXPECT

The Lake county courthouse in Waukegan was caught short by fuel oil rationing yesterday, and for nearly four hours judges, lawyers, clerks, and others worked in unheated quarters, with the outside temperature ranging from zero at 9 a. m. to 10 at noon. An emergency supply of several hundred gallons brought relief. County authorities explained that fuel was ordered Monday but that the dealer was short in his supplies and estimated that the oil on hand would last thru yesterday. The unexpected cold wave upset his estimate.

GRANT PAY HIKES FOR BOEING AND 8 OTHER PLANTS

WLB Members Reject General Increase.

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—The war labor board tonight rejected in a 7 to 5 split a general wage increase to bring west coast aircraft workers' pay up to shipbuilders' rates. Chairman William H. Davis declared raises from around 60 cents an hour to 95 cents an hour "would only lead to a new cycle of wage increases."

Instead, the board gave a general 4½ cents an hour increase to 30,000 workers in the Boeing Flying Fortress plants at Seattle Wash., and an average increase of 7½ cents to about half the 220,000 employés of eight southern California airplane companies.

The labor members and Wayne L. Morse, a public member, dissented. The labor members vainly urged a flat 10 cent an hour increase for all workers.

Hurls "Bungling" Charge.

They expressed resentment over the part they said James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, played in framing the decision. Morse called the decision "stabilization bungling."

The "Little Steel" formula—limiting wage increases to 15 per cent since Jan. 1, 1941, to cover cost of living rises between that date and last May—was the yardstick applied in granting the Boeing increases.

In brief, the majority decision granted this:

Bonuses of $64.75 and $78.75 in cash or war bonds to be paid to California and Boeing workers, respectively, who were on the pay roll last July 6, to recompense them for not receiving retroactive pay increases.

67 Cents at Boeing.

Beginners at the Boeing plants will receive 67 cents an hour instead of 62½ while beginners at the California plants will continue to get 60 cents, with the provision that experienced starters are to be paid 75 cents at once. Beginners at Boeing could advance to 82½ cents after 12 weeks and at California plants to 75 cents after a similar period.

The four labor members who joined Morse in the dissent were George Meany, Fred Hewitt, John Brophy, and Delmond Garst.

In addition to Boeing these California companies are affected:

Consolidated Aircraft corporation, Douglas Aircraft company, Lockheed Aircraft corporation, North American Aviation, Inc., Northrup Aircraft, Inc., Ryan Aeronautical company, Vega Aircraft corporation, and Vultee Aircraft, Inc.

DOCK WAR PLANT ABSENTEES' PAY, HOUSE IS URGED

Also Asks Loafers' Names Be Given Draft Board.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today urged that war plant loafers guilty of willful absenteeism be docked and that the whole problem of absenteeism be placed in the hands of local draft boards.

He was a witness at the house military affairs committee's hearing on a bill introduced by Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson [D., Tex.] to require employers in war plants producing for the navy to submit records of absenteeism to the local draft boards.

Committee members were told that draft boards, furnished with such records, could refuse to renew deferments for men of draft age who escape military service because their job is essential and then refuse to work.

Pay Docking Urged.

In reply to a question about a worker who might work four days a week and then without justification fail to report for two days, the navy secretary said.

"Dock him. If he has two days of unauthorized absenteeism, take it out of his pay for the four days he does work."

"How are you going to dock him?" asked Rep. Sterling Cole [R., N. Y.].

"We can penalize a man for breaking the regulations of a ship," Knox responded. "You ought to have some way of touching the pocketbook of the man who is immune from military service but willfully absents himself. If he works four days and loafs two, take part of his earnings away from him."

Members of the committee expressed doubt that unions would permit such a step, but the navy secretary asserted that some unions punish workers by fining them. Committee members reminded him that one union had find men $25 each for working on Christmas day.

Effectiveness Doubted.

Rep. Warren G. Magnuson [D., Wash.] questioned the effectiveness of docking. Rationing and reduction of spending power in England, he said, have made it possible for workers to earn all they can spend in four days a week, and have contributed to absenteeism.

Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] recommended that reports of absenteeism be sent to one central agency, rather than to draft boards. Eighty per cent of the workers, he said, would be outside the draft age group.

"If you try this in Washington," the secretary said, "the first thing they will do will be put about 10,000 people to work and get it all snarled up. The judgment of the local boards is about 100 times better than you'll get here in Washington. I'm very much opposed to setting up a new bureau here in Washington to handle this matter."

Great Lakes Record Lowest.

He submitted a record of private shipyard absenteeism for last year. The yards in the Great Lakes region had the lowest record of absenteeism—4.6 per cent. Rates of yards in other districts: Atlantic coast, 8.2; Pacific coast, 9; Gulf, 8.1, and inland districts, 6.6.

He told the committee that a survey of principal shipyards and plants producing for the navy showed that absenteeism reached a new high of 9.4 per cent in January. He estimated that 4 per cent was authorized and 5.4 unjustifiable.

MARRIAGE OPENS JAIL DOORS FOR DIVORCE DEBTOR

A remarriage performed by Judge Oscar F. Nelson opened jail doors yesterday for Albert F. Siems, 35 years old, a toolmaker, and wrote off $1,151 in support money he had failed to pay Mrs. Adda Margaret Siems, 29, of 2028 Kilbourn avenue, since their divorce on May 12, 1938. When Siems fell behind on $10 weekly payments for the support of their child, Albert Jr., now 5, Judge Nelson ordered him to jail for contempt on Feb. 5. Yesterday both Mrs. Siems and her divorced husband appeared before Judge Nelson. "I'd rather he were at home than behind the bars," she said. "We've decided to get married again." And the judge officiated.

LA GUARDIA MAY ENTER SERVICE, BILL INDICATES

Albany, N. Y., March 3 [Special].—The possibility that Mayor Fiorello La Guardia may go into military service, which will require his giving up the office of mayor, temporarily, was indicated strongly here today.

It was disclosed that a bill, setting up a procedure for succession, in the event of the mayor's departure, had quietly passed the legislature and was signed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey a few days ago. The measure would leave Mayor La Guardia virtually in control of city affairs.

Since the mayor personally sent up the bill it was believed he has a military post in prospect, since this type of job is mentioned in the bill. The mayor was a major in the last war, while a member of congress.

Help your Grocer

Let's Get Behind Him and Make Rationing a Success–Start Now to use more of the plentiful NON-RATIONED FOODS

THE man who runs your grocery store has his headaches these days. For months, in the face of shortages and lack of experienced help, he's been trying to carry on . . . trying to give you the kind of service you've always expected of him.

Now he has a brand new problem—point rationing. He has to collect the stamps from you as well as the cash.

It's a burden for him—sure—and for you. But he knows and you know that it's got to be done. It's the only fair way of making sure that everybody gets a fair share. That's our way of doing things.

So it's his job—and your job—everybody's job—to make point rationing work . . . as smoothly, as efficiently as possible. Traffic jams in food stores aren't going to help anybody.

★ ★ ★

Now there are a number of ways in which you can give this grocer of yours a real hand . . . in a good, neighborly American way. You can shop early in the day, early in the week. You can shop as infrequently as possible—once a week only, if you can manage. You can always make sure to have a shopping list, and to have your "point values" added up before you go to the store.

And you can help yourself as well as your grocer by using the plentiful, non-rationed foods as much as you can, instead of the scarce, rationed foods. Foods such as cereals, fresh fruits and vegetables, home-cooked soups, home-canned fruits and vegetables are not rationed and they deserve an important place in your wartime meals.

★ ★ ★

Because cereals are one of these abundant unrationed foods, we here at the Kellogg factory in Battle Creek have been doing everything we possibly can to meet the unprecedented demand for our products. We're sending millions upon millions of packages of crisp Kellogg Cereals to the boys in our armed forces. We're packing K-ration for troops in the front line of fighting. Even our machine shop is making gun parts! And we're short of help, too. There are 423 stars on the big service flag hanging in the lobby of the Kellogg building.

But in spite of these wartime difficulties, we've doubled our efforts to be sure that we can supply Kellogg Cereals to the millions of American families who are depending on cereals more than ever.

★ ★ ★

Always famous for marvelous flavor, every Kellogg Cereal is made of WHOLE GRAIN or is restored to WHOLE GRAIN NUTRITIVE VALUES through the addition of thiamin (vitamin B_1), niacin and iron. With milk alone, or with milk and fruit, a bowl of crisp, delicious Kellogg Cereal gives you vitamins, minerals, protein, food-energy in one dish!

And remember this about cereals in your daily meals. They're quick and easy to prepare. No cooking, no pans or skillets to clean up. Even the dishes are easier to wash. Cereals save time—work—fuel—other foods. Used in hamburger, meat-loaves, croquettes, etc., they help you stretch your meat . . . and they make milk go farther, too.

Think of cereals as one of your best, most nutritious, non-rationed foods and think of Kellogg Cereals as the finest you can buy.

GOLDEN RULES OF FOOD RATIONING

(Cut this out and save it for reference)

1—Share your food with our fighting men.
2—Shop earlier in the day, early in the week and only once a week, if possible, to lighten congestion in the store.
3—Make up a shopping list and add up the points BEFORE you shop. Include fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals, and other unrationed foods where you can.
4—Plan your family diet carefully. Get enough nourishment. Make up menus for the week.
5—Use 8 and 5 point stamps when you can, save 1 and 2 point stamps to make the count come out even. Your grocer cannot give you "change" in Blue Stamps.
6—Plant a Victory Garden.
7—Do all the home canning possible.
8—Don't blame your grocer for wartime inconveniences.

FROM O. P. A. CONSUMER INSTRUCTION SHEET

"EAT MORE CEREALS—There is an abundance of cereals and, as you know, they are mighty economical. They are nourishing and delicious—what's more, cereals can be used to stretch your rations when mixed with vegetables and fruits."

POWER OFFICIALS SEE NEW MARKET IN FOREST WASTE

Anticipate Post-War Uses for Electricity.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Portland, Ore., March 3.—The Bonneville power administration this afternoon indorsed utilization of forestry wastes, as pioneered by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at its Canadian paper mills. The administrator, R. Paul J. Raver, former Northwestern university professor, described these wastes as a heretofore ignored source of war materials and as a potential stabilizer for shaky post-war economics in the northwest.

The war material most readily available is alcohol for synthetic rubber, explosives, and as a chemical solvent. The waste most easily converted into this war material is the sulphite liquor which wood pulp mills pour into streams, lakes, and bays.

Tribune Builds Extractor.

At THE TRIBUNE's paper mills at Thorold, Canada, there is nearing completion of the first extractor of alcohol from sulphite liquor to be built in America's armament program. The newspaper's refinements of a process in operation in Sweden for a quarter of a century are being made available for the emergency to all the wood pulp industry of Canada and the United States.

In the tall forests of Oregon and Washington, containing a third of the lumber supply in the United States, wood pulp processors are dumping sulphite liquor, now a nuisance byproduct of their operations, at a rate of a billion and a quarter gallons a year. If all were utilized, it is estimated that 20 million gallons of alcohol a year could be produced.

The interest of the Bonneville power administration is in maintaining a market for its electricity generated at Bonneville and Grand Coule dams. Its interests in this respect are identical to those of privately owned utilities.

Selling Power to War Industries.

This 270 million dollar taxpayers' investment, under the department of the interior, is now selling 93 per cent of its electrical output to war industries. Samuel Moment, senior economist, formerly of Oak Park, Ill., said that of a million wage earners in Washington and Oregon, 250,000 are engaged in building planes and ships and another 250,000 are employed in servicing and supplying these armament industries.

"They are industries and electricity markets threatened by peace," said Moment. "The utilization of forestry wastes can create jobs for these markets for power when the war is ended.

"The Bonneville power administration wants to see the industry of the northwest expand and diversify, and one of the large opportunities lies in making use of what we have hitherto discarded," said Raver. "The production of alcohol from sulphite liquor wastes, and plastics and new structural materials from wood wastes would materially help the future power markets of the northwest."

Moment pointed out that alcohol production from sulphite liquor was being given primary attention because other sources of this vital war material are reported to be in jeopardy. The wisdom of distilling grains has been challenged by a looming world food shortage. The production of synthetic rubber from petroleum has been embarrassed by official government reports that America's oil reserves are being drained."

AUSTRALIA WILL SPEND MILLIONS TO FEED YANKEES

CANBERRA, Australia, March 3 (AP).—Supply Minister John A. Beasley announced today that Australia had accepted the responsibility of feeding United States forces in this country and thruout the south and southwest Pacific areas, and said he had authorized the purchase of $64,000,000 worth of provisions.

He said the troops in the Solomons, New Guinea, and other islands had food reserves to meet any war situation. Australia will spend $220,000,000 during the current financial year under a lend-lease arrangement to maintain United States forces, J. B. Chiefly, finance minister, told parliament.

He said that up to Jan. 1 a total of $110,180,000 had been spent in the Australian program of providing airdromes, camp and hospital accommodations, rations, repairs for aircraft, ships, and vehicles; general supplies, seaport services, and rail, air, and sea transportation.

OFT CONVICTED MEDICAL QUACK GETS JAIL TERM

A. Fred Kabana, a notorious medical quack, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail yesterday and fined $500 by Judge Don Scott of Saline county, sitting in County court, on charges of violating the medical practices act.

Roman Stachnik, assistant state's attorney, had asked the heaviest sentence possible, asserting that if merely fined Kabana would go back to his illegal practices both in the loop and in Cicero.

The prosecutor said that Kabana has been convicted five times in the last 19 years, but this was his first sentence to jail. Kabana, an unlicensed chiropractor, indicated he will appeal the sentence.

ADMIRAL THRILLS AIR CADETS WITH YORKTOWN STORY

Glenview Group Told of Crew's Bravery.

Two hundred naval aviation cadets sat spellbound at the Glenview air base yesterday while they heard a story of navy courage told by Rear Adm. Elliott Buckmaster, who was skipper of the aircraft carrier Yorktown in the Midway battle last June.

Tall, genial Adm. Buckmaster was not scheduled to speak. He is now chief of the navy's primary flight training program and is making an inspection tour of the 17 air bases under his command. Asked by newspaper photographers to pose with cadets on the field, he went to the "ready room," where the 200 cadets were in assembly.

Take Off with Little Gas.

The admiral told of the Yorktown's victories before she was disabled, and how the ship was sunk three days after the crew of 2,100 had been taken off without the loss of a man.

After the Yorktown received the hits that proved fatal airplanes on the deck were ordered up to pursue the attackers, Adm. Buckmaster said. Some of them took off with as little as 23 gallons of gasoline, but they got the Japs and landed on the aircraft carrier, Hornet, he said.

"A new Yorktown has been launched," the admiral continued. "It will be a better ship than the old because of the experience we have gained in battle. But its crew can never surpass the courage of the men who manned the old Yorktown. At no time did they show any sign of fear."

Admiral Urges Accuracy.

Adm. Buckmaster advised the cadets to learn to do everything accurately.

"Whatever you do, get hits," he said. "Near misses are worthless. Learn to make accurate reports. Inaccurate ones, made by observation pilots, may be disastrous."

Earlier Adm. Buckmaster said he was pleased with what he had seen at Glenview. The 957 students in the primary training course there are at a disadvantage because of the cold Chicago weather, but as a result they will be better flyers, he said. The admiral's headquarters are at Fairfax airport, Kansas City, Kas.

SURVIVORS HOPE TO BE ON BOARD THE NEW CHICAGO

2 Chicagoans and Others Tell of Sinking.

John H. Erby Jr., 22 years old, and Eugene Doyle, 21, the first Chicago members of the crew of the cruiser Chicago to return home after the ship was sunk in the Solomon Islands Jan. 30, hope to have a chance to serve on her namesake, to be built with funds now being raised by the sale of war bonds in Chicago.

John H. Erby Jr.

Erby is a radio technician and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Erby Sr., of 1414 Berwyn avenue. Doyle is the son of Edward Doyle of 45 North Latrobe avenue. They were members of a party of Chicago survivors who arrived to participate in the drive to sell 40 million dollars in war bonds to build a new Chicago.

Torpedo Struck 30 Feet Away.

"I was in the starboard passageway when the first torpedo struck not 30 feet away from me," Erby related last night. "That was on Jan. 29. Not long after the torpedo hit, the communications failed and we had to leave the passageway. We joined a gang trying to put out fires and we fought desperately to save the ship."

Erby explained he had not seen a Japanese plane dive into the ship, as some other survivors have reported, but said one Jap plane in flames passed over the deck and crashed into the sea beyond.

"Several men were burned badly by burning gasoline sprayed over them by the Jap as he passed over," Erby said.

The Jap planes returned the next day, Erby said. "When the order came to abandon ship, we tossed preservers and rafts overboard and stepped over the side. From the water I saw the Chicago go down. It was like watching some one I have known and loved go down under the waves. All the men floating in the water cheered.

Picked Up by Barge "Taxis."

"In about an hour little invasion barges came out and began picking us up. As they went by, the men in the water held up their thumbs and shouted: 'Taxi! Taxi!'"

Harold Beckman, 41 year old cook aboard the ill fated ship, described the Chicago's last action, which he saw from the well deck on the ship's topside.

"We were running in for an attack off Guadalcanal when the Japs came at us," he related. "Enemy Zero planes came on, machine gunning the decks in an endeavor to get our men from their stations. Then the torpedo planes dived at us. It was really a suicide attack. The way they came on gave them no means to turn back and some of them fell in flames on the Chicago's port side."

Beckman said that the burning enemy planes made a perfect target for other Japanese planes that followed to deliver the final blow. The enemy turned away, he said, when he had crippled the Chicago.

Enemy planes pounded the Chicago with bullets and torpedoes the next afternoon until she sank, he said.

The cook revealed that he and other crew members supported injured men as they huddled for 45 minutes around a life raft.

Norman Coates of Louisville, Ky., 26 year old gunner's mate 2d class, and Richard Decess of Mount Pleasant, Mich., gunner's mate 3d class, both aboard the Chicago during the Solomons battle, visited Mayor Kelly yesterday to commend the drive to build another cruiser Chicago.

Fund Ahead of Daily Goal.

Bonds sold yesterday totaled $1,090,912.50 to bring the 15 day cruiser campaign total to $15,055,006.25, or $55,006.25 over the 1 million dollar per day goal. The 40 day drive will end on March 28.

The city will observe "Avenge the Chicago day" today on Chicago's 106th anniversary of its incorporation as a city. Mayor Kelly and others will participate in the treasury department's celebration at noon in Treasury center.

CANADA'S FIGHTING FORCES WILL COST 3 BILLIONS IN 1943

OTTAWA, Ont., March 4 [Canadian Press].—Finance Minister James Ilsley told the house of commons today the fighting forces during 1943-'44 would require 3 billion 320 million dollars compared with 1 billion 913 million dollars in 1942-'43.

Steepest increase was in the air force with an anticipated outlay of 1 billion 129 million dollars compared with 627 million dollars in the current fiscal year which ends March 31.

This increase, said Ilsley, reflected expansion of air force strength on the two coasts as well as the government's decision to maintain 38 fully equipped squadrons overseas and pay all R. C. A. F. personnel in the R. A. F.

The army's requirements were placed at 1 billion 764 million dollars compared with 1 billion 78 million dollars in the present year.

The navy's share would be 489 million dollars compared with 208 million dollars in the present year.

NEW DESTROYER TO BE NAMED FOR TWO INGERSOLLS

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—A new destroyer under construction will be named the U. S. S. Ingersoll in honor of the late Rear Adm. Royal R. Ingersoll and his grandson, Lt. Royal R. Ingersoll, who was killed in action, the navy announced today.

The present Adm. Royal E. Ingersoll, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, is the son of the late rear admiral and father of Lt. Ingersoll.

Rear Adm. Ingersoll was born in Niles, Mich., in 1847 and died at La Porte, Ind., in 1931.

F. D. R. Begins 11th Year with Religious Services

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—President Roosevelt will observe the 10th anniversary of his first inauguration as President as he has done each March 4 since 1933, at divine services to be held tomorrow morning. Approximately 200 persons, including members of the family, the cabinet, the Supreme court and leaders in congress and the executive agencies, have been invited to worship with the chief executive. Since Mr. Roosevelt is just recovering from an illness, the services this year will be held in the east room of the White House.

PROBERS ASSAIL FUEL RATIONING AS UNNECESSARY

Majority Members Call for Stronger Report.

tion of fuel oil rationing seemed to be: First 'The American people can't be trusted,' and second, 'they must be made to do what is considered good for them.'

"Altho Mr. Dean denies that oil rationing is the conditioning preliminary to a permanent 'do-what-we-say-is-good-for-you' society, one really wonders."

Sen. R. G. Crisenberry [R., Murphysboro] expressed dissatisfaction with the report after it was learned that the Democrats, except Hubbard, would not sign it.

"I most certainly don't believe that paternalism and liberty can exist in the same country at the same time, and the trend of the OPA is paternalistic," he said.

The committee, which reported after 22 days, interviewed 32 witnesses, representing the oil industry, distributors, consumers, and government bureau officials. It was contended in evidence compiled from interviews and from letters:

That there are 949,090 fuel oil consuming units in Illinois.

That oil allotments in the Chicago area have been reduced 26 per cent.

That the winter was 23 per cent colder than the winter 1941-'42.

That no fuel oil shortage exists in Illinois at this time or has in the past.

That fuel oil stocks last month were larger than in midwinter, 1942.

That there were no transportational difficulties "against which any fuel oil shortage, real or theoretical, can be charged."

Charge Illness Caused.

That insufficient fuel oil grants thru the rationing system have caused illness and absenteeism from war work.

That present oil quotas will be exhausted this month with two more heating months still ahead.

That the coupon system has resulted in needless work and great cost of labor and money.

That fuel oil rationing could be abolished in the middle west with proper adjustment of oil regulations and prices.

That better insulated houses receive more oil than do older structures in a plan to "rid the nation of fuel oil "wasters."

That the petroleum administration for war disclaimed any responsibility for rationing, altho much of its work is connected with the rationing plan.

That production of additional oil has not been encouraged.

In a series of 14 recommendations the report asserted that "fuel oil rationing ought to be only a war dedicated necessity," that it should be simplified, and that the coupon system should be abandoned.

Ask End to Conversions.

Abandonment of the theory of giving more fuel oil to better insulated houses was asked, and the committee urged discontinuing of forced conversions of heating plants during winter. It also asked coördination of bureaus involved in the problem, encouragement of oil well drilling, and authorization of larger deliveries.

Those who signed the report were Republican Senators Searcy, Butler, and Crisenberry; Democratic Sen. Hubbard; Republican Representatives Lottie Holman O'Neill [Downers Grove], Lyle M. Prescott [Dixon], and William G. Thon [Chicago].

Those who declined to sign were Sen. Stanley J. Mondala [D., Chicago], and Representatives George Garry Noonan [D., Chicago], and J. L. Wellinghoff [D., Belleville].

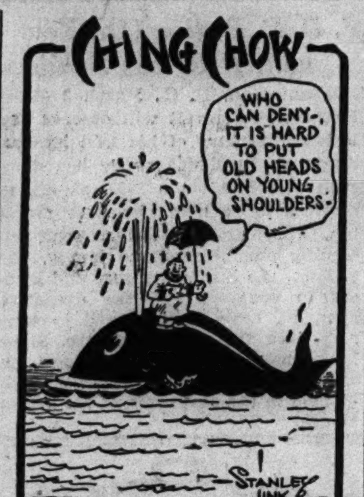
Carlson's mother is Mrs. Marian Carlson of Houston, Tex. The award was said to be for conduct at the Cocoanut Grove night club fire in Boston.

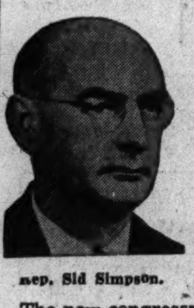


BRITISH GET U. S. FARM MACHINES, SELL THEIR OWN

House Shown Ad for Export Trade.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Export of American farm machinery to British farmers while such farm machinery is being denied the farmers at home, and the British manufacturers' offers to supply farm machinery to the world "just doesn't make sense," Rep. Sid Simpson [R., Ill.] told the house today.



Rep. Sid Simpson.

The new congressman from Carrollton, who has been hearing complaints of food shortages and lack of farm machinery since he came to Washington, read the house a British firm's advertisment to prove his point.

"Finest Machinery" for Sale.

He appeared before the house waving the last Dec. 12 overseas edition of the London Daily Mail. From it he read this advertisment of Ransomes, Sims & Jefferies, Ltd., of Ipswich, England:

"Finest agricultural machinery. For all countries, crops, and conditions."

The advertisment extended Christmas greetings and announced that Ransomes, Sims & Jefferies:

"Have pleasure in stating that they and their agents are still able to serve their clients with essential requirements in implements and spares."

Unbelievable—"Yet Here It Is."

Rep. Simpson commented:

"Coming from an agricultural district as I do, this is difficult to believe. And yet here it is.

"No one contends that our ally, England, produces as much food as America, which naturally makes this advertisment the more confusing. Today we are asking and expecting the American farmer to produce more with less. It simply does not make sense.

"Are we being led back into the wilderness instead of out of it?"

Simpson said the farmers are producing all they can under severe handicaps.

Feel Allotment Too Small.

"They realize that we are at war," he told the house, "and they appreciate the allotted increase in farm machinery recently made available, even tho it is only 40 per cent of the amount manufactured in 1940. Why let routine take the place of common sense?

"The American farmer cannot help feeling that the allotment is too little for the asked for farm program. Why not increase it again before it is too late? The farmer prefers necessary machinery to subsidies.

"It seems impossible to me that we cannot do for our farmers as much as Ransomes, Sims, and Jefferies are advertising to do for the agriculturalists of all countries."

HONOR SYSTEM TO RUN PLEASURE DRIVING IN EAST

OPA Head Calls End to Police Control.

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—OPA Administrator Prentiss Brown today ordered an end to police enforcement of the east's ban on pleasure driving, said future compliance will depend upon an "honor system," and added there is a fair probability the ban can be entirely eliminated by March 22, when new gasoline coupons go into effect.

Prentiss Brown.

Brown said he didn't mean nobody will be questioned about whether his driving is for pleasure or duty, but "it's one of those irritating things we want to avoid."

"The time has now come to stop all unnecessary inconvenience of the public," Brown told a press conference. "I believe in light of the widespread understanding of the situation which exists we can henceforth rely on what might be termed the 'honor' system of compliance instead of police enforcement. I am instructing all OPA regional, state, and branch offices to put this policy into effect immediately.

Expects Voluntary Help.

"This action is in line with my general ideas on enforcement of all OPA regulations. Positive enforcement measures must be used with criminals but they are not necessary with the general public. Instead I expect to secure voluntary compliance by the public thru understanding of the need for regulation."

As for lifting the east's ban on nonessential driving, Brown said the decision rests largely upon whether Petroleum Administrator Harold Ickes finds that the gasoline supply will permit it.

In other developments today:

1. The east's fuel oil consumers received increased allotments for their fifth heating period, as a reflection of weather described by OPA as abnormally cold.

New Pipe Line to Start.

2. Petroleum Administrator Ickes announced plans to begin immediate construction of a new 20 inch gasoline pipe line from the Gulf to the east coast, and to construct the western line first in the face of opposition from several middle western senators.

3. The petroleum industry war council requested a country-wide increase of at least one cent a gallon in retail gasoline prices. It said this would "cover the increased costs of distribution caused by rationing and the impact of war." The council asked Ickes to recommend the increase to OPA.

NELSON NAMES THREE NEW WPB VICE CHAIRMEN

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—In another war production board reorganization, Chairman Donald M. Nelson today named three new vice chairmen, all of whom will report to Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman.

The three are J. A. Krug, in charge of materials distribution and chairman of the requirements committee; Donald D. Davis, in charge of operations, and Ralph J. Cordiner, special assistant to Wilson.

In addition, Curtis E. Calder, formerly director general for operations, was named executive assistant to Wilson.

AUTOPSY ORDERED IN GIRL'S DEATH.
Shirley Timms, 14 years old, 113 South Hamilton avenue, an eighth grade pupil in Grant school, died yesterday of undetermined causes in County hospital. An autopsy will be performed today.

Georgia Legislature O. K.s Votes Plan for Youths, 18

Atlanta, Ga., March 3 (AP). — The Georgia house of representatitves, after two days of debate, today passed a constitutional amendment proposal to lower the voting age in the state from 21 to 18 years. Gov. Ellis Arnall, who strongly backed the proposal, signed the amendment immediately. It must be submitted in a 1944 referendum for ratification by the people.

COUNTY SCHOOLS TO TRAIN 1,200 BOYS FOR FARMS

Under a farm labor plan adopted yesterday by Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools, 1,200 boys in suburban high schools will be trained in supervised classes during the next few months to assist in general agricultural work this summer on farms located thruout northern Illinois. The recruiting program is to start immediately.

Each school outside the city limits is to be assigned a quota of boys above 15 years of age for enlistment in the farm labor brigade. As soon as a sufficient number has enrolled the school will open a class designed to give preliminary training in general farm work.

Practical Course Planned.

Under the plan each volunteer will attend 10 class sessions of one hour and two half day training periods on a farm in the vicinity of the high school. At the farm sessions the students will be given instruction in the mysteries of milking, harnessing a horse, and other chores. The courses are to be taught by an experienced faculty member who has actually done farm work. A textbook prepared by the University of Illinois, "Living and Working on a Farm," will be used for the class sessions.

At the conclusion of the course, the volunteer farmers will be assigned to jobs by C. E. Hughes of Arlington Heights, Cook county farm agent. A farmer desiring assistance will apply to Hughes, who will select an eligible student from one of the high schools. Each boy will be kept as near his home as possible and in no case will any volunteer be sent outside the state.

City Schools to Do Part.

The Cook county program is part of a nation-wide plan supervised by the department of agriculture and headed by John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education for the war man power commission. The city schools will operate under a similar plan of farm labor recruiting, the details of which will be announced later.

"We have received enthusiastic support from every high school in Cook county," Puffer said. "The number of eligible students who have already made inquiries indicates there will be no difficulty in filling our quota."

Bloom Township High school, Chicago Heights, already has enrolled 60 boys for the farm course, he said, and plans to start classes by March 9; the Northbrook High school in Northbrook has a class of 20 boys organized and its sessions will open March 19.

Brakeman Accepts $39,000 for Foot and Five Toes

A $39,000 settlement was accepted by George James, 55 years old, 6851 Ridgeland avenue, from the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad yesterday shortly before trial of his $50,000 personal injury suit in the federal District court. James, a brakeman and father of six children, lost his left foot and toes of his right foot when he fell beneath a locomotive near 47th street. Judge Philip L. Sullivan dismissed the suit.

BUY WAR BONDS

To Every American

A Statement by BENDIX AVIATION CORPORATION

YOU, AS AN AMERICAN TAXPAYER, have a stake in the cost of this war.

As a taxpayer, you are a customer of the thousands of American factories—large and small—which are producing war materials to equip our fighting men.

As a customer, you are interested in three things: Quality, Deliveries and Prices.

On these three points Bendix Aviation Corporation submits the following report:

QUALITY

The quality of Bendix engineering and manufacturing is indicated by the extent to which the armed services turn to Bendix for more and more precision equipment.

To equip fully a modern bomber more than 150 different devices manufactured by Bendix are needed.

Hundreds of other Bendix devices, instruments and controls are needed for tanks, jeeps, armored cars, transport vehicles, ships and other military and naval equipment.

That such Bendix equipment—"Stromberg" aircraft carburetors, "Pioneer" instruments and navigation systems, "Scintilla" magnetos, "Bendix" radio transmitters, receivers and compasses, "Friez" weather instruments, and "Eclipse" aviation starters and generators—is worthy of the leadership and courage of the men of the United Nations is being daily proved on every battle front.

More than one-third of Bendix production in 1942 was in new devices not even on the market in 1938 — devices developed in our own research laboratories in cooperation with the U. S. Army and Navy.

DELIVERIES

During the year 1942 our 2,500 engineers and our tens of thousands of men and women production workers increased Bendix war production to 20 times that of pre-war levels. Six major divisions of the Bendix Aviation Corporation have received the Army-Navy "E" Award for outstanding records in war production.

PRICES

We reduced prices beginning as early as February last year, and as a result, at September 30, 1942, price reductions aggregated $123,000,000 on products covered by contracts in effect at the beginning of our fiscal year and entered into during the year.

The greatly increased volume enabled us to improve efficiency of operations and to reduce profit margins; and, on the basis of the full year's operations, made it possible to return to the Government $65,400,000 in renegotiating the year's war contracts. And, in addition, Bendix will pay taxes amounting to $47,019,270.03.

★ ★ ★

Because we believe that you, as an American making your own personal contribution to the winning of this war, also have an interest in the contributions being made by such American companies as Bendix Aviation Corporation, we present the following simplified summary of how the income we received in our 1942 fiscal year was distributed:

		PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL YEAR'S INCOME
We received from the sale of our products and other operating income	$459,169,026.55
We received from investments and from other sources	558,654.94
Which gave us a total income for the year, of	$459,727,681.49	100%
Of this amount we paid out, or are obligated to pay out:
For materials and supplies, including purchases from sub-contractors	$185,199,243.00	40.3%
For payrolls to our employees	127,459,765.00	27.7%
For taxes and refunds to U. S. Government	111,067,067.12	24.2%
For maintenance of plants, machinery and equipment, rentals, telephone, power, administrative costs, income set aside to replace worn-out facilities, and to provide operating and contingency reserves	23,537,410.19	5.1%
For dividends to our stockholders	8,450,801.64	1.8%
This left a balance, which has been reinvested in the business, of	4,013,394.54	9/10 of 1%

★ ★ ★

We know that even greater responsibilities rest upon our organization in 1943.

Those who are in a position to chart military strategy have made it clear that what America's factories produce in 1943, may well determine the hour of victory over our enemies.

Every Bendix worker, every engineer, and every member of the supervisory organization has accepted this challenge.

Each will carry a heavier load through the months to come, but it is being carried with enthusiasm and a deep dedication to the cause for which all Americans are fighting.

BROWN EVASIVE, BUT ADMITS MEAT RATIONING NEAR

'Less than 2½ Pounds a Week' to Be Provided.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown today discursed reports of impending rationing at a press conference but refrained from giving much definite information. He said:

1. Meat rationing is near and would provide "less than 2½ pounds a week per person." But he would not confirm reliable reports that it was scheduled for April 1 with an average ration of about 1¾ pounds.

2. He could neither confirm nor deny that butter, margerine, cooking fats and oils would be rationed along with meats on April 1, as widely reported. He said OPA would have to await instruction from Food Administrator Claude Wickard.

Indefinite on Cheese.

2. He would neither confirm nor conclusions" as to whether cheese would be rationed along with meats.

Earlier, informed officials said meat, cheese, butter and cooking fats and oils would go under rationing April 1 on a point basis, using the red coupons of war ration book 2.

Discussing operations of the so-called meat black market, Brown expressed the opinion it will be reduced thru a five point program being instituted by the OPA and the department of agriculture.

Brown estimated that illegal sales of meat are only 2 per cent of total sales. This is much lower than estimates by members of the meat trade who have placed the figure at 8 to 12 per cent.

The program includes licensing of all slaughterers by the agriculture department, simplified OPA price ceilings on meat sold at retail, prosecution of illegal operators, meat rationing, and an advertising campaign warning consumers against the health danger of eating uninspected meats.

Require Federal License.

The licensing plan, previously disclosed at a congressional committee hearing, will require every company or person slaughtering meat for sale to obtain a federal license. Slaughterers will be assigned quotas, officials said today, and the agriculture department will have power to revoke licenses for slaughtering in excess of quotas or for making sales in excess of OPA price ceilings. It is expected to go into effect in a few weeks.

If these measures fail to eliminate what he called the black market, Brown said he will urge the placing of ceiling prices on live animals sold to slaughters. Meat prices are now controled at all levels except for live stock sales. Brown denied that he wants to place ceilings on live animals now but cannot act because Wickard is opposed to this move.

Brown said Clyde Herring, former Democratic senator from Iowa, whom Brown has made an $8,000 a year OPA "senior assistant to the administrator," will have the job of surveying OPA's internal organization with a view to making it function more efficiently. Herring was defeated in his race for reëlection as senator last November.

WICKARD WHEAT PLAN IS UPSET BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—The house agricultural committee today took action upsetting Food Administrator Claude Wickard's plans to sell 100 million bushels of government owned wheat for live stock feed at prices competitive with the present ceiling level on corn.

By amendment of an administration measure authorizing the sale of the wheat, the committee directed that none be sold for less than the parity price of corn. The present ceiling of about $1 a bushel on corn, Chicago basis, is approximately 89 per cent of parity.

The committee amendment consequently would set the wheat price well above corn. The Commodity Credit corporation had asked authority to sell the wheat at 85 per cent of the corn parity price, contending the sales would stimulate meat and dairy production.

REPORT OPA ASKS MEAT INDUSTRY TO MAP PROGRAM

Expect New System to Be Adopted.

BY ROBERT YOUNG.

The office of price administration has asked the meat industry for a complete program of slaughtering and distribution to replace the present program which has been charged with causing widespread illegal markets and inequitable supplies for civilians, it was reported in Chicago yesterday.

Packers and other meat groups have been holding a series of closed conferences among themselves and with OPA representatives and the new program is believed to be nearly completed. The program would cover all phases of the industry from production to retailing, according to the reports.

Spokesmen said OPA acceptance of an industry program, which is expected, would be tantamount to admission that the current program has not been effective. It would amount to belated recognition of the necessity for practical experience in the formulation of policies and orders affecting meat, they said.

Put Blame on Theorists.

Industry representatives have asserted that the breakdown in the government meat program is largely a result of the fact that the "classroom theorists" of OPA turned down industry offers to help draft a program at the beginning.

The OPA appeal to the industry was believed to have been either precipitated by or directly involved with the packers' notice to the government that increased lend-lease and military demands could not be filled until important problems of live stock supply and price ceilings were ironed out.

It was reported that food industries, including meat, cheese, butter, and other fats and oils, are planning to meet with OPA officials in Chicago next week to exchange rationing policy and practice information.

Two Slaughterers Accused.

The OPA yesterday filed complaints against two more meat slaughterers accused of price, slaughtering, and grading violations.

Belter, Rosewall & Jensen, Inc., 154 North Des Plaines avenue, Forest Park, was charged with the sale of beef in excess of maximum prices and without grade identification. John Lipnisky, Route 1, Woodstock, Ill., slaughtered live stock in excess of his quota and sold ungraded meats, the OPA charged. Temporary restraining orders were asked against both.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan issued a temporary order restraining Alex De Young, 12326 South Halsted street, Calumet Park, and Fred Ackman, Hampshire, Ill., two other meat dealers, from further violations of OPA regulations. They were charged with failure to keep records of transactions and slaughtering live stock in excess of quotas.

STORAGE LOCKER OPERATORS BALK AT SNOOP ORDER

Assert It's Illegal and Too Much Work.

Proprietors of meat lockers yesterday termed "unconstitutional" a regulation, said to be included in the prospective meat rationing program, requiring them to report amounts of meat held for customers. The ruling was interpreted as ordering the proprietors to make a personal inventory of each locker.

No consumer declaration of the amounts held of the foods included in the new rationing program reported to be started April 1 would be necessary. Cheese, butter, oleomargarine, and other cooking fats and oils, in addition to meat, are expected to be rationed. The ruling on locker declarations would be an exception to the ruling that consumers must declare their own supplies.

Says He Needs Warrant.

"I have no more right to delve into our lockers than a bank has to investigate the contents of its customers' safe deposit boxes," the manager of a north shore locker company said. "Such a procedure is as illegal as entering a home to examine the contents of the pantry. If I were provided with a search warrant for each locker room perhaps I could meet the order."

"I'll go to jail before I'll open and make an inventory of all our lockers," another proprietor said. "I won't take all the food out and weigh it. Whoever thinks up such regulations can come and do the work himself. We have almost 500 lockers here and I can't even get enough help to assist the customers in packing in their food."

Willard L. Morrison, manager of the Motor Products corporation in North Chicago, manufacturers of Deepfreeze units for homes, doubts that the ruling could be applied to his firm. More than 1,000 homes on the north shore have such units and their owners stock and care for them personally.

Butter in 32 Pound Packages.

The corporation also sells frozen foods to be placed in the lockers. Butter is sold in 32 pound packages consisting of one pound cartons. Whole lambs and half or whole hogs and hind quarters of beef also are sold.

Spokesmen for the North Shore Freeze Mart, Inc., in Evanston, and the Jefferson Food Locker service in Barrington estimated that a family of four will store between 75 and 150 pounds of meat in a locker at one time.

Spokesmen for the butter, cheese, oleomargarine, and cooking fats and oils industries preferred to make no comment on the rationing of these foods because allotments have not yet been announced.

PROMOTER FREED ON BOND; FRAUD HUNT CONTINUES

Donald Vandercook, 44 years old, head of the Engineering Associates, Inc., 64 West Randolph street, was released in bonds of $5,000 late yesterday after his arrest on Tuesday on charges of mail fraud.

Postal inspectors meanwhile were busy examining a mass of books and records seized in Vandercook's office for further evidence to sustain their charges that he had collected thousands of dollars by means of a scheme in which he represented himself to be an agent of the war production board.

Vandercook, it is alleged, told contractors he was authorized to award contracts for 18 army depots to be constructed thruout the midwest at a cost of 109 million dollars. Assistant United States Atty. William J. Connor said "the promoter collected money from Chicago firms on the promise that they would be awarded construction contracts and exhibited letters on WPB stationery signed by Daniel C. Cary, who he said was a construction supervisor for the WPB. There is no Daniel C. Cary in the WPB, nor does the WPB let contracts, John P. Bishop, regional WPB counsel said.

Vandercook lives at 114 Parkside avenue. He will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on March 10.

GARDENERS NEED RATION COUPONS FOR BEAN SEEDS

Peas and Lentils Also on OPA List.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Farmers and gardeners needing dry peas, dry beans and lentils for seed will be required to obtain ration certificates from local ration boards authorizing such purchases, the office of price administration announced today.

These products are being rationed as processed foods under the current canned goods rationing program which started March 1. No provision was made in the original ration order, however, for purchases of the products for seed.

8 Points a Pound.

In applying to local boards for peas, beans and lentils for seed, farmers and gardeners are required to use OPA form R-315. The application must show the name and address, reason for the request, and the amount needed.

Boards will then issue certificates for the number of points necessary to buy the seed requested. The point value is 8 points per pound. Certificates may be used for purchases from any merchant, and will be good for 60 days. Persons ordering seed by mail must send the ration certificate with their order. If they plan to buy from several places by mail separate certificates will be issued.

Several Items Covered.

Seed which has already been ordered and was in transit before March 1 is not subject to rationing. On orders received March 1 and later, shipments cannot be made until ration certificates have been received.

Seeds covered under the ration order include dry peas, chick peas, lentils, garbanzo beans, kidney beans, navy beans, yellow-eye beans, soy beans, lima beans, and dry snap beans.

LAKE FRONT AIRPORT SHOULD BE PLANNED NOW, MAYOR DECLARES

Mayor Kelly urged yesterday that Chicago prepare now to construct a lake front airport, and "four or five more" airports as soon as peace returns; but he expressed doubt adequate priorities could be obtained to begin the lake front project before the war ends.

"I'm for the lake front airport," Kelly said. "They certainly know in Washington that we want it. In fact, the President has indicated he wishes we had it now."

The lake front development originally was outlined as a 25 million dollar project, Kelly said, and probably would cost 35 million dollars to build on the basis of present construction costs.

3 MORE QUIT OPA OVER BAN ON GAS FOR FUNERALS

Lincoln, Ill., March 3 [Special].—Three more members of the Logan county war price and rationing board resigned today, bringing to six the number of persons who have quit the board since Monday, when the district OPA office clamped down on the issuance of emergency gasoline rations for funerals.

The new resignations are those of John L. Gordon, Frank Ryan, and J. W. Corwine, former postmaster. They composed the board's panel on fuel oil rationing.

FBI HELPING DIG INTO LABYRINTH OF MOVIE RACKET

Report Gangsters Hear Own Past Revealed.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Dozens of motion picture operators, stage hands, and other union attachés — including gangsters — are being questioned by the federal bureau of investigation, it was learned yesterday, and many of them are being summoned before the New York federal grand jury in a probe of the "pact" thru which millions was extorted from picture theater workers by gang leaders and members of the motion picture industry.

The roster of those actually taken before the jury, it is disclosed, includes Ralph O'Hara, Henry [Sonny] Goldstone, and George McLane. The former was organizer of the movie operators union in the heyday of the late Tommy Maloy's racketeering rule. Goldstone was manager of the now defunct Colony club at 744 Rush street, when Nick Circella-Dean, now serving 8 years in the extortion conspiracy, operated it. McLane was driven from business managership of the bartenders' union by Capone gangsters.

Hear Scalise Is Called.

Scheduled also to testify, it is reported, is George Scalise, former panderer serving a 10 to 20 year Sing Sing prison sentence for embezzling from the building service employés' international union, of which he was president. Scalise entered the conspiracy thru his control of the theatrical janitors and scrubwomen all over the country, whose locals "belonged to him."

The inquiry is reported to be taking in all the ramifications of gangster control of labor unions, the intricacies of their interlocking power and terroristic rule by beatings, sluggings, bombings, kidnaping, and killings.

Gangsters who have fallen under the inquisition have expressed amazement at the accurate knowledge of their activities, motives and movements during years past displayed by New York prosecutors. Gangland activities appear to be an open book to these men, it is reported.

Fearful of Perjury.

Occasions when certain men did or said specific things, with names, dates, and exact locations are time and again so accurately recalled to witnesses, that soon the evasive or defiant ones begin, it is said, to be fearful of lying or taking refuge in "I don't remember" for fear they'll find themselves caught in perjury indictments if nothing worse.

One of the chief objects of the probe is to trace the $6,000,000, more or less, taken from the theater employés in wage cuts.

The 10 per cent cuts thru which the money was extorted were ordered by the gangsters. By calling several sudden strikes of union theater workers from his headquarters, then in Washington, D. C., George E. Browne demonstrated to the motion picture industry that the gangsters, for whom he fronted, had gained control of the unions thru terrorism and murder.

"Pay or Else" Demand.

The men controlling the theater chains were compelled to enter the agreement, compile a record of the aggregate accrued from the wage cuts and pay much of it in tribute to the gangsters. The latter threatened to "tear the industry to pieces" if its members didn't "come thru."

Browne, international head of the theatrical unions, and Willie Bioff, west coast representative, now are serving 10 and 8 years, respectively, for their parts in the extortions. Bioff in his trial testified that he was paid "more than a million dollars" in cash by film executives, whom he named.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. A. Christensen, 1936 North St. Louis avenue.]

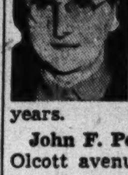
THE QUESTION.

Did you ever work hard to get something and then not care about it after you had it?

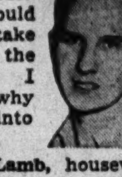
WHERE ASKED.

30 East Adams building.

THE ANSWERS.

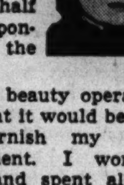


Mrs. B. H. Mayer, building matron, 4522 North Pulaski road—After several years of trying to convince my husband that we and our four children should live in the country, he bought a farm. Before we were there a week I was tired of it, but I endured it for three long years.



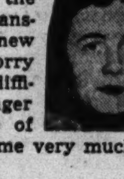
John F. Pokorney, stock clerk, 7032 Olcott avenue—It was a big job for me to convince my mother that I was musically inclined and should be permitted to take piano lessons. After the first few lessons I couldn't understand why I ever got myself into something like that.

Mrs. Joseph F. Lamb, housewife, 2713 Crowell street—I thought if my two small sons had separate beds they'd quit wrestling and go to sleep earlier. We had double decker beds built and then my troubles really began. One of them fell out every night. Now they sleep in one bed again.



Blance Higgins Schulten, beauty shop manager, Braidwood—When I was working as a beauty operator in another shop I thought it would be wonderful to be my own boss. I worked hard to get my own shop and now it doesn't seem half so glorious. The responsibility outweighs the pleasures.

Marie Campagna, beauty operator, Brookfield—I thought it would be fun to furnish my own apartment. I worked hard and spent all of my extra money. Then I decided it was more fun to have some one else manage the housekeeping for me. So I've traded it all for the old arrangement.

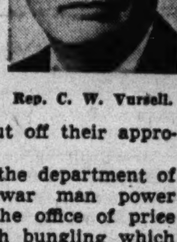


Laurice Mitchell, student, 4037 North Mozart street—I was the only one in the family who wanted a pet dog. It was work finding the type I wanted and transferring him to his new home. Now I'm sorry we have him. It's difficult for my younger sister to take care of him and I'm not home very much to enjoy him.

CURB BUROCRATS BY DENYING CASH, HOUSE IS ASKED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Rep. Charles W. Vursell [R., Ill.] appealed to the house today to curb burocratic bunglers and buck passers with firm control and common sense.



Rep. C. W. Vursell.

Unless government agency chiefs respond to reason and the call of patriotism to end waste and maladministration, he said, congress should cut off their appropriations.

Vursell accused the department of agriculture, the war man power commission, and the office of price administration with bungling which he blames principally for the danger of a food shortage.

Vursell charged that a 20 per cent drop in food production is more likely for this year than the 7 per cent increase originally predicted by the department of agriculture.

He blamed Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard for failing to act in time to save from military service young men who were needed on the farms.

DON'T SPEND ANY COMBAT MONEY, TREASURY ASKS

Banks in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district are on the lookout for "combat" money—the new currency in $1, $5, and $10 denominations with which United States troops are paid in combat zones. A memorandum from the treasury in Washington, D. C., has just advised reserve bank officials that any person having such money should withhold it from general circulation and send it to the treasury for redemption.

This money bears a yellow seal in place of the blue seal on the face of federal reserve notes. The purpose of the change in color is to trace the circulation in event any of the notes fall into enemy hands, bankers said.

Federal banks also are under directions to take a special Hawaiian currency out of circulation. All paper money in the Territory of Hawaii carries an imprint of HAWAII. The circulation of this currency is restricted to the territory and all other currency on the islands has been replaced with the new issue.

34 ACCUSED LOSE MOVE TO NULLIFY SEDITION LAWS

Justice Adkins Upholds Constitutionality.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Associate Justice Jesse C. Adkins of the United States District court for the District of Columbia late today upheld the constitutionality of the 1917 and 1940 sedition laws under which 34 alleged seditionists are being prosecuted.

Judge Adkins, after listening for two days to arguments pro and con on the question, ruled that he could only follow the decisions of the Supreme court in deciding the issue, and from his interpretation of its decisions the sedition laws are valid.

Tomorrow Judge Adkins will hear further motions, demurrers, and arguments in the cases. Actual trial of any of the persons charged with seditious activities is not expected to get under way before late April or early May.

Expect Two Months Trial.

An opinion was advanced by an attorney for one of the defendants during today's session that the trials would last "for at least 60 days." He based his prediction, he said, on the government prosecutor's announced intention of proving that the defendants were cogs in a vast German propaganda machine put in operation in this country years ago.

Today's session, like the others which have been marked with odd and humorous incidents, was not without its zestful moments. The biggest laugh was drawn from the argument of Jeff Busby, former congressman from Mississippi, who was representing Ellis O. Jones, a defendant from Los Angeles, Cal.

Busby informed the court that since he represented one of the defendants he could "call 'em anything I want to" and to his way of thinking they were "crackpots" who weren't harming any one.

Client Disavows Counsel.

"You can't cure 'em by puttin' 'em in jail," he declared. "It seems to me some of these so-called burocrats have gone out looking for the crackpots of literature to make an example of some one, I don't know who."

He said, "They have single ideas, one track minds, and they'll stick to those ideas, which don't amount to anything. They're not enlightened about anything else. They're my outfit, and I'll talk about them. This is not the type of crowd to be prosecuted under the sedition laws, even if you should find them valid."

Jones rose after Busby had left the courtroom and asked the court if he might "disavow" everything that Busby had said. He said Busby's remarks were "prejudicial" and asserted that when he said them "he was not representing me or the other defendants. I plead for their dismissal."

EXPECT SPECIAL BUS LINES TO ASK CARRIER PERMITS

When the order of the office of defense transportation, directing the elimination of all special and exclusive bus services, goes into effect on March 15, many individual bus owners are expected to seek operating permits from the Illinois commerce commission.

Merrill B. Knox, staff engineer for the commission, said yesterday that restrictions would fall principally on local transportation contractors and on specialized lines. "Many small bus services, owned by companies transporting their own employés, or operated by individuals under contract, have grown up recently," Knox said. "The order is directed at them. All bus owners representing themselves as common carriers had to have ICC certificates before they could collect fares.

"The contract carriers have avoided regulation. Some have been competing with established common carriers. Now they will have to prove their services are necessary and economical."

Private buses owned by hotels, apartment houses, golf clubs, and many other interests must be eliminated, the ODT order stipulates. There has been no indication what use will be made of these vehicles.

General Is Seriously Ill After Eating 'Mushrooms'

Marysville, Cal., March 3 (AP).—Maj. Gen. John B. Wogan, commanding officer of the 13th armored division, was seriously ill today of food poisoning, it was disclosed by Capt. Chandler Sprague, public relations officer at Camp Beale. Sprague said Wogan, his wife and their daughter, Patsy, 16 years old, were stricken after dining on what they thought were mushrooms. Mrs. Wogan's condition was described as fair. The daughter has recovered.

"Man Snatcher"

By Nina Wilcox Putnam

Copyright: 1943: By Inez Eliot

SYNOPSIS: Mary Jo Laurence has been happy with her husband, Tony, during their 18 years of marriage, in spite of Tony's deformed foot and his many failures in his work as a builder. A false boom brought them to Key West two years ago and caused them to buy a tract of land they have not been able to sell. After months of struggling to exist, Tony has found a prospective client, Col. Bassett, a retired army officer. Mary Jo has invited Col. and Mrs. Bassett to dinner, hoping it will help Tony swing the deal. While Mary Jo is housecleaning in preparation for her dinner guests, she hears a shot. From her window she sees a man lying behind Cinqua's tavern and notices another man crouching in the bushes near by. She watches as Cinqua comes out his back door and from his cries she knows that the first man is dead. But she decides to say nothing of what she has seen. A lucky win in the numbers pool gives Mary Jo extra cash. As she leaves her house to go shopping, she walks by Cinqua's tavern where a crowd has gathered. Sibyl Cartwright, an actress, comes out and informs Mary Jo that the dead man was Ed Tutwiller, younger brother of Pop Tutwiller, the fisherman, a good friend of the Laurences. It seems that Ed committed suicide because some married woman he had been going with got him into money trouble.

INSTALMENT IV.
SHOPPING.

Mary Jo rather liked the fast vanishing Key Westers, even if they were mighty dull company. Their churches were better than their parties and they sang the old hymns as lustily as Mary Jo herself.

She was at midtown now and her first purchase was the rope soled sandals for Tony—the smart, shapeless shoes which helped to conceal his slight deformity. Then she decided to put the better part of her remaining money on the bill at Chan's. They already owed him so much it would be only fair to pay him a small sum on account.

Chan's grocery was in an uproar. It was always a noisy place with Chan and his daughter shrilling confidential matters in Chinese, the dictatorial Spanish commands of Chan's Cuban wife, the constant blare of the radio, always tuned to catch the war news, and the clamor of customers trying to get their needs attended to. But today there was added to this Chan's own deep, oddly cultured English accents. The big Chinaman, usually imperturbable as a Buddha was lecturing a young woman and she was shouting back.

"Every day you bring in 10, 12 milk bottle!" he said. "You don't belong to all those bottles! I won't take them!"

"You will so take them!" the girl shouted tossing her flying mass of dark hair. "I've got a right to the money. You can't prove they're not mine!"

"This time I'll give the money. But don't you come back!" Chan motioned to his beautiful half-caste daughter who sat behind the cashier's desk, as calm as a porcelain statue. Flower Chan paid out the required silver and the dark girl snatched it up and turned for a final thrust. A vibrant physical vitality made her seem more beautiful than she really was, but she radiated the peculiar confidence which women who know their powers of attraction for the opposite sex possess.

"From now on I'll deal with white people," she said savagely. Then she smiled a sudden, transforming smile that would have melted a heart of stone. "You're pretty white at that, Chan!" she said. "Thanks for the gin money!"

The girl swaggered out, sweeping Mary Jo and her faded dress with an openly contemptuous glance as she passed. Chan uttered a few sharp comments in Chinese and then turned blandly to Mary Jo.

"He who lives by cheating, steals most from himself," he said. "What are a few empty bottles as against a soul?"

"Probably she's got a soul," Mary Jo agreed. "Pity anything so full of life and with so little sense couldn't have been born a colt, instead of a girl. She from the trailer camp?"

"No, not one of those. She is a married lady," said Chan carefully. "Now I show you something special, Mrs. Laurence. Lettuce and some peas the army didn't catch yet!" When she had completed her order, Mary Jo gave Chan five dollars.

"I'm looking to have more soon," she said, hurting with embarrassment. "My husband's figurin' on closing a contract . . ."

"Do not let it trouble you," said Chan. "I have but one use for money now. When yours comes in you know where the profit will go."

"China," Mary Jo nodded. "Is the relief fund going any better?"

"It is hard to make people really care. China is not so close to them as England with her Bundles. My brother in Havana finds it the same. Of course the lend-lease help goes out, but the poor suffering people, well, I do not know what will make Key West give to them."

Mary Jo did not know, either. But she did know that Chan and his family sent everything they had to some committee of Madame Chiang Kai-shek's.

"Something always happens to pull a good cause thru," she told him, suddenly seeing China thru his kindly eyes and wishing for Chan's more than China's sake that her easily spoken prediction might come true.

At the postoffice there was a letter from her younger brother, Pete. At 18 Pete still wrote in a schoolboy scrawl which now told her he hadn't been able to get work and that the uncle, Alan Harrison, with whom he had lived since their parents' death, was no longer able to keep him. Pete was coming to Florida, having heard that Key West was expecting to have a big season. Perhaps Mary Jo would look around and pick him up some job which wouldn't interfere too much with swimming and fishing. He'd be on his way, hitchhiking, by the time she got his letter.

"Besides, Laura Wills makes this town impossible for me," he added. "I can't help bumping into her and her mother won't let us speak. She has ideas about Laura marrying somebody with money, somebody belonging to that snooty set of theirs, the old cow! You thought Laura was just a kid affair of mine, didn't you, Sis? But now that I am mature, it's just the same with my feelings toward her. I can't stand being where she is and not being with her. Besides, I want to see what Florida is like."

There was no stopping him now, of course. Poor yearling, he was up against it. Too young for the draft, with no special talent and not even enough ambition to work his way thru a university. Pete, she decided, was too ready to figure that he had no place in the world and was kind of pleased with his own hopelessness. What should she do with him when he arrived? Key West was always overcrowded with strays in search of work. Right now they were sleeping on the front porches of strangers, or in any parked car they could appropriate. Every day a busload of them was rounded up and shipped back to Miami, unshod and footloose like a bunch of worthless Indian ponies. She would be glad to see Pete, of course. He was family, and naturally a sister was her brother's keeper. Maybe if she'd taken on the job while he was real wet behind the ears, he wouldn't be as slack. Perhaps she could still boost the kid into some sort of shape where he wouldn't have to be so sorry for himself.

She was hesitating about plunging into the hot walk home when a small car drew up at the curb and a cheerful voice called her name.

"Hey! Want a lift, Mary Jo?"

Two smiling faces, both deeply suntanned under snowy white hair, greeted her. Mr. and Mrs. Alan Smithers seemed to absorb and reradiate the sun in which they lived. It was like warming one's hands at the old wood burner stove back home to be with them. Mary Jo took her strong, lean frame across to the curb in swift strides.

"You old sea-hoss thieves!" she said affectionately. "What have you got there in the back? Some more poor sea-critters' houses?"

"Take a real good look!" said old Alan triumphantly. "Finest mess of shells you ever saw!"

"We've been out on the big reef in our boat since dawn," the old lady explained. "There's two perfect female conch shells, three pairs of angel wings, six paper conchs, and a basket of little stuff. My! but it was beautiful out there this sunrise! I never get over how sort of triumphant the sun gets up in these parts!"

"Makes you glad to be alive, this place does!" said Alan.

"That's more than we thought he would be, four years ago when we first came down," said his wife, to whom this always had the fresh interest of news. "We thought he'd never walk again with that arthritis! And now look at him! Swimming every day and fit as a fiddle! Up to his knees in that water all morning and it does him good."

"Mighty lucky we didn't stay in Iowa!" he chuckled. "I'd of gone to heaven all right, but I misdoubt it wouldn't of been as good as Key West."

Mary Jo put her packages in the rear of the car, carefully pushing aside the long, fragile shells and the baskets filled with incredibly decorative smaller shells which looked as if they'd been taken straight off a sophisticated magazine cover.

"Makes you realize how modern God is," she said pointing to them.

"I find He don't really ever go out of style," Alice Smithers added placidly.

There was a moment of comfortable silence while they rode along under the grateful shade of the giant ceba and mahogany trees while the car radio announced to the strains of a sentimental waltz that somebody's soap was kind to the hands. This faded into a chime which announced noon and the news. Old Alan tuned the radio a little higher.

"In Tokio, Premier Hideck Tojo, formerly considered a militarist, and who contrary to expectation furthered the continuance of conversations with Washington, looking, as he said, toward peace with justice, put forth a plea against spreading war to the Pacific. He blamed the axis for propaganda which tended to draw Japan into the war . . ."

"Sounds like a nice, sensible man," said Alice under her breath. The broadcast concluded with a repetitious account of more bombings of England and Malta.

"It's like a nightmare, ain't it?" said old Alan. "Just don't seem sensible."

SENATORS IGNORE F.D.R., VOTE CURB ON APPOINTEES

Policy Making Officials Face Confirmation.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Against the express wishes of President Roosevelt, the senate judiciary committee today approved a revised version of the McKellar bill requiring senate confirmation, with a few limited exemptions, of policy making officials in the executive branch who thus far have escaped congressional approval.

The committee voted, 9 to 5, to report out the amended bill which originally was introduced by Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.]. But the final version represented a substitute measure by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] as amended by Senators John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] and Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.].

$1 a Year Men Covered.

The final version provides that "any person except artisans and craftsmen, holding office or position in or under the executive branch of the government of the United States [including government owned corporations] who receives compensation amounting to $4,500 or more per year, for his services in such position or office" shall be subject to senate confirmation.

This language represents the Danaher amendment and was designed to reach so-called $1 a year men, lawyers, and economists in government service who receive per diem allowances of $20 to $25 a day, altho not regular salaries, and would, therefore, be subject to the bill's provisions.

TVA on Exempt List.

The specific exemptions include the officers and employés of the Tennessee Valley authority, except for the three trustees whose confirmation is required by existing law; employés of the federal bureau of investigation; employés under the White House office—the President's secretarial and clerical staff; persons appointed or promoted thru the civil service system, and persons on leave for military or naval service.

The TVA exemption, at the suggestion of Hatch, was approved by the committee, 8 to 5. Its sponsors said this action was intended to keep the TVA out of politics.

Sen. Frederick VanNuys [D., Ind.], chairman of the committee, estimated that between 25,000 and 30,000 government employés will be covered by the bill's provisions. The bill would require confirmation of such officials now holding office by June 30, 1943. This would include such policy makers as Harry L. Hopkins, James F. Byrnes, and Donald M. Nelson, whose appointments were never subjected to senate approval.

FIND FIRM SPENT 18,000 MAN DAYS ON '42 U. S. FORMS

New York, March 3 [Special].—One industrial concern spent 18,000 man days in 1942 answering questionnaires and filing government reports, it was revealed today by the division of industrial economics of the national industrial conference board after a canvass. A majority of firms surveyed spent more than 1,000 man days filing reports and half spent more than 5,000 days.

Office of price administration requests for financial statements, cost data, and price ceiling lists were said to be most burdensome.

Other reports listed as burdens were material redistribution surveys and analyses of unfilled orders and shipments by special end-use classification.

LOUISE ROLFE WIEBRECHT.

Mrs. Louise Rolfe Gebardi Wiebrecht, better known as the former wife and "blonde alibi" of "Machine Gun" Jack McGurn, was arrested by Albany Park police yesterday in an apartment at 827 Lawrence avenue in the company of an alleged army deserter, Harry Bernard of Brooklyn, N. Y. She is 34 years old and he is 25.

Detectives William Hugaro and Chester de Jeski made the arrest while investigating a bad check case. Neither Mrs. Wiebrecht nor Bernard was involved. Police booked them on charges of disorderly conduct for arraignment in the Women's court today. Mrs. Wiebrecht was released last night on a $25 cash bond provided by a man who refused to reveal his name.

Mrs. Wiebrecht's husband is now in the army. Her first husband was McGurn, whose real name was Gebardi, a gunman for the Capone mob. He was slain Feb. 15, 1936. Police said that Bernard probably will be turned over to army authorities.

DOWNSTATE LAME DUCK APPOINTED ROOSEVELT AID

Ex-Rep. Barnes Gets $10,000 Job.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Another in the growing list of election casualties who has won a lame duck job on the public pay roll is former Rep. James M. Barnes, Democrat of Jacksonville, Ill., it was learned tonight. He has been named by President Roosevelt to be one of his six administrative assistants at a salary of $10,000 per year.

Barnes, a former county judge of Morgan county, Ill., confirmed word of his appointment in a telephone conversation, saying he began his new duties on Monday.

Has Little to Say.

Remembering, perhaps, that Mr. Roosevelt once described his assistants as men with "a passion for annonymity," the former congressman had little to say as to what his job entails.

His salary is the same as he received as a member of the house where he represented the 20th Illinois district until the last election. He was unseated by Rep. Sid Simpson [R., Ill.]. Serving two terms, Barnes was one of the few downstate Democrats which Illinois sent to congress in recent years, altho his district was once represented for more than a decade by Henry T. Ramsey, former Democratic speaker.

Graduate of Harvard.

He is a graduate of the Harvard law school, also the alma mater of the President, and during the last war served overseas with the United States marines. He was county judge of Morgan county from 1926 until 1934.

It was reported that four other lame duck congressmen were to be named as his assistants to act as liaison men between Mr. Roosevelt and congress and foreign diplomats. Barnes was willing to emerge from his rôle of anonymous assistance to the President long enough to deny that he has ever heard of this plan.

PARTY LEADERS URGE 4TH TERM ON 'DEAF' F.D.R.

Callers at White House Bring Up Subject.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The New Dealers engaged in launching the fourth term gave the craft another push down the ways today at a conference President Roosevelt had with Postmaster General Walker and a group of Democratic national committee men.

Postmaster Walker.

Mr. Walker, who headed the delegation as the new chairman of the Democratic national committee, stopping to talk with White House reporters after the conference, allowed the intelligence to ooze out that two or three of the committee men had told the President he must be a candidate next year to succeed himself. He wasn't sure that Mr. Roosevelt heard the suggestion and thought that if he did he just laughed it off.

Later it was learned that the postmaster general will leave Washington next week on a tour primarily to inspect postoffices in Chicago and other western cities but incidentally to confer with Democratic leaders on ways and means for recovery of ground lost by the Democrats in that region in the November elections.

The Democratic high command has been exhibiting a good deal of anxiety over the recent political activity in the south and west of James A. Farley, who is rounding up opposition to a fourth term.

Two Indianans at Parley.

Participating in the White House conference today in addition to Postmaster General Walker and Mr. Roosevelt were Edwin Pauley of California, secretary-treasurer of the national committee; Vice Chairman Ambrose O'Connell of Iowa, Oscar R. Ewing of Indiana, Frank McHale of Indiana, O. F. Warden of Montana, James C. Quigley of Nebraska, James A. Noe of Louisiana, Robert A. Hurley of Connecticut, Culbert L. Olson of California, Carolyn Wolfe of Utah, Emma Guffey Miller of Pennsylvania, and Gladys Tillett of North Carolina, who is chairman of the women's division of the committee.

The national committee, at its January meeting in Chicago, when it accepted the resignation of Edward J. [Paving Blocks] Flynn as national chairman and chose Mr. Walker as his successor, appointed a committee to discuss party problems with the President from time to time. This was the committee that Mr. Walker shepherded to the White House today.

Denies Patronage Talks.

It had been reported that the chief reason for the appointment of the committee was to protest to the President against the appointment of Republicans to federal jobs, particularly places in the war administration, but Mr. Walker denied that patronage was discussed with Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Walker said he had had a meeting with the committee yesterday at which the complaints of lack of consideration of Democrats was aired.

The President, said Mr. Walker, did virtually all of the talking today, dwelling on the prosecution of the war and general conditions in the country. Asked if there had been any discussion of the 1944 election Mr. Walker replied:

"I heard some of the men say that if the war was on in 1944 the President should be a candidate."

Not Sure F. D. R. Heard.

Asked what was the President's reaction to the suggestion, the national chairman replied:

"I am not sure that he heard it. As I said, the President was doing most of the talking, but they got no response from the President. I think two or three talked about the fourth term. As a matter of fact, I think several discussed it both here and at the meeting with me yesterday. One or two said the President would have to be the candidate.

"I have heard three or four committeemen mention it in discussing what the situation might be next year. Most of them agreed that there would be a war on."

Never Discussed It.

Mr. Walker was asked how the President feels about a fourth term.

"I have never seen any indication from the President that he wants it; I have never discussed it with him," said Mr. Walker.

The postmaster general, who has confided to friends his belief that Mr. Roosevelt will not be a candidate next year, was asked his own opinion of a fourth term.

"It is no time to discuss candidates for 1944, and I say it seriously," he replied. "There are so many things that could happen and I don't think it is the prerogative of the chairman to select a candidate. That is for the party in convention to decide."

ROBS WOMAN STORE OWNER.

A young man, carrying a pistol in each hand, invaded a costume shop on the fifth floor of the building at 190 North State street yesterday and robbed Miss Bernyce Feney, the owner, of $10, two rings, and a watch, all valued at $500.

Victory speeds out of the night
To lonely watchers it may seem just another train speeding through the night.
Just another train? Hardly! Today there's no such thing on the ROCK ISLAND LINES right-of-way. For our trains haul the products essential to victory; carry, too, the men who fight so that some day the nations of the world may be at peace.
This has been our job ever since the call "To Arms!" was sounded—and will be our job until America's foes are vanquished.
Battles are still to be fought—battles on the transportation front no less than battles on some far-distant alien shore.
But courage and resourcefulness were ever American traits. They help our fighting forces to overcome the enemy, just as they help the railroads to do the seemingly impossible in transporting vital man power and the equally vital materials of war. And of great help, too, is the splendid cooperation of patrons.
That train speeding through the night is a harbinger of the peace that is to come. Whether or not it carries the ROCK ISLAND symbol means little—all of America's railroads are united in this war-to-the-finish. We of the ROCK ISLAND are grateful that we are privileged to have a part.
Victory will speed out of the night . . . into a dawn of peace.

PAY-OFF AT MADRID.

Carlton J. H. Hayes, our ambassador to Spain, disclosed in a speech at Barcelona that the United States is shipping substantial quantities of oil, cotton, food, fertilizer, and other scarce materials to the Franco government.

This is going to cause a fury among the internationalists and fellow travelers who are determined to wage this war on an ideological basis or not at all. Their previous denunciation of appeasers, whom they affect to see in our state department, may be expected to rise to new and shriller heights.

The political bleeding hearts might reflect for a moment that the gentlemen they are denouncing in the state department, like every one else in Washington, work for Mr. Roosevelt. They have no policies except Mr. Roosevelt's policies. Alf Landon made a pat summation of those policies seven years ago when he said of the New Dealers, "They seem to think that willingness to throw other people's money around is a peculiar sign of a pure heart."

That liberality with other people's money carried Mr. Roosevelt thru eight years of domestic politics. When the defense crisis arose its influence was reflected in the failure to distinguish between "on hand" and "on order." Lend-lease saw it translated into terms of foreign policy. Now, from a policy of rewarding allies it becomes, in Spain, one of soothing potential enemies.

Sen. Reynolds and other members of congress are rightly concerned at the diversion of thousands of tons of materials to a nation that is quite plainly neither a democracy nor an ally. We certainly owe Franco nothing and it is more than doubtful that the most extravagant generosity can awaken any effective feeling of obligation on his part. A glaring defect of the new liberalism, when transferred from the domestic to the international field, is that the dictator behind his own frontier is somewhat more independent than the reliefer who is being assisted in marking his ballot by a Kelly-Nash precinct captain.

Sen. Butler of Nebraska wants to know how much of the oil, cotton, and other raw materials of war is being passed on to Hitler. His curiosity is given point by Mr. Hayes' statement that petroleum products are available to Spain on a higher per capita basis than they are to the people of our own Atlantic seaboard. Spain is not noted for the prevalance of either automobiles or oil burners, but a ready market for any surplus can be found across the Pyrenees.

Ambassador Hayes put the Spanish transfers on the lofty ground that they are assisting Franco to restore a peace time economy. Sen. Hill, the Democratic whip in the senate, advanced the defense that they are a bribe to a nation standing on the flank of our African army.

The nature of the materials involved—petroleum, cotton, and ammonium sulphate in particular—casts doubt on the ambassador's account of the peaceful intentions of Franco, while the wisdom of the bribery that Sen. Hill recommends is even more dubious. It has been generally held that a principal deterrent to any of Hitler's plans for moving on Gibraltar and Africa thru Spain is the fact that he would have to send his army into a country racked by famine and disease. If this is true, supplies to Franco will remove rather than erect barriers against Hitler's march.

The matter requires further inquiry by congress. As it now stands the people must hope that Mr. Roosevelt knows what he is doing, even tho sad experience gives them reason to suspect that he doesn't.

A BILL TO MAKE TYRANTS.

Joseph B. Eastman, the director of war transportation, has asked the 44 state legislatures that meet this year to scrap a number of restrictive regulations which, he says, are impeding war traffic. Included are speed limits, limits on size and weight of trucks, port of entry acts, and licensing provisions which in some states make group riding of passengers difficult.

Some of the regulations to which Mr. Eastman objects were as obnoxious in peace time as they are in war time and should long ago have been repealed. A case can be made for temporary suspension of other restrictions during war. On the other hand, the lifting of some of the regulations would open the way for abuses and destruction of highways. All this, however, is beside the point.

The method suggested by Mr. Eastman for relaxing the restrictions is so obnoxious that it should be rejected by every legislature in the country. Instead of dealing with specific abuses by statute, Mr. Eastman has asked the legislatures to pass a so-called emergency transportation act which would confer on governors of the various states authority to suspend various traffic statutes by executive order. The bill would establish in the states the same kind of government by decree that in Washington is already a grave menace to our freedom.

The plea on which this is proposed is that of expediency. If, in the name of expediency, the legislatures can be persuaded to set up a lot of little tyrannies in the states, they will have given excuse for the erection in Washington of a great tyranny on a similar plea of expediency.

If specific state statutes impede war transportation, as some of them do, Mr. Eastman can and should ask for specific statutory repeal or suspension of those statutes. If he cannot point out what statutes need to be relaxed, he has no case for relaxation, and under no circumstances has he a case for government by decree.

OLD MAN'S SHIP.

The battleship is the old man's ship. That is why it still reigns supreme in the estimation of many of our admirals. It takes a lifetime to acquire an armful of gold braid, and most of these gentlemen are not far removed from the time when they will have earned the right to slippered ease. They would like to ride out their remaining active years with something solid underfoot. So, not unnaturally, they cling to their ships of the line and from time to time you hear them saying hopefully that, given the opportunity, the battleship will yet prove itself in this war.

There is every reason why these old men should remain addicted to the old man's ship. Even our so-called air admirals are like the ostrich and certain other birds which are so overdeveloped in other directions that they have lost the capacity to fly. These air admirals, as William Bradford Huie observed recently in his book, "The Fight for Air Power," can be called flyers largely by courtesy. Most of them began training as pilots at 50 or so, and received their wings after something roughly equivalent to a correspondence school course.

If these air admirals don't like to fly and never have come fully to understand the use of the plane in the new war at sea, what is to be expected of the old line admirals who never paid the slightest attention to the plane until it was forced upon their notice since the war began? These men have spent their lives getting ready to fight the battle of Jutland all over again. When the plane came along to disrupt all their tactics and computations, they were not unnaturally resentful. They never have been able to bring themselves to admit that they have been wrong for a lifetime, so they return to that old refrain that it would be a serious mistake to underestimate the battleship.

Indeed, these old gentlemen are forced inexorably to that attitude. The old man's ship is the only kind of naval craft that can accommodate the infirmities of age and permit the old gentlemen to go thru the motions of making war. It is impossible to picture the elderly admirals leading a squadron of dive bombers in rushing descent upon a target. They would have trouble retaining possession and control of their plates on something as volatile as a destroyer. No, the old man's ship suits them to the crossing of a T. It's a solid platform, at least until the dive bombers and torpedo planes start boring in.

FAMINE IN WASHINGTON.

The timing of an office of price administration announcement that banqueting must be severely curtailed as a consequence of expanding food rationing is not without interest. The OPA might have spoken five days earlier, but didn't. Loyal Democrats were banqueting in the capital at $100 a plate on that date to pay off the party deficit and raise funds for the fourth term campaign. Again, the OPA might have issued its order a day earlier than it did. But that wouldn't have been diplomatic. Mme. Chiang Kai-shek was receiving that day, and the refreshments were not being stinted.

The Democrats at the Washington day banquets showed that they had smartened up a little since the $40 a plate collation whipped up for Harry Hopkins and his bride. Instead of eating filet mignon, for instance, the New Dealers merely ate chicken, and other hardships were in proportion. Mr. Roosevelt, faced with the task of making a nonpartisan radio speech on the occasion, turned to the Bible for consolation.

The party given for Mme. Chiang was of another order. Her countrymen have not been too pleased at the amount of lend-lease assistance they have been getting, and the affair staged by the Chinese embassy in the Shoreham hotel could be taken as a subtle piece of Chinese suggestion. For the moment the lend-lease relationship was reversed. China was host and the United States on the receiving end. The sumptuousness of the buffet spread for the Americans might be considered as China's reminder that America, in common politeness, could do no less. The only distinction in giving would be that China's party was for an afternoon and ours for an indefinite number of years.

Whether the moral was appreciated or not, upper crust Washington enjoyed itself, as indeed it always does when the grub is abundant and free. The Associated Press account read something like Byron's description of the eve of Waterloo: "Diplomatic, army, navy, and governmental élite moved in steady file past the chair where sat Mme. Chiang. Into the half block long ballroom guests pushed their way to tables loaded with turkey, ham, lobster, aspic, mousse, ices, chicken a la king, salads, and cheeses, not to mention champagne. . . . From Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to the commander in chief, down to a mere commander, the navy trotted out its extra yardage of looped gold braid. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, chatted about his Casablanca trip."

And so it goes. The chief tactical problem of the New Dealer is to keep his sleeve out of his neighbor's plate while reaching for a refill. The citizen, struggling with the complexities of point rationing, will be happy to conclude that statesmen don't starve, nor do burocrats faint from hunger on street corners. On the contrary, we have the best fed leadership for total war on the globe. That's one thing we don't have to worry about.

Editorial of the Day

BUT WHY NEED JUST ANGER BE CONSIDERED FUTILE?

[Los Angeles Times.]

Economic Director Byrnes, in a speech of which the publication, for some mysterious reason, was delayed for 10 days, urges the press and public not to make criticism of government bureaus which merely results in "futile anger against the government." But why need the anger be futile? Does Byrnes mean to say that the administration intends to pay no attention to criticism?

Whether anger is futile or not is beside the point. The real question is whether it is just; and righteous anger is always proper, whether or not it produces amendment. If well grounded criticism is ignored, as it has been so many times under the New Deal, anger is an inescapable reaction. If the administration wishes to escape anger on the part of its critics, it must stop being angry at being criticized—ire generates ire.

Most criticism is offered in a helpful spirit. It may not prove useful, but the intent to be useful is there. Nor is criticism useless, as Byrnes seems to think, if the critic is not always able to suggest a better course. A man may be unable to design a safe bridge, or a dam that will hold, for example, and yet be able to point out that an existing structure is unsafe, and his criticism is nonetheless useful. And, as a matter of fact, constructive criticism with specific recommendations for betterment have been directly responsible for improvement in many of the government's fumbling war efforts.

While Byrnes refrained from saying, in so many words, that all criticism is unpatriotic, that appears to be what he tried to convey. The fact is the opposite—it is unpatriotic to keep silent when bunglers make a mess of the war effort. Those who fail to speak out when they see something going wrong are as responsible for what happens as those who direct it wrongly.

THE LEGEND OF THE STORK.

At the old cronies' and incorrigible bachelors' table of the Cliff Dwellers club, this column was challenged to account for the legend of the stork as a baby bringer. The question is not irrelevant or untimely, because the United States senate, in a session over a birth control bill, heard from the lips of Charles Francis Potter in 1931 these ringing words:

"The bir[illegible] not the eagle but the stork."

* * *

Let us first consider the curious fact that the obstetrical prowess of the stork gets more publicity in this country than in any other, altho the land contains no such bird. The legend we cherish was imported from continental Europe, and particularly from the Rhineland regions of Germany, Holland, and Alsace. [Storks never visit England.] No doubt it came over with the waves of immigration that also supplied us with the ground-hog story.

* * *

After wintering in Africa the pre-war stork was fond of nesting on German house tops, near a stream with marshy banks where frogs could be easily speared. He became a picturesque feature of the land and his roosting was wooed by householders. Conveniences to make nesting easy were set up on roofs; a discarded wagon wheel was often used. The nesting stork made a pleasant picture of aerial domesticity, and it came to be believed that a house thus honored was lucky.

* * *

It was an easy transition in legend-making to convert the luck-bringing stork into the baby-bringing stork. Also, the bird's close presence gave Die Mamma a ready and plausible answer to embarrassing questions from her children. "Where did the new baby come from? Why, the stork brought it." The family stork's close proximity, and the chance that a stork's egg might roll down the chimney any minute, made the answer quite convincing to the juvenile mind.

* * *

There are other legends about the stork that have not taken root in this country. For example, on the first Christmas eve a stork that happened to be loafing around Bethlehem plucked downy feathers from its breast to give the Child a soft bed. . . . There is a Swedish legend which tells of a stork that flew around the Cross, crying "Styrka! Styrka!" ["Strengthen! Strengthen!"] to the dying Christ. Thus the stork got its name.

* * *

Storks have been scarce in the Rhineland for many years because embankments have dried up the marshy shores where the feeding was good. Other great birds are flying over that region now and they are unlucky, for they drop eggs of iron and flame.

THE SERVICE FLAG.

A simple star behind a windowpane,
Yet tells so much of loving hearts within;
A hedge untrimmed, a walk where snow has lain,
These speak of one with greater tasks to win,
But here are those who gayly waved good-by Long days and months ago, and silent turned
To home again, with heads and courage high,
To tend the hearth until the peace is earned.
Here lives the wife that waits each day for mail,
For precious tidings that his notes disclose;
The day's work done, here eager words detail
The cheerful news of all he loves and knows.
The stars of blue that honor those away
Pay equal homage to the wives who stay.

Let 'Em Eat Weeds.

Comes now, according to the Sioux, the Moon of Snow Blindness [March], to be followed by the Moon of the Coming of Tender Young Grass [April]. On balmy days people of both sexes and all ages, armed with knives, will be wandering and searching the countryside, now and then crouching to dig out some greening plant. Young dandelion is most favored, and wild mustard, but the Italians prize the burdock.

Most folks know the burdock as a pernicious weed of the vacant lots, former house sites, or alongside barns and sheds. It grows to be a lusty, broad-leaved plant, prolific of burrs the size of an acorn, which attach themselves in clusters to your clothes, your horse's tail, and the ears of your dog.

But taken in the early spring, the burdock is as palatable as celery or cabbage, either cooked or raw. You use only the white part downward from the leaves to the big, main root. This you carefully separate, after which all surfaces must be scraped clean of their coating of fuzz, otherwise it would be very, very bitter. Boil until tender. Then fry slowly with egg, crumbs, or cheese, according to taste. The result is a tasty dish, rich in vitamins, that don't cost a dime.

Buckshot, O. R. S.

OF THOSE FOUR WINGS.

("All except two planes returned safely to their base.")

A hundred valiant painted birds
Wing safely back to home;
A hundred birds will fly again
Across white lanes of foam

To dart against an alien blue
And drop strange plumes of flame.
I only think of those four wings
Which death contrived to tame.

"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

Let a wreath be dropped on the waters of the Tagus at Lisbon, where the Yankee Clipper crashed on Feb. 20, in memory of Tamara Swann, mentioned in the news as merely "a singer." She was the first singer of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," as the many thousands who heard the operetta "Roberta" in 1933 should remember.

Please settle an argument. My friends maintain that Barney Ross, single-handed, drove the Japs out of Guadalcanal. I claim that several thousand marines, soldiers, and sailors gave him a little assistance. Who is right? Tumble Inn.

STOP BRAIN ABSCESSES FROM RUNNING EARS.

An abscess is no fun anywhere, at any time. Such lesions indicate that microbes have found their way into a "no admittance" part of the body and have set up inflammation. As a rule, we wait until a pocket has formed and then, by instituting drainage, relieve the symptoms completely. Thus, a sizable "collection" within a muscle, the pleura, or other region may be evacuated.

Far more concern is occasioned when the brain is involved. If there were no other reason for the vigorous fight against middle ear disease, we could justify all of our preaching on the ground that we hope to prevent the accumulation of pus in the neighborhood of the thinking apparatus. With every cold we run some risk that organisms will travel up a Eustachian tube and settle behind the drum.

Every child with a running ear typifies this danger. Fortunately for him the "corruption," instead of working backward into the mastoid cells, has burst outward, thus providing an avenue of escape. Then it is that we do everything possible to prevent complications.

But, despite treatment, once in a while the hollow spaces within the mastoid bone house vicious germs. Unless the progress of the malady is curbed at this point, it may not stop until it reaches the brain. Out of every 100 cases of infection in this latter area, one or both ears can be blamed for 60. It behooves us, therefore, to look upon oozing from the external canal as an alarm of fire. So long as the patient remains free from temperature he will be on safe ground. But, like a smoldering mass, spread may occur when we least expect it.

Occasionally dissemination will come from one of the sinuses but this is not common. Should a skull fracture allow germs to enter, an injury may be responsible. Finally pus within the chest or elsewhere may be carried by the circulation to some of the blood vessels within the skull. Then it is that virulent invaders may set up trouble and cause paralysis.

Let us assume that we have been confronted with a discharge from an ear and that the focus has not cleared up as we had hoped. If the temperature rises to 100 or 101, with a strikingly slow pulse rate, we must think at once of extension to the brain.

At first the patient is irritated and drowsy. He wants to be left alone and he will remain quiet for hours at a time, with his eyes closed. Careful examination will usually disclose signs of pressure. If life is to be saved the most powerful remedies will need to be employed.

Most physicians will administer one of the sulfonamides with the first indication of middle ear disease. In an acute situation they may be exhibited in heroic fashion in the hope that enough circulation remains to carry them to the site of the irritation.

Surgery, too, plays a rôle. Following localization of the abscess, a sufficiently large window may be opened for the insertion of a drain. Sometimes a needle will cause less damage and will permit the withdrawal of enough "matter" to establish healing.

But why allow a brain abscess to develop? Early and prompt attention to ear ailments will forestall many a disaster.

FROM PROF. CARLSON.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Your editorial of today, "Paging Mr. Hoover," deserves national attention and should recall Herbert Hoover's magnificent direction of the food relief for Belgium prior to our entrance into World War I. in 1917; his equally able direction of American food relief in the war devastated countries of Europe in 1918-'19, and of American food relief to Russia during the famine years in that country in 1921-'22.

Mr. Hoover does rise above partisan political interests and concentrates on the task in hand. He has the ability to infuse in his subordinates the same single attention to duty. He has the confidence of millions of our fellow citizens.

The food problem facing us in this war is far more difficult and serious than that of 1917-'18. We have had years of "planned" restriction of food production, including the wasting of six million pigs. Two years ago the department of agriculture and the social security administration sponsored an educational nutrition campaign, based on the assumption that less than 25 per cent of the American people eat an adequate amount of the essential foods, and that one-third of the American people suffer from distinct malnutrition. If this was even 10 per cent true, what are we up against now in the matter of national nutrition with a global war on our hands calling for our greater physical and mental effort and endurance under increasing food restrictions, actual food scarcity, and possible decreased food production? How can we "eat more" of that which is not to be had even in the black market? From what I know of human nature, we can neither fight our hardest nor produce at our best with anxiety about tomorrow's meals disturbing both mind and gut.

Wishful thinking will not get us out of this wilderness. We need a leader with both feet on the ground, a guide who knows the terrain, and is not distracted by passing comets in the sky. Page Mr. Hoover. A. J. CARLSON.

FROZEN JUNK.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Last week, while traveling thru New York state in daylight on the New York Central, I marveled at the number of junk yards that I saw, containing thousands of snow covered junk automobiles. If there is such a shortage of scrap iron, why are these tons and tons of automobile chassis and bodies standing in junk yards undisturbed, especially in the immediate vicinity of a railroad? MAY MILLER.

BEHIND THE FOURTH TERM.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 25.—Congressman Sabath states that the movement for a fourth term for F. D. R. "has been started by the people." What people? Illinoisans? Burocrats? Labor racketeers?

Certainly not by Indianians. We eliminated the New Dealers last year and sent men to Washington we can trust.

NO HELP WANTED?

Chicago, March 1.—Did you ever look for a war job? Well, we did! After using the gas necessary to travel from one defense plant to another [and we didn't miss many], not one of them was ready to interview four hard workers who wanted office positions. In fact, they were not even interested in talking with us to find out what types of jobs we were seeking.

Having heard from various sources that one aircraft plant was in desperate need of help of all types, we went there to see what they had to offer. In the hallway of a dirty old building we were greeted by a man who merely yelled as we entered, "Do you have birth certificates and have you filled out applications?" We replied that we had birth certificates but not with us, and that we had not filled out applications. The man then tossed blanks at us and ordered us to mail them in. If these plants choose to hire their help thru mail order applications, there is no reason to wonder at some of the inefficiency which we have seen.

The papers have been filled with ads from these different plants which we visited and tho they seem to be practically crying for help, they are not even willing to interview people who do seek positions.

Why should there be any talk of drafting men and women when a person applying for a position can't even get an interview? DISGUSTED.

NOT MUCH WILD GAME.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—What ballyhoo and false propaganda about wildlife being an important addition to our meat supply! Less than 1½ per cent of our meat comes from wildlife! Look at the figures taken from the Chicago Daily Drovers Journal, the Rural New Yorker, and the Fish and Wildlife Service:

Beef	9,498,000,000
Veal	1,062,000,000
Lamb and mutton	1,028,000,000
Pork	11,624,000,000
Commercial fish	4,000,000,000
Chickens	3,118,000,000
Turkeys	485,000,000
Game animals, birds-fish	435,000,000

Better that hunters be patriotic and save gas, rubber, ammunition, and precious man hours. China would appreciate it if our sportsmen turned their ammunition over to her, and this would be a genuine act of patriotism. Furthermore, all sportsmen are opposed to the sale of game as they fear that this will lead to commercialization of wild game.

CHRISTENING THE CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—When the new U. S. S. Chicago is ready for launching, instead of some public official doing the honors with the usual bottle of champagne, let's remember our wounded boys from World War I. still convalescing in Hines hospital. These boys have been almost forgotten in the events happening all over the world. It would be nice to show them our appreciation by having one of them christen the new Chicago. They would know that they have not fought in vain for American freedom.

WALT SANDS.

MALE WAACs.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—All the talk now going on in various newspapers thruout the country regarding the deferment of government civilian employés prompts me to answer these accusations. I have been an employé of the government for the past six years, and I do not know of the "many deferments" in government agencies. I believe if there are any deferments the number would be about one out of every 2,000 employés.

There is one pertinent question in my mind. It is, why do various branches of the government allow so many army officers to retain a noncombatant status? A large majority of these men are young and able-bodied and they should be in active service. They seem to be only impeding experienced civilian personnel in the performance of their duties. Most of these officers are, shall we say, correspondence school officers, who have been advanced so fast in rank it has gone to their heads.

It would be far better to give these army officers positions in the WAACs, inasmuch as they all imagine themselves ladies' men. The war department would be doing a sensible thing by making this move, and it might serve to straighten out the "mess" before it is too late.

CHICAGO TERMINUS OF ALASKA ROAD.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Anent your airplane map today, may I suggest that you start a movement to extend the name "Alaska highway" or "Alkan highway" into Chicago. The present Northwest highway might become the starting link, with the name carried thru on existing highways to Edmonton or whatever point the new Alaska road starts. The highway should be given a United States-Canada number which should be retained thruout the road's entire length. I suggest the number 1943 as appropriate.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People].—I am a widow and will be 70 on my next birthday. At the moment it seems that the small income I have been depending on will be discontinued. As I have no home of my own and no relatives in Chicago, will you please tell me what help will be available and how I may apply for it when the need arrives? J. A.

The act grants old age assistance to citizens 65 years old who have resided in Illinois five years of the preceding nine years, the last year being continuous; who are not supported by public institutions, have no children able to support them, and have not purchased full care in private institutions. Assistance will not exceed $40 per month. If the applicant has a private income, the assistance is scaled down proportionately. Funeral expenses up to $100 are payable where the estate proves insufficient.

FAVOR MEASURE TO CURB PAROLE BOARD POWERS

Send Minimum Term Bill to State Senate Floor.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—The senate judiciary committee today recommended passage of the Rennick-Connors bill, which would empower criminal trial judges to set minimum and maximum sentences within the limits of the indeterminate sentence act. A twin bill is in the house.

Sen. William J. Connors [D., Chicago] said the bill is designed to prevent undesirable parole conditions. It represents a new attempt to enact changes embodied in a 1941 act invalidated by the state Supreme court.

Under the bill the parole board may not free a convict before the expiration of his minimum term nor deny him parole after he has served the maximum.

Found Improper Powers.

"The Supreme court found no fault with that portion of the plan," Connors said, "but it invalidated the 1941 act on grounds that the law also gave a state board improper power to alter judicial sentences.

"This bill, with its valuable portion of the plan intact, should be enacted without delay."

Rep. Frederick Rennick [R., Buda], former house majority leader and sponsor of the house bill, was prepared to appear before the senate committee, but it was not necessary. The bill was sent out to the senate calendar for first reading next Tuesday.

First Move in 1937.

The plan's essential features were set forth originally in the Ward-Schnackenberg bill of 1937, which approved by the legislature, but was vetoed by Gov. Henry Horner. In 1939 the bill, with the same sponsors, narrowly missed passage. Last session it was passed, and Gov. Dwight H. Green signed it, but it suffered court defeat.

Those voting today for the bill with Connors were Senators Richard J. Barr [R., Joliet], who acted as chairman, Norman Barry [D., Chicago], Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia], president pro tem, Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago], minority leader, Lawrence E. Dowd [D., Chicago], John W. Fribley [D., Pana], Edward E. Laughlin [R., Freeport], A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago], Milton D. Smith [D., Chicago], Wallace Thompson [R., Galesburg], and C. C. Wimbish [D., Chicago].

Thus, both Cook county and downstate members of both parties went on record for the measure. Sen. George D. Mills [R., Chicago] did not vote.

A WOMAN IS KEPT BUSY OPENING INCOME TAX MAIL

One of the busiest young women in Chicago at this season of the year is Miss Loretta Niedzielsky, 13319 Baltimore avenue, whose job it is to open the mail in the income tax division of the office of collector of internal revenue. With other clerks, Miss Niedzielsky faces the huge mounds of letters each morning, opens them and pins accompanying checks to the income tax returns.

The harried workers in the income tax office, where thousands of persons come each day to obtain instruction in filling out returns, have the consolation that it will all be over in less than two weeks. The deadline for filing returns is March 15 and federal officials have warned that penalties will be imposed for failure to meet the deadline.

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, said the number of returns filed this year has been below average, and blamed erroneous impressions that pay as you go tax plans will be passed by congress and make the filing of returns unnecessary. Such is not the case, he said, and every taxpayer must file a return.

U. OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS BACKER HALTS U. OF I. BILL

Delays Airport Move of Urbana School.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—Sen R. G. Crisenberry [R., Murphysboro], a principal backer of the plan to develop a University of Southern Illinois, indulged in legislative log rolling in reverse today and temporarily blocked an appropriation for an airport at Champaign-Urbana.

His activities against this pet project of the University of Illinois provided the first test of the southern university proponents' vow to fight U. of I. appropriations so long as the university opposes the idea of a southern school.

Asks Quorum Roll Call.

A proposal to allow the use of $250,000 in university funds to buy ground for an airport was ready for a vote in the state senate appropriations committee when Crisenberry asked a quorum roll call. Only eight committee members answered, and Chairman Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton] ruled that a quorum was not present and no action could be taken.

Witnesses who appeared today will be called to testify again later. They include President A. C. Willard of the university, C. W. Chiles of the Illinois aeronautics commission, and Col. George C. Roberts, commission secretary.

Aim at Air School.

The $250,000 appropriation would be the first step in setting up a university school af aeronautics.

The committee reported out favorably a bill which would make a deficiency appropriation of $260,000 to the department of public welfare for salaries and wages at the Illinois state training school for boys [St. Charles and Sheridan].

$25,000 SALARY CURB REPEALER WINS APPROVAL

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—A surprised congress was informed today that President Roosevelt was planning to issue his $25,000 salary limitation decree even before enactment of the wage and price control law of last October. Rep. Albert Gore [D., Tenn.] told the house rules committee he knew while the act still was pending that the order shrinking high salaries was to be issued under its provisions.

Rep. Albert Gore.

The assertion came as the climax of a heated committee session over legislation which would repeal the President's order and substitute a salary ceiling forbidding increases above $25,000 since Pearl Harbor while leaving untouched salaries above that sum at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Shortly after Gore's testimony, the committee approved by a vote of 8 to 1 the repeal legislation, which includes an administration proposal to increase the national debt limit to 210 billion dollars. The measure now goes to the house floor where administration leaders are expected to make a determined fight to have the section outlawing the salary limitation separated from the rest of the bill and killed.

Sabath Opposes Move.

Rep. Adolph Sabath [D., Ill.], rules committee chairman, was the only member voicing opposition to the legislation during the committee session. He supported a proposal by Gore and other administration spokesmen to have the measure sent to the floor under a rule requiring a separate roll call on the repealer, but others on his committee quickly outvoted him.

The assertion that the salary limitation was being planned ahead of congressional action was quickly circulated on Capitol hill and brought expressions of shocked surprise from lawmakers. Many recalled that floor leaders told them flatly during consideration of the wage and price control act that the legislation conveyed no salary fixing power to the executive branch.

Holds Authority in Law.

"The authority for the President to act was in the price control bill, and I knew it would be exercised," Gore asserted.

Asked by rules committee members how he knew the salary order was to be issued, Gore replied:

"I base my opinion on a statement made to me in the presence of some very distinguished gentlemen—members of both the house and senate."

"These answers indicate that the order was written even before congress passed the law," said Rep. Clarence J. Brown [R., O.]. "If true, this is a very serious thing."

WLB INDICATES TRANSIT WAGE DECISION NEAR

War labor board officials in Washington expressed the opinion yesterday that a decision in the Chicago Rapid Transit company wage dispute might be expected within a few days, but warned that any number of circumstances could arise to delay the decision.

A 9 cent per hour wages increase, retroactive to June 1, 1942, for 13,800 employés of the Chicago Surface Lines, is involved in the decision.

Agreement for the increase was certified to the war labor board last December by Circuit Court Judge Philip Sullivan, who sat as arbitrator when company and employés were unable to come to terms and a strike appeared inevitable. At a meeting of the employés Monday night speakers criticized the board for delaying its decision.

Full Potency Is Guaranteed Including 5 Vitamins Of The B Complex

Banishes The Guesswork And High Cost For The Average Person

NOW at last! One of the world's largest producers does for vitamins and minerals what Henry Ford did for the automobile: banishes the guesswork; banishes the high cost.

A remarkable new invention that takes the place of less potent vitamin supplements for the average person because it gives you 8 vitamins and 9 minerals—17 elements in all!

And includes full minimum amounts of all 5 vitamins for which daily adult requirements have been established by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration . . . plus added amounts of 3 additional B Complex Vitamins . . . plus 9 minerals.

Full Potency Guaranteed

The name of this new 8-vitamin, 9-mineral tablet is Stams. It is based on the multi-vitamin principle approved by the committee on vitamins of America's leading medical association. Full potencies—including vitamins of the B Complex—are guaranteed as stated on the package, or your money back. Thus, by taking Stams, you know you get full potency of all 8 vitamins and 9 minerals.

3 Out Of 4 People Fail To Eat A Good Diet

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture authorities say 3 out of 4 people fail to eat a good diet. Thus, they do not get enough vitamins or minerals or other dietary essentials.

Even worse—most people know little about which to take—thus don't know which to buy—and probably couldn't afford the price anyway.

But, if you are one of the millions whose diet is deficient in vitamins and minerals, Nature can give you more vitality and pep with Stams.

Because in Stams you get all 8 vitamins and all 9 minerals listed in the chart. Yet you pay only about 5¢ a day—½ the price of a package of cigarettes.

Get Stams at any drug counter today. Take 3 tablets a day—every day. You'll be glad you did.

*BASED ON MULTI-VITAMIN PRINCIPLE APPROVED BY COMMITTEE ON VITAMINS OF AMERICA'S LEADING MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Ask Your Doctor To Confirm These Facts. If—because you have been paying so much more money for any multiple-vitamin tablets, tonics or capsules—there is any doubt in your mind about Stams Vitamin-Mineral Tablets, take the package to your doctor. The vitamins and minerals are listed on the label, together with potencies for each, as required by U. S. Government law.

Thru the Looking Glass

Whenever the subject of paste rouge comes up some one is bound to remark that she "just can't use it; it gets all blotchy and uneven, and I just don't think it's worth the effort." A defeatist attitude certainly, but we've discovered a product that will definitely put an end to such complaints.

It's called a "rouge cream" and the name suits it perfectly. There isn't a trace of stickiness about it; it's light and fluffy as the frothiest cleansing cream. Dab a few specks of it on the cheeks and blend it with the fingers. It will spread smoothly and easily, giving a natural looking glow of color to the complexion. With a rouge such as this there isn't a possibility of having any little smudges of heavy color in spots. If it has been applied too lavishly the excess will come off in a jiffy with a few whisks of a cleansing tissue.

Made by a firm whose products are well known for their quality, it maintains their high standard and is quite modestly priced. There's a generous amount of rouge in each container, which should last for ages if it's used economically.

Most of us haven't much time to spend these days in applying and refreshing makeup. The makeup that is skilfully and perfectly applied in the morning is expected to stay fresh for hours without repair and use of a creme rouge is one way of making certain that the cheeks will remain pretty and pink looking thruout the most hectic day.

Parents Urged to Investigate Views of Child on Behavior

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In the strain and stress of modern living, especially in today's war atmosphere, when so much has to be accomplished within a given number of hours, parents often forget the child's viewpoint when it's a matter of behavior. For instance:

Do you apply adult reasoning to childish conceptions of helpfulness?

Do you jump to hasty conclusions and punish your little son without knowing all the facts?

Do you fail to realize that what appears to you as naughtiness is really only your small daughter's efforts to learn?

I hope not.

Never punish your child while you are angry. When you have taken the time to think things thru you may realize what your child's real intentions were and find he or she only meant to assist you.

The following letter illustrates this point:

"I was in a hurry," a mother writes, "to get a big washing done and had not screwed the drain plug in the washing machine very tightly. My little girl, who enjoys watching the suds foam and helping to put the clothes in the wringer, noticed the drip and tried to tighten things up, but turned the screw the wrong way, with the result that the plug came out.

"As the water was scalding, we could only let it run out, heat more water, and start all over again. Vexed? Of course I was, but her contrite kiss and quick flush when she realized her idea had gone wrong more than made me glad that I had said and done nothing which would hurt her."

Another says: "I could tell of at least one life that was warped and saddened when a sensitive boy was punished severely, and most unjustly, as he still thinks, when his hot tempered father beat him while angry over a tale of misdeeds which had reached his ears, never giving the lad a chance to tell his own side of the story."

When a child gets into mischief, why not suggest something attractive for him to do instead of ordering him to stop? Much of a child's touching forbidden things or doing them is caused by a desire to know. If we threaten all sorts of dire results if we are not blindly obeyed, and a child's surreptitious try at the thing forbidden does not cause the calamity promised, two things happen. The child's faith in us is shaken, and a certain slyness and deceit is fostered. He must learn by actual experience that "mother knows best."

White Collar Girl

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Whodunnit?

A rumor went the rounds of a large office that a secretary occupying the desirable position of assistant to the general manager was leaving. When, by the office grapevine, word reached the employer that his super-secretary was about to quit [without so much as a cool nod in his direction] he was nonplussed and not pleased.

Actually the secretary had no such thought. She went immediately to her boss and convinced him she liked her job, wanted it, and—he willing—intended to keep it. Then, sensibly, she dismissed the incident from her mind and did not turn the office into a detective bureau to satisfy her curiosity as to "whodunnit."

Few of us escape the damaging effect of a rumor at some time during our lives. And few are so well qualified to handle the situation as this secretary, who, as a patient of one of our ablest doctors, had learned his formula for coping with that old trouble maker—"Somebody says."

Here it is: When an unfounded statement is circulated about you, correct it at once in the mind of the person [or the two or three persons] whose regard is of prime importance to you emotionally [or, as in the case of the secretary, economically]. Iron it out promptly. Then, with the correction made where it matters, take this point of view towards the one who originated the story and those who believe it: It is their mistake . . . not yours. You are not accountable for their incorrect thinking. It is their responsibility, not yours . . . their blunder, not yours.

The formula might well be incorporated in the courses which are springing up now in every business school to equip young persons to deal effectively with their associates. It eliminates wear and tear, saves valuable time, preserves dignity, brings peace of mind.

Interoffice Communication.

From F. W.: "Her name is Amanda. The boss calls her 'Mandy'—you know why—his right hand Mandy. Taking a tip from the story in the White Collar Girl column about the shy office worker who added a 'Miss' to the steno's nickname of 'Bambi' the shyest member of our office now says 'Miss Mandy.'"

From Maine to California.

Over the signature, "A Former White Collar Girl," a reader writes: "I may not have picked the longest word to be typed with one hand, but I have found something just as interesting. There are only two states in the union that can be written with one hand—that is—one with the right hand and one with the left. All other states require the fingers of both hands on the typewriter. Do you know which they are?"

It's a Business.

"In 1900 there was not a single moving picture theater in the United States. . . . In 1910 vacant stores and warehouses were the only movie palaces. . . . In 1921 the American motion picture industry was a bedlam of disorganization. . . . A world audience exceeding 250 million persons now goes to the movies."—From "Understanding American Business."

Contrasts in Color and Flavor of Food Add to Appetite Appeal

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

No woman who cares at all about the stomachs of her family would serve a meal composed entirely of meat, cheese, and eggs, all protein foods, or one made up of fats or carbohydrates [starches and sugars] alone. A balance among these three food groups is essential.

Many women fail to realize that it is almost as important to vary colors, textures, and flavors in a meal. These factors have a tremendous influence upon the appetizability of food. Can you think of a combination more unappealing than mashed potatoes, buttered turnips, and baked fish? All are white foods, and even tho they've been carefully cooked and seasoned, they register zero on the appetite indicator.

Or study this menu: Cheese souffle, stewed tomatoes, chopped spinach. Here you have a nice color contrast—yellow, red, and green. But the textures are all soft; therefore the meal loses interest except to a person whose mastication abilities are impaired.

What's wrong with this plan: Chili con carne, Harvard beets, gingerbread? You're right. This is a collection of too many strong, individual flavors, each of which needs something bland for contrast.

There's another factor which affects the appetizability of a meal—temperature contrast. A dinner composed entirely of hot foods or one which consists of cold ones alone is not nearly so appealing as a meal which contains a nice balance of hot and cold. Hot dinner course, chilly salad, hot coffee, cold desert. This is part of what tempts a man to eat.

Since food variety is not so easy to achieve these days, we are likely to be careless in putting together menus and overlook the necessity for these contrasts of color, texture, flavor, and temperature. But they are more important than ever, for with limited foods to choose from, we must work hard to make meals look tempting and taste good.

These are a few objectives in careful meal planning:

1. To obtain three colors, at least, in the main course of a meal [brown roast, green peas, broiled tomatoes]. These colors should harmonize, not clash, as for example, Harvard beets and stewed tomatoes, a combination which would be the more objectionable because both are acid in flavor.

2. To achieve a nice blend of chewy, soft, crisp foods in one meal. A crisp vegetable salad often is the solution to the problem of a soft textured meal.

3. To accompany strong flavored foods with bland ones, and to avoid repetition of one food or type of food in the same meal, as for example, spaghetti with tomato sauce and tomato salad, or, cooked broccoli and cabbage salad [both members of cabbage family].

Perhaps I should say a word in favor of contrasts in shape and size. It would be better not to accompany a baked potato and a meat patty with a baked tomato, for all three foods have fairly similar appearance. Better: Meat patty, mashed potatoes, whole green beans.

AMERICANS FIND VARIETY AND VITAMINS

Many Americans have rediscovered variety meats! They have found them mighty delectable fare, too! Whether or not these variety meats remain on the unrestricted list, makes them no less flavorsome and enjoyable, nor less valuable as a source of much-needed nutrients in the body. They are high in proteins, rich in iron and B vitamins. The chances are these variety meats will be more readily available than the more popular cuts of meat. Include them often in your menus, for health, variety, and downright goodness. They're worthy of a place on any table! Follow these suggestions for preparing and serving.

LIVER

LAMB or PORK LIVERS: Scald before cooking, then remove veins.

BEEF or VEAL LIVERS: No pre-cooking or other preparation necessary. To grind or chop any liver, simmer first, for 5 minutes.

Ways to Serve: Broiled. Loaved or pattied. Sliced and Baked. Cubed in vegetable casserole. Broiled with bacon on skewers. (High heat toughens liver.)

TONGUE

BEEF, VEAL, LAMB or PORK TONGUE: Wash well. Cover with hot water. Add parsley sprigs, 1 onion, 1 bay leaf, large piece lemon peel. Cover. Boil 5 minutes, then simmer 3 to 4 hours, and allow to cool in the spiced liquor. Trim off thick skin and cords.

Ways to Serve: Sliced, cold. Heated and served with horseradish, raisin, or tomato sauce. Sliced, seasoned, dipped in beaten Clear Brook Egg and bread crumbs, then sautéed.

KIDNEYS

BEEF KIDNEYS: Clean, then simmer until tender (about 1 hour), changing water several times during cooking.

VEAL, LAMB or PORK KIDNEYS: Wash, trim, remove membrane. Split through center with sharp knife (slice if large enough). Remove fat and tubes. Soak 1 hour in salted water.

Ways to Serve: Broiled. En brochette with mushroom caps. Sautéed. Braised. (Beef kidneys are best for stews and meat pies.)

HEARTS

BEEF, VEAL, LAMB or PORK HEARTS: Wash. Remove arteries and veins. Wash again. (Tenderize beef heart by soaking in vinegar water or sour milk.)

Ways to Serve: Braised with vegetables. Sliced, browned and simmered till tender. Cooked, chopped, then served on toast. Stuffed beef heart, browned and simmered till tender.

OXTAILS

Sever at joints. Wash in several changes of water.

Ways to Serve: En casserole with vegetables. In soup. Requires 3 to 4 hours cooking.

SWEETBREADS

CALF, YOUNG BEEF, or LAMB SWEETBREADS: Sweetbreads are highly perishable, so cook immediately. Wash. Soak in cold water 30 minutes. Parboil in salted water 10 minutes. Soak again in cold water 15 minutes. Sever breads, trim, remove membrane. Flatten.

Ways to Serve: Braised, broiled, or sautéed. Diced with chicken in cream sauce. Combined with oysters in casserole. Used as leftovers in cold salads.

BRAINS

BEEF, VEAL, LAMB, or PORK BRAINS: Brains are prepared the same as sweetbreads.

Ways to Serve: Cut in small pieces and cook with scrambled Clear Brook Eggs. Chopped, dipped in flour and fried.

TRIPE

BEEF: Smooth or honeycomb tripe is available . . . latter is preferable. Available fresh, canned, or pickled. Simmer fresh tripe until tender (about 1 hour). Soak pickled tripe in salt water 15 minutes.

Ways to Serve: Broiled. Stuffed, rolled and baked. Cut in strips, dipped in batter, fried in deep fat, and served with tomato sauce.

Two Weddings Saturday Are of Special Interest

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE wedding plans of two young women are causing a ripple of entertaining among their friends in Chicago and on the north shore. Surprising as well as interesting news is contained in the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. A. Warren Wells of Evanston that Mr. Wells' daughter, Mrs. Harry A. Turley, the former Willa Wells, is to be married on Saturday to William E. Ullmann.

The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the small altar in St. Chrysostom's church, the Rev. Paul Parker officiating, with a small reception following at the bride's near north side apartment. Mr. Wells will give his daughter in marriage, and Mrs. Philip Shambaugh will be her cousin's only attendant.

Stuart Ullmann of Lake Bluff will be his brother's best man. Mr. Ullmann until recently lived in North State parkway, but, having rented the house, now is living on his farm near Galena, where he and his bride will be at home. A widower, Mr. Ullmann has two children, Carolyn and William Jr. Mrs. Turley, whose first marriage took her to East Greenwich, Conn., to live, has one daughter, Harriet.

Miss Frieda Foltz is entertaining this evening for Mrs. Turley and Mr. Ullmann. Coming from away for the wedding will be Mrs. Hamilton K. Smith and Miss Louise Corbin of Southbridge, Mass., cousins of the bride; Dexter R. Wells of Boston, her brother, and Maj. Libby Pulsifer of Camp Livingston, La., brother-in-law of Mr. Ullmann, and Mrs. Pulsifer of Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Catherine Lowrey Will Be Wed Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Catherine Lowrey, daughter of the Forest Roderick Lowreys of Winnetka, and George Noble Bishop Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop of St. Louis, Mo., will take place at 8:30 o'clock on Saturday at the Church of the Holy Comforter in Kenilworth, with a reception following at the Orrington hotel in Evanston. Dean Rowland Philbrick of Davenport, Ia., a cousin of Mrs. Lowrey, will read the service.

Mrs. Robert Borchert Jr. will be her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Bishop, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Eleanor Uridge of Grosse Pointe, Mich., will be bridesmaids. Stuart Johnston of St. Louis will be best man. Mr. Borchert and Charles Hammersmith of Elmhurst will usher. Mr. Bishop, who just was graduated from Grinnell college, will take his bride to St. Louis until he is called into the army. Miss Lowrey is a graduate of the North Shore Country Day school and of Dana hall and attended Denison university.

Seeing Eye Fund Drive Plans Are Being Made.

A nucleus of women who are preparing to devote a month to seeking funds for the Seeing Eye school at Morristown, N. J., met yesterday afternoon at the Fortnightly club to discuss plans for the drive, which will begin on April 13. Mrs. Irene Sidley heads the Chicago Seeing Eye enrollment committee. The school trains dogs as guides for blind men and women in all parts of the country.

Two of the women who met with Mrs. Sidley yesterday will act as divisional chairmen of the drive, Mrs. Leslie Gordon of Winnetka and Mrs. S. Austin Pope of River Forest. A cold kept another divisional head, Miss Eleanor Eaton, confined to her home, and the fourth, Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr., is in Arizona.

Mrs. Frederick A. Preston, honorary chairman of the committee; Miss Alys Faurot, Mrs. Louis Barker, and Mrs.

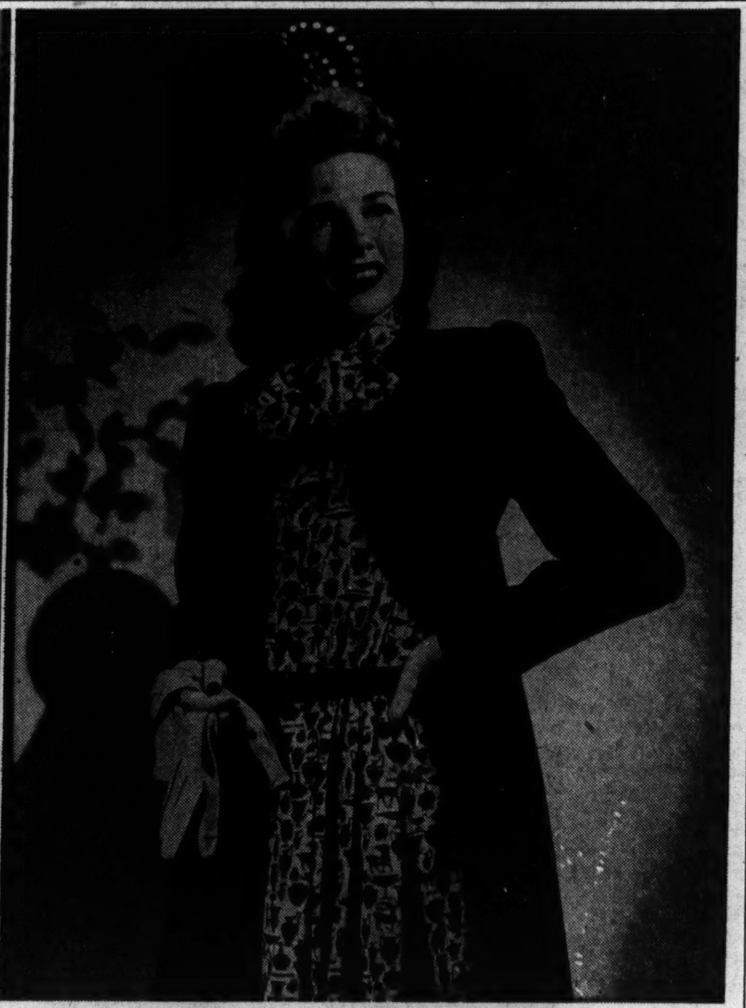
Two Fascinating New Costumes for Spring Wardrobe



At the left is "The Winner," a fascinating new print dress with an all-over design, in brilliant colors, illustrating prize winning ribbon devices. The wide brimmed hat is of scarlet milan. The pigskin gloves are the new models with contrasting laced accent. At the right is a print dress and wool coat costume as distinctive as it is colorful. The unusual print design is in terra-cotta, black, and ivory, and features Greek vases, phrases, and figurines. The long fitted wool coat is lined with the same silk as the dress. Both costumes and accessories are available in a Chicago shop. [TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

Mothers Seek Aid in Helping Their Families

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Mrs. C. is making a valiant effort to support herself and her three small children. Her husband has been ill and unable to work for almost two years. Because the children are young and need her in the home, Mrs. C. is unable to do outside work.

She has become interested in raising birds and has appealed to this department for any bird cages which our readers might wish to discard. Her home is on the northwest side of the city.

Mrs. V., who lives in the same general district, is the mother of 12 children. It is difficult for her to keep them properly clothed, and with five boys in the family there is necessarily a great deal of repair work to be done. Friends have helped her with clothing, but much of it needs remodeling. She would be very grateful for a sewing machine if some reader can provide one.

A clinic physician has recommended to Mrs. M. that she obtain a small tricycle for her daughter, age 20 months. Her legs are not sufficiently strong, and a toy such as this would help her to stretch and exercise them. The address is on the northwest side and the mother would be glad to call for a tricycle.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Democracy at Work.

All the officers at the reception center at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, were a little nervous, for they had been told one of the big generals from Washington was arriving that day to inspect the camp. The excitement and strain had filtered down thru the enlisted men who were busy with their routine duties.

In one of the many booths in the building where inductees were interviewed to determine their aptitudes sat an interviewer, a recent addition to the army himself. He had been a professor of English at Pennsylvania State college and now was a private assigned to classifying the new men. All morning he had been interviewing a stream of newcomers, a cross-section of educations, nationalities, and backgrounds. Many were frightened, and the professor had been told to put them at their ease.

Now the general and his staff had arrived and had asked to be shown thru the interviewing section.

At the moment the professor was troubled with a strange inductee. He had just been released from a five year stretch in prison and bore no marks of a gentle upbringing. It was then that the general, with a polite "May I watch?" stopped at the professor's booth.

"Of course, sir," replied the professor, leaping to attention.

The inductee did not rise. He lolled on his sacroiliac joint and said to the professor: "Has you got a cigaret, bo?"

The professor, quaking, handed him one.

"Has you got a match?"

The professor fumbled for one, but could find none.

The general's face was inscrutable, but the faces of his staff officers were white, while the faces of the camp officers bore wan smiles. Coming to his feet slowly, the ex-convict nudged the general. "Has you got a light, buddy?"

"Why, yes, I think so," the general replied, pulling out his cigaret lighter and offering it. Then, with an indulgent smile to the professor, he moved on.

The professor sank into his chair and resumed his interview.

Campaign Oratory.

We understand that young Steve Kelly, the son of the mayor, is entertaining his 14 and 15 year old friends by reciting a parody of the Gettysburg address beginning:

"Four score and seven years ago my father started the subway . . ."

Reciprocity.

Our literary critic, Fanny Butcher, received a note the other day from Norman Ladd in Auckland, New Zealand. Mr. Ladd, an author, wrote that he was sending a review copy of his book, "Beaten by Graft," under separate cover, and added:

"If no space is available for reviews, please give the book to some American soldier as an humble gesture of appreciation from the author for what the courage of your lads has saved us from. Also, for teaching our girls the American accent and incidentally improving us, for in order to compete with your boys we have had to improve our manners considerably."

Feeding of Children in War Zones to Be Mass Meeting Theme

A "feed the starving children in war zones" mass meeting tomorrow at Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street, will be addressed by James Wood Johnson of New York, relief administrator. The meeting, sponsored by a representative group of civic leaders and religious organizations, will also discuss government policy related to the recent appointment of Herbert H. Lehman, former governor of New York, as director of foreign relief and rehabilitation.

Edith Abbott, formerly dean of the school of social service administration, University of Chicago, will preside, and Dr. Ernest F. Tittle of First Methodist church, Evanston, will speak on the relationship of relief to future international relations.

Despite the Weather, It's Spring at Fieid Museum

Regardless of the present state of our weather, it is now spring at the Field museum, Orr Goodson, acting director, said yesterday. He placed the museum on its annual spring visiting schedule of 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. "A Look Into India" will open a children's movie series Saturday.

Prints Combine Smart Designs and Gay Color

BY REA SEEGER.

Conversation starting prints are invariably those of very individualized design; unusual ideas imprinted on dress materials in colors that are as vividly memorable as the designs themselves.

This spring you'll find gay, sprightly prints, some more than smile provoking, some derisive bits concerning our everyday life. For instance, there is the sign print, one that shrieks with advising slogans and uses for a main theme the phrase "Post No Bills Here." There are all sorts of nationalistic emblems, among them a stunning Greek print, with a most appropriate color scheme of terracotta, black, and ivory. This is a print with an all-over design of Greek vases, phrases, and figures. A third beauty is a printed silk with first, second, and third class prize winning ribbons in brilliant color splashed against white.

These are only a few of the tricky prints available now. Most of them are printed dresses combined with a jacket or coat; the long wool coat lined with the print of the dress is apparently destined for an extremely long fashion popularity. Each season, especially spring, these twosomes of silk dress and companion wool coat arrive right on the turn of the hour and season.

While the brilliant hues rate top position in the classic parade of prints to the colors, there are generous showings of black and navy designs, with allover small patterned prints in white, pale beige, flesh color, and some effective copper browns patterned in yellow beige, azure, and giddy green.

Virtually a never ending supply of new ideas, new color schemes and new prints make these first spring showings well worth all the fanfare and the subsequent inspection and selection trip to town.

Art Directors Club Honors Daniel Catton Rich Today

The Art Directors Club of Chicago will hold a special ceremonial luncheon today at the Tavern club, 333 North Michigan avenue, to install Daniel Catton Rich, director of fine arts of the Art institute, as an honorary life member. Mr. Rich, the second honorary life member elected to the club, will receive a plaque inscribed with the names of the club members. Sidney A. Wells will preside at the luncheon.

Bride

Mrs. Theodore B. Davidson.

Mrs. Theodore B. Davidson is the former Miss Marian Hantover, daughter of Mrs. Ann Hantover of the Park Lane hotel. She and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Davidson of Addison street were married on Dec. 5. Mr. Davidson and his bride attended De Paul university.

Child Welfare League Will Open Three Day Meeting Here Today

The midwestern regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America, an organization uniting public and private institutions, governmental agencies, and welfare societies for the safeguarding and guidance of needy children, will bring social workers thruout the middle west together in the Hotel La Salle for a three day meeting. A series of eight study courses on child welfare problems will be given for professional social workers at today's session.

Nationally known speakers from the social service field will address the conference on the second and third day. Among those to appear are Miss Charlotte E. Whitton, executive director of the Canadian Welfare council and consultant to the Canadian war time prices and trade board; Miss Katherine Lenroot, chief of the United States children's bureau; Miss Charlotte Towle, University of Chicago faculty member; Leonard Mayo, dean of the school of applied sciences at Western Reserve university; Howard W. Hopkirk, executive director of the Child Welfare League of America; Henry L. McCarthy, regional director of the social security board; Edward J. Condon, regional director of the 6th civilian defense region, and Dr. Ruth Strickland of the United States office of education.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., March 3.—What we're doing to our glamour girls you wouldn't do to a dog. Claudette Colbert, dirty, muddy, in a torn uniform, saw some beauties walking around the Paramount lot in pale blue dresses and makeup to match, so she had to see what was going on and went visiting Mitch Leisen. And we watched Ginger Rogers do "The Blue Dream" in "Lady in the Dark." Ginger naturally didn't wear a blue makeup but her gown of blue, designed by Edith Head, was a dream in itself. She stood beside a blue piano with clouds cascading over it like Niagara, and took bows and received bouquets just as Geraldine Farrar used to at the Metropolitan. . . . When the scene was over and we gathered in Ginger's dressing room for tea, there were blue flowers. Seems every time she changes the color of her dress, Leisen changes the color of her flowers. "And," said Claudette, "all I get on my set are a lot of ants and lice." Said she, scratching, "I'm sure I've got the latter!"

Life Stranger than Fiction.

Twentieth Century bought "Love," believe it or not, written by Stephen Laird. It should make a wonderful picture because while the facts are fantastic, it's true. Remember the pianist, traveling with her family and giving a concert in Poland when the Nazis moved in? Her father was put in a concentration camp, so was her boy friend, in another city. Later on, they met on a street in Cairo. . . . Twentieth also has "Soldiers Never Die" by Aben Frankel and Herman Mankiewicz. That's their Russian contribution — Russian defense against the Nazis.

I Hope, I Hope.

Columbia wants Olivia De Havilland, Joan Fontaine, and Brian Aherne for "Malta, V. C."—the city which has withstood many bombings. I wonder if it will contain scenes where the sisters fight for the same man. I hope so. That would give all so much fun—and be good for the picture. . . . One reason Gabin wants his release from Twentieth is that he wants to co-star in a film with Dietrich. But they're both waiting until their astrologer, Carol Righter, gives them the go ahead sign. . . . Seems strange that George Murphy, who was all set to entertain overseas with Cary Grant, would come back to play the lead in "This Is the Army."

Wondering About That.

It's a pity Mickey Rooney has to be the guinea pig for M-G-M's test case on deferment. The public will be too apt to forget that it's a studio appeal and only remember that Mickey was relieved from military service or released from the draft by studio request. . . . Nice tidy sum paid to Louis B. Mayer last year. The figure was $949,765. . . . I heard Gary Cooper has the directing bee in his bonnet, too. It wouldn't surprise me if he and Sam Wood signed up as an independent unit—which would be good joining. . . . Stephen Heym, who wrote "Hostages," denies he's about to do a book on Congresswoman Clare Luce.

At Luncheon———

With Sam and Frances Goldwyn, we were amused at a story Frances told. Soon after she married Sam, one of their dinner guests was the late Ambassador Alexander Moore. She knew nothing about cigars—Sam didn't smoke them—so she bought 5 cent ones. After dinner Moore was puffing his, turned to her and said, "Frances, if you had spent five cents more on your cigars, this would have been a perfect dinner!"

Teresa Regrets.

Anne Baxter.

Before "North Star" is finished, I'll wager Teresa Wright will be sorry she let little Anne Baxter take her place in it. Anne will emerge a big personality. This may be her recompense for having lost "The Song of Bernadette." I watched her do a scene today with Farley Granger. They team well together — young, fresh. On the set, ran into Jane Withers who said, "Isn't it wonderful my getting a dramatic part?" Janie, who's grown quite tall, had to be padded out here and there a bit. The set of the Russian village is a knockout. It practically knocked the wind out of Ben Sonnenberg [born in Russia] and Walter Marvin, who were visiting there. Those two have been wined and dined like prima donnas, and how they've responded!

Manhattan Notes.

Peter Lorre, our Mr. Moto, cheering the sinking of a Jap battleship in the newsreels. . . . Vic Mature brought back 164 autographed photos of Rita Hayworth to his coast guard shipmates. Ones with the longest messages were given to the cooks! . . . Ann Corio has a clause in her movie contract that she wouldn't have to anything expected of Bette Davis. Now she's going with Lt. Harmon Nelson—Bette's ex. . . . Paramount has stolen two of the Ziegfeld Follies writers [Lee and Seelen] away from the next Crosby-Hope picture. They're en route here, with Follies still rehearsing and Harry Kaufman burning. . . . Vivianne Segal gets lead in Lynn Root's musical "Fit as a Fiddle" on Broadway. . . . In "Let's Face It," a bicycle is used once to cross the stage. Vinton Freedley promised it to his daughter. The play's run 63 weeks. She's hoping it will close so she can get her bicycle.

Professor Will Lecture at Sheil School Tonight

William Byron, professor of sociology at Northwestern university, will appear at the Sheil School of Social Studies, 31 East Congress street, at 7:30 o'clock tonight to give a lecture on "Crime." Prof. Byron's talk is the fifth in a series of studies in social pathology offered by the school without charge.

[ADVERTISMENT]

Toilet germs can't thrive in clean toilets

A sparkling-clean toilet bowl is no health hazard. It's easy to keep yours looking like new — sanitary and clean of unsightly incrustations, film and stains which are often the principal causes of toilet odors. Use Sani-Flush at least twice a week.

Don't confuse Sani-Flush with ordinary cleansers. It works chemically. Cleans the hidden trap. Sani-Flush is absolutely safe in septic tanks* and toilet connections when used according to directions on can. Sold everywhere. Two handy sizes.

*FREE—For Septic Tank Owners—Eminent scientific authorities have proved how easy and safe Sani-Flush is for toilet sanitation with septic tanks. Write for their interesting report. It is free. Address: The Hygienic Products Company, Dept. 51, Canton, Ohio.

Two Weddings Saturday Are of Special Interest

Louis Hayward were other women present at yesterday's meeting. The Prestons just have had as guests their son, Lt. [j. g.] Henry Preston, and his wife, who came here on his first leave after eight months at sea. Lt. Preston has gone to Charleston, S. C., and his wife has returned to her studies at Vassar.

Artist to Be Arts Club's Guest at Exhibit Opening.

Guests at today's opening of two new exhibitions at the Arts club will have a chance to meet one of the artists, Joep Nicholas, who has come from New York for the tea from 4 to 6 o'clock. Sharing the spotlight with the murals and stained glass pieces executed by Mr. Nicholas, now living in this country in exile from his native Holland, will be the paintings, water colors, and drawings of Jerome Myers. The latter will constitute a memorial exhibit, as Mr. Myers died in 1940.

Mrs. Donald McPherson will "do" the tea table, and co-hostess with Mrs. Arthur G. Cable will be Mrs. Jan I. Noest, wife of the Dutch consul general. Among those who will take turns at pouring are Miss Laura Van Pappelendam, Mrs. Otho Ball, Mrs. Charles Borland, Mrs. John Collier, Mrs. Franklyn B. Snyder, Mrs. Hubert Burnham, Mrs. Frederick Ingalls, and Mrs. John U. Nef.

Miss Marjorie Lawless' Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Lawless of Evanston today are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Arthur T. Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Pope of Lake Forest. Miss Lawless and Mr. Pope attended the University of Illinois, from which he was graduated in January. Mr. Pope now is a candidate at the officer training school of the army engineering corps at Fort Belvoir, Va. He has three sisters, Miss Mary Lew Pope, a post-debutante; Miss Lydia, a bud of last summer, and Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Albert Hunsberger [Alberta Woodruff] have named their new son, born on Tuesday in the Evanston hospital, after his father. Young Harry and his brother and sister, Harvey and Julia, are grandchildren of Mrs. Harvey T. Woodruff of Hendersonville, N. C., formerly of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Shumway have returned from a three week stay at Boca Grande, Fla.

A new play, "Take It or Leave It," written by Mrs. M. F. Lewis, will be presented at 3 o'clock today before the Alliance Française. Mrs. Harry W. Dingman will be hostess later at tea, at which Mrs. Judson Large and Miss Ruth Lyon will pour.

Weddings

From New York comes word of the marriage on Monday of Miss Janet Dolorita Maher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Maher of New York, to Joseph Beech Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Beech of Chicago. The bride is a granddaughter of former United States Sen. and Mrs. James A. O'Gorman. Mr. Beech's father was founder and first president of China West Union university, of which he now is chancellor.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Peterson of North Fairfield avenue announce the marriage on Feb. 16 of their daughter, June Constance, to Corp. MacGregor Holway Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Holway Hill of Wellesley, Mass. The wedding took place in Aberdeen, Md., where Corp. Hill is attending an officer candidate school. The bride attended the Stickney school and Corp. Hill was graduated from Dartmouth college.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kivlan of Evanston announce the marriage on Feb. 27 of their daughter, Pauleen Dunn, to Lt. Jerome T. O'Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Grady of Chicago. The wedding took place in the Calvert chapel of the University of Chicago, with a reception following at the Calvert club. Lt. and Mrs. O'Grady will live in Staunton, Va., where he is an instructor at Augusta Military academy.

Miss Wilma A. Steinbrecher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Steinbrecher of Milwaukee avenue, and Paul R. Tillman, petty officer, 3d class, will be married at 4 o'clock on March 12 in the Bethany Evangelical church. Miss Steinbrecher and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tillman of Highland Park, were classmates at North Park college. Mr. Tillman and his bride will live here while he is stationed at the Glen View naval air base.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Benziger of North Francisco avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Altanah Jayne, to Aviation Cadet Frank Joseph Chulay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chulay of Windsor avenue. Miss Benziger is a sophomore at the Chicago Teachers' college, where her fiancé was enrolled before entering the army. He is a graduate of Wright Junior college.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Boys of Cincinnati, O., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Channing M. Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Briggs of Ashburnham, Mass. Miss Boys lives in Drexel avenue. The wedding is planned for early May.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Buckley of Stony Island avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Lorraine, to Arthur Henry West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. West of Wilmette. Miss Buckley attended Bradley college. Her fiancé attended Purdue university and recently was graduated from the Chicago Kent College of Law. He will leave soon for army service.

Mother and Daughter Styles

Mother and daughter, or big and little sister, fashion teams have a hold on popular fancy. These two jumper frocks are an illustration of the mode.

Style No. 3213 is designed for sizes 6 to 14. Size 8 requires 1½ yards of 35 inch or 1¼ yards of 54 inch fabric for jumper; 1½ yards of 35 inch for blouse.

Style No. 3218 is designed for sizes 10 to 16. Size 16 requires 1½ yards of 54 inch fabric for jumper; 2⅛ yards of 35 inch for blouse.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The spring pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Crocheted Filet Patterns

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted filet blocks, created in a diamond shape, may be assembled to form a handsome tablecloth, or used individually for place mats or dresser sets. Birds and baskets are the two motifs used in this pattern and require little work, to produce an outstanding effect.

For instructions in crocheting the filet diamond shapes for tablecloth and the like, No. 1268, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Recently I commented on the strange quirk in human nature that seems to make the ruffing of adverse tricks the delight of most players. The quirk is even more pronounced in the matter of over-ruffing. When declarer ruffs one defender's trick, and the other defender is able to over-ruff, he usually does so with a grin of pure pleasure. Since the over-ruff, as often as not, costs a trick, it is hard to understand why it should be so productive of joy. Note today's hand:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 3
♥ A J 10 2
♦ 7 4

WEST
♠ 8 6 4
♥ K Q 6
♦ A 9

EAST
♠ K Q J 10 7 5
♥ 5 3
♦ K Q J 10
♣ 5

SOUTH
♠ A 9 2
♥ 9 8 7 4
♣ 2

This hand was in a World Bridge Olympic contest of some years ago. With both sides vulnerable, the bidding recommended by the Olympic committee was:

North	East	South	West
1 club	3 spades	Pass	4 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

South opens his singleton club. North capturing the jack with the king. Now, since North can count the clubs, he naturally should return a low club, thereby giving South a chance to over-ruff the declarer. The latter [East] can make no worthwhile discard, nor can be afford to ruff low, because an over-ruff would inevitably give the defenders two spade tricks, one club, and the heart ace. Hence, East is forced to ruff with a spade honor. Now, if South, succumbing to the delight of over-ruffing declarer, uses his trump ace, the defenders' case may as well be closed. Even tho South, after winning with the ace, returns a heart to North's ace, and North leads another club, declarer can now afford to ruff with another honor and still have sufficient top strength to draw South's deuce and nine of trumps.

The crux, of course, is for South to refuse to over-ruff on the first club return! He should discard any red card. Now declarer can do no better than lead a high trump. South wins and leads a heart. North gets on lead with the ace and persists with clubs. Now declarer has only two trump honors left, while South still has the 9-2. If declarer uses one of his honors, South's nine spot is promoted for a subsequent trick. If declarer trumps low, South can make his nine spot then and there. The point is that only by refusing to over-ruff at the first opportunity can South promote his nine to winning position.

Peoria Church Observes Its 100th Birthday Sunday

Peoria, Ill., March 3 (AP).—The First Evangelical church, founded here in 1843, will observe its centennial anniversary Sunday with services and a reception. Peoria was a small settlement of 21 log cabins and seven frame houses when Bishop John Seybert traveled from the east by horse and buggy and founded the First Evangelical association here. The first church building, erected in 1847, and two others were outgrown before the present edifice was built in 1913.

Parents Recognize Son's Back in Tribune Picture

Tho his back was toward the camera in a photograph of a group of fighters sightseeing in London, published in last Sunday's TRIBUNE, Sergt. Edward B. Regan, 22 years old, was recognized by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Regan, 524 East Marquette road. "We've watched him standing since he took his first step and we know," said his mother.

Correct Care Prolongs Life of Hairbrushes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Brushes and combs are precious items now, because their supply is not what it used to be. The use of natural and synthetic bristles for brushes, hard rubber and synthetics for combs has been restricted by the government. So take care of the combs and brushes you have. Prolong their life by cleaning them properly!"

From a prominent hair stylist comes the foregoing advice. In order to make his own brushes and combs last longer under war time stress, he checked with leading manufacturers of these products on the correct way to care for them. The result of his findings are:

The wrong way to wash brushes is to immerse the whole brush in soapy water. This injures brush back and weakens bristles.

The right way is to clean them in a solution of warm water [not hot] and soapsuds. Swish only the bristles end of the brush briskly around. If the brush has a wooden back and handle, try not to get the wood wet, as soaking mars the finish and causes the wood to deteriorate. Rinse each brush separately by immersing only the bristle end in clear warm water.

The expert also warns against using chemicals of your own mixture in the water for sterilization purposes, as some chemicals are harmful to both natural and synthetic bristles.

The most harmful drying position for drying brushes is dry them lying on their backs with bristles up. Nor should brushes be dried under hair dryer or on a radiator. Rubbing the brush bristles dry with a towel is frowned upon by our authority, too, the friction causing the soft, wet bristles to bend out of shape. Bristles also get tangled in the threads of the towel and are pulled and jerked unnecessarily.

To dry brushes properly, place the brush so that the bristles hang downward. Do not let the bristles come in contact with anything. Inserting the handle in a dish drying rack serves the purpose.

Combs should not be washed in hot water, nor dried under artificial heat. Combs of synthetic composition materials will melt and bend out of shape, thru heat. A toothbrush reserved for the purpose should be used for comb scrubbing. In the case of hard rubber combs, a few drops of ammonia may be added to the cleansing water.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Sarah Gosh and Capt. Paul B. Rickard after Miss Gosh was sworn in as member of the marine corps women's reserve.

Sarah Gosh, who was born in Constantinople, Turkey, but whose parents, native Armenians, brought her to Chicago when she was 8 months old, was one of the young women sworn into the women's reserve of the marine corps yesterday. Miss Gosh, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gosh, and a younger brother, Paul, at 1400 West Erie street, is 21 years old, is a graduate of Steinmetz High school, and is now attending night school at La Salle university. She works during the day as a private secretary to an executive of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Louis L. Mann, chairman of the Jewish committee, women's division, Chicago and Cook county war savings staff, that more than $5,000,000 worth of war bonds were sold by Jewish groups in February. This brings the total of bonds sold by the groups since they were organized early in 1942 to well over $22,225,000. Sixteen organizations sponsored special events in February to stimulate bond sales.

Since recruiting began on Feb. 14 for a new evening course in production training for war industries, sponsored by the University of Chicago school of business, more than 1,000 inquiries have been received, according to Willard J. Graham, director of the course. The tuition free, government sponsored program, which will train women and draft-exempt men for supervisory positions, will start on Monday and will continue for 12 weeks. Classes will be held from 6:15 to 9:45 o'clock at 18 South Michigan avenue.

Applications already received show that women from varied walks of life are becoming increasingly aware of the need to fit themselves for work in war industries, Dr. Graham said. Applicants range all the way from fashion instructors and social workers to secretaries, purchasing agents, office managers, and personnel workers. The age range is from 20 to 48 years.

"The principal criterion for acceptance is employability," said Dr. Graham. "Women who have completed high school and whose previous experience indicates that they will benefit from the instruction are eligible for the course."

The program provides instruction in many phases of war industries. Registration is still open, and application forms may be obtained by writing to the school of business, University of Chicago.

The monthly meeting of the Service Men's Wives and Mothers, organized a few weeks ago by a group of young Winnetka women, will be held at 2 o'clock today at the Winnetka Woman's club. Guests are invited to bring their knitting, mending, and children, as provision has been made for a play group. Mrs. L. P. Martens, in charge of today's program, will announce a new project to be undertaken by the organization. The group was brought together by Mrs. Charles Keller, wife of Gen. Keller, whose idea it was to have army wives who've come to this area get to know young women whose husbands are away on duty.

Eleven more women will complete a course in engineering and drafting tomorrow at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Having completed 10 weeks of tuition free training, they are prepared for war jobs. A graduation luncheon for the group will be held at 12:30 o'clock at Marshall Field's when William Johnson of the National Safety council will speak and Prof. John I. Yellott, the school's war training head, will present graduation certificates.

Another course in drafting will begin on Monday at Illinois Tech. Registration still is open at the war training for women office, 1951 West Madison street.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Burton Holmes Pictures Beauty of New England

BY CECIL SMITH.

In even more blithe and jocund mood than usual, Burton Holmes took his Orchestra hall travelers on a trip thru eastern and northern New England last night. Those who missed last night's convoy may make the tour on Friday night or Saturday afternoon.

War time restrictions forbidding photography along the sea coast robbed Mr. Holmes and Ted Phillips, his excellent photographer, of many opportunities for marine and coastal panoramas. But, after all, Massachusetts and Maine present a multitude of interesting inland sights. The historic monuments, the beautifully proportioned old houses, the smiling landscape, and the luxuriant gardens provided ample material for the color camera.

After a few preliminary glimpses of Boston, ancient and modern, Mr. Holmes followed the course of the first Revolutionary days, moving from Old North church to Lexington and to the "rude bridge" at Concord, where the American forces won the first battle. Memories of 1775 at Concord were intermingled with later and more literary associations with Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, and Louisa M. Alcott.

A brief sojourn on Cape Cod—where the rule against making any photographs within two miles of salt water quite effectively ruled out a large portion of the entire cape—brought quaint glimpses of the arty colony at Provincetown. Returning to Plymouth the audience saw the rock under its rather oppressively stately Grecian canopy, and the exteriors of the houses of some of our Pilgrim forebears.

The wonderful old houses of the sea captains in Salem and also the House of the Seven Gables made famous by Hawthorne's novel were high points on the northward trip toward the state of Maine. Arrived in Maine, Mr. Holmes remained for some time to smack his lips over the luxury and spacious vistas at the Poland Spring hotel before moving on for glimpses of the wild beauty of Mount Desert Island. The lecture ended with a brief exploration of the White mountain region of New Hampshire.

Next week's lecture will be devoted to pre-war Russia. On March 27, as an additional lecture, the travelog on "Charm Centers of the Old South" will be repeated.

Other wives . . . hear her story

HER HUSBAND'S LOVE slowly changed to . . . frozen strangeness. She didn't dream that her "one neglect" was carelessness about feminine hygiene (intimate personal cleanliness). Today, so many modern wives use Lysol disinfectant. It cleanses quickly, thoroughly, and deodorizes, too. Yet it's so gentle it won't harm sensitive vaginal tissues—just follow easy directions. Costs so little. Write to Lehn & Fink, Bloomfield, N. J., for FREE Feminine Hygiene Booklet CH.-16 (in plain wrapper)

Lysol Disinfectant FOR FEMININE HYGIENE

"Why isn't my wash white like my neighbor's?" many a woman asks herself.

Soap—no matter what kind—needs a "helper" to soften water, dissolve greasy dirt, and keep soap curds from settling in the clothes.

Climalene does these four important things:

Gets out heavy dirt
Saves hard rubbing
Makes clothes whiter
Boosts suds... saves soap

Don't wipe dishes—Use New SAVEX

KILLS HER SON, SHOOTS SELF TO SPITE EX-MATE

Woman Writes: 'You Can't Hurt Us Anymore.'

Mrs. Marguerite Hess, 49 years old, was found critically wounded and her son, George Judson Hess, 17, was found shot to death in the bedroom of their apartment at 7405 Ridge avenue yesterday. Police said the woman apparently killed her son and attempted to end her life.

B. O. Hess.

Police Capt. John B. Ryan estimated the boy had been dead 12 to 15 hours and that Mrs. Hess apparently had lain in the apartment the same length of time with a bullet wound in her brain that shattered part of her skull. Doctors at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, expressed surprise that she lived. They performed an operation late last night and said her condition was grave.

Find Note to Ex-Husband.

On the dining room table police found a note on which was scribbled: "Too late, Mr. Hess. And not smart enough. You can't hurt us any more." It bore the telephone number of Mrs. Hess' divorced husband, Burchard O. Hess, an optical goods salesman at 31 North State street.

Mrs. Helen Melody, a neighbor, notified the building janitor when she failed to see Mrs. Hess exercise her pet greyhound on two successive mornings. John Sasser, 7369 Ridge avenue, building agent, opened the apartment and notified police. The dog was roaming the flat.

Hess told police his wife divorced him in September, 1938, after 18 years of marriage. She was awarded $150 a month alimony and $33 a month upkeep on a home. The payments later were reduced to $75 a month. Hess married again last year and lives at 500 Diversey parkway.

Son Planning to Leave.

Hess said his son, who was employed as an artist by A. C. Nielsen & Co., 2101 Howard street, visited him last Monday and asked him for money to go to New York to take another job with the company. The firm denied that the young man had been offered a job there, however.

Later that day, Hess said, his former wife came to his office and told him of the youth's plans. He said there was no sign of any trouble.

Miss Ann Christine Coote, 16, of 820 Milburn street, Evanston, told police she saw young Hess Monday night and that he spoke of having "trouble" with his mother and said he wanted to go to New York to "get away."

Woman Held War Job.

Mrs. Hess had been employed since Dec. 18 at the Merit Coil and Transformer company, 311 North Des Plaines street, a war plant.

The body of young Hess, known to friends as Judd, was found in bed. His mother lay across the bedroom threshold. Both were clad in pajamas. Police said two shots had been fired from a .38 calibre pistol which lay at Mrs. Hess' feet.

An inquest into the youth's death will be held at 10 a. m. today in the chapel at 2710 Devon avenue.

Slays Her Son

(Story in adjoining column.)

Mrs. Marguerite Hess, who killed her son, Judson, 17, and shot herself in their home at 7405 Ridge avenue.

ONE OF 3 TRYING TO HOLD UP RAIL DETECTIVE SHOT

Thomas Dalton, 17 years old, 4131 Drexel boulevard, was shot thru the head last night by Ellis Tandy, 39, of 1509 East 70th street, an Illinois Central railroad detective, when Dalton and two other youths attempted to hold him up at the I. C. station at 72d street and Dorchester avenue.

Grand Crossing police said the three youths had been holding up railroad passengers as they left the stations late at night. Their latest victim, police said, was Richard Simpson, 21 years old, 7031 Vernon avenue, who was robbed Monday night of $50 and his overcoat.

Dalton was taken to Jackson Park hospital, where his condition is reported critical. Tandy, who was considerably battered by the youths, was treated at the Illinois Central hospital. The other two youths escaped.

ADMITS KILLING GIRL BECAUSE HE FELT 'MEAN, UGLY'

Boy Seized in Canada on Mother's Tip.

Ionia, Mich., March 3 [Special].—The strangle murder of a girl war worker was solved today with the confession of Donald Temelco, 17 year old Ionia High school junior, a 220 pound football star, that he killed her while possessed of an unaccountable desire "to do something different."

Donald Temelco.

He was arrested last night in Montreal, Que., an hour and a half after his mother had received his telegram asking for $50. A murder warrant for him was issued here today and Gov. Harry Kelly was asked to start international extradition proceedings to return him for trial.

His victim was Clara B. Johnson, an attractive blonde night worker in an Ionia war plant.

Part of Slip Around Throat.

Her body was found Sunday morning behind a grain elevator. Her skull had been fractured, her left arm broken, and part of her slip tied about her throat. An autopsy showed she had not been raped.

"That evening [Saturday night] I had a strange feeling of going out and doing something out of the ordinary, not knowing what it was, or caring," Donald said in the confession which Sheriff Leslie H. Murphy obtained by telephone from Montreal police.

He explained that he had met a boy "who had a pint," got another boy friend to buy him a pint of whisky and met Clara about 1:30 a. m. in a café where they both had stopped for lunch.

Got a "Mean, Ugly Feeling."

"I sat down at a booth at her invitation and we started to talk," he related. "She had something to drink. About 2 a. m. we left and I started to take her home.

"Then I got a sudden, mean, ugly feeling to do something bad, so I killed her. I first started to strangle her with my hands. Then I kicked her on the head and face with my heel. She groaned, so I ripped off part of her slip and tied it around her neck.

"During the struggle I took off her wrist watch and afterward, knowing she was dead, I took her purse, containing $20. Then I started for Canada. I pawned the watch for $7 while passing thru Lansing. At the Union station in Toronto I checked my bag, containing a blood-stained pair of pants and a coat."

Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riste Temelco, operate a Main street café here. They came to Ionia three years ago from Owosso.

MOTHER RESCUES 2 FROM FIRE

Mrs. Carl Mosher, wife of a war plant worker, rescued her two daughters, 5 years old and 19 months old, yesterday when fire attacked their home at 5243 Ohio street.

'GRAMPS' GRIEVES OVER FLUNKS IN FIREMAN TESTS

Examiner Finds New Day Living a Handicap.

Alec [Grandpa] Nisioccio, who for 38 years has been checking up to see that Chicago's new firemen and policemen are neither muscularly deficient nor muscle bound, shook his balding head sadly yesterday and moaned for the days when men were men and not reasonable facsimiles.

The occasion was the first day of physical examinations for 3,700 young men who want to be firemen. The first 100 were called and 88 showed up.

Finally there remained only 36. Assured that each had the right quantity of bone, muscle, and stuff, Gramps began testing for quality.

Gramps ordered no tests which he himself can't do. Until a few years ago an applicant had to lift a 75 pound dumbbell above his head with one hand. One day Gramps broke his collarbone doing that. So, when he emerged from a cast six months later, he cut the dumbbell to 60 pounds.

As the tests—the first given for the fire department in eight years—progressed, Gramps' melancholy advanced.

Too Much Easy Living.

"O, for the good old days!" he said. "For years easy living and staying up all hours have been making too many people soft. And the best specimens have gone to the army. We don't want what the army rejects. A soldier only has to shoot a gun. Firemen have to do everything."

The fire department requires applicants between 21 and 28 years old. Almost all of those yesterday were pressing the upper limit hard. The "youngsters are all gone," Gramps moaned.

The veteran physical examiner said he would make no concession to soft living and the army.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

R. O. G. writes. "For the convenience of your readers who are not able to go to the proper office, won't you publish at least the minimum requirements for the new marine corps woman's auxiliary?"

ANSWER. For general service, the candidate must be a citizen between 20 and 50 years old and have at least two years of high school or business school training. The minimum height is 5 feet and the minimum weight is 95 pounds. The applicant must not have dependent children under 18 years of age. All applicants must be prepared to submit [1] birth certificate, baptismal or birth affidavit; [2] a transcript of their educational qualifications; [3] record of occupation since leaving school together with three or more letters giving references as to their character and ability from citizens of good standing in their home community.

In addition, candidates for officer appointments must be between 20 and 50 years of age, have a college degree or two years of college plus at least two years of acceptable business or professional experience and submit two passport size front and profile photographs. In general, the vision requirements for general service appointments are at least 6/20 in the poorest eye correctible to 20/20 in both eyes, while officer candidates should have a minimum vision of 12/20 in the poorest eye, correctible to 20/20 in both eyes.

Applicants who have a special skill or background will be given ratings or special training and ratings. The list of special jobs offered by the marines is one of the longest and most interesting offered by any of the women's corps. It is indeed an honor and a privilege to be a marine, and judging from the members we have seen and talked with, there must be substance to the marine claim, "You have to be of the best to be a marine." The marine office has supplied us with a special kit of informational material we will be glad to send to any one writing in to us for it.

A. S. writes: "I am 37 and will be 38 on May 28, 1943. I expect to be inducted into the army next week. When I become 38, will I be able to be released from the army providing I can prove I will go to work in an essential job in a defense plant as a guard?"

ANSWER: If you should be called to the army now, you would not be released because the new conditions call for induction before Feb. 28, 1943, and the person must have become 38 on or prior to Feb. 28, 1943, to be released. The job of guard at a defense plant probably would not be considered as essential and entitle you to releasement.

A. L. D. writes: "I earned $750 in 1942. Of this amount, approximately $160 was earned while in the army signal corps enlisted reserve in school. Am I entitled to the military service credit of $250?

ANSWER: We have been advised that members of the army signal corps enlisted reserve training group are entitled to exclude from their income tax return the first $250 of income received as an enlisted reservist if single, and $300 if married or head of a household. Our article, "The Yank's Guide to 1942 Income Tax" is available to men in active military service if they send postage or a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WOMEN CONVICT SOLDIER WHO LED $16,150 ROBBERY

For once a uniform didn't lure feminine eyes, and the fact was rued yesterday by Pvt. Max Lipman, formerly of 1623 Lawndale avenue. A jury of nine women and three men before Judge Stanley Klarkowski of Criminal court found him guilty of robbing the Ashland-Fulton Currency exchange last March 15.

Lipman wore his uniform during the trial, and court attachés as well as Assistant State's Atty. Richard Austin, who prosecuted, wondered whether it might influence the woman jurors.

The robbery netted the thieves $16,150, and Lipman, according to evidence submitted by Austin, kept nearly $15,000. Henry Craft, who has pleaded guilty and who testified against Lipman, said he received about $700, as did another accomplice who is a fugitive. Austin showed that Lipman spent large sums on plane rides and bought a $700 wristwatch for himself. Lipman, arrested in New Orleans, La., by Policeman James Micus, offered a family alibi in his defense.

MICROSCOPE STOLEN AT HOSPITAL.

Theft of a binocular microscope valued at $312 from a laboratory locker in Ravenswood hospital, 1917 Wilson avenue, was reported to police yesterday by George Swanson, 1354 Carmen avenue, superintendent.

JOHN P. HARDING, 76, IN HOSPITAL; FIGHTS FOR LIFE

John P. Harding, president of the civil service commission and prominent restaurant owner, was reported desperately ill in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, last night. He is 76 years old.

He is suffering from aplastic anemia, a condition resulting from failure of the bone marrow to manufacture new blood cells. However, recovery is possible. Harding has had five blood transfusions and will receive another today.

Harding has been in the restaurant business nearly 52 years. He popularized the corn beef sandwich. In addition to his restaurant interests—he runs 12 in Chicago—he is president of the Allerton hotel and a former president of the Washington Park race track.

MEMPHIS LEADS RETURN OF GOLDEN GLOVERS

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

HOLT RAST, former All-American end from Alabama who played with the College All-Stars in Soldiers' field last August, is Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's liaison officer in North Africa. . . . After young Mike McMillin of the Bloomington, Ind., Bo McMillins, had been baptized, the Rev. Thomas Kilfoil said to Mike's father: "He couldn't be yours. I didn't get a whimper out of him." . . . Charles Dunkley, Chicago AP sports editor, one of the city's busiest executives on a day and night basis, finds time to write three letters a day to fellows he knows in the army, navy, marines, and coast guard. . . . Coach Mike Carpenter, whose Culver military academy boxing teams have lost only two meets in six seasons, will have his 1943 squad at the Golden Gloves finals in Chicago Stadium tomorrow night. . . . Ted Williams' 1942 batting average was the same as his major league lifetime average. . . . Last year he made 186 hits in 522 times at bat. . . . In his major league service he has made 749 hits in 2,104 times at bat. . . . If you know how to divide, baseball style, you'll find the answer is .356 in each instance. . . . The demand for $3.30 tickets to this year's Golden Gloves finals is the heaviest in the 16 years the tournament has been operated. The thousands who were shut out because of late applications can see a show equally attractive if they apply now for tickets to the intercity bouts with New York, scheduled for the Stadium, March 31. . . . War bonds, totaling $688,275, not including the amount purchased by the players on a pay roll plan, were sold at New York Giants football games last fall. . . . The Bears sold $320,750. . . .

Johnny Gottselig, player-coach of the Chicago Blackhawks, upon applying for his birth certificate recently, learned that the town hall in the Russian settlement where he was born had been burned with all its records. . . . So he couldn't get the certificate when he decided to apply for United States citizenship. . . . He virtually had to have Joe Stalin fix him up. . . . Johnny now has an important looking scroll, but can't read a word of what it says. . . . Sid Mercer, master of ceremonies at the recent dinner of the New York baseball writers, was so excited about Eddie Rickenbacker, K. M. Landis, and Quentin Reynolds being on the dais that he plumb forgot to introduce Presidents Will Harridge, Ford Frick, and Gordon Cobbledick of the American and National leagues and the Baseball Writers' Association of America. . . . Ed [Buckets] Hirsch, captain elect of Northwestern's football team and third baseman on the nine, expects a call to active service with the army in the near future.

DU SABLE DEALS FENGER SENIORS 51 TO 42 DEFEAT

Two more undefeated teams, the Manley and Amundsen High seniors, advanced to the City league basketball playoff quarter-finals yesterday, but another, Fenger, winner of 10 straight games in the south section, was eliminated by Du Sable, fourth place team in the central division, 51 to 42, at Fenger. Jerry Hill scored 20 points for Du Sable and Ernie Neal of Fenger matched this total with three baskets and 14 free throws for one of the game's highlights.

The playoffs had 16 teams in each bracket and first round games were played Tuesday and yesterday. There will be no games today but the quarter-finals will begin tomorrow. The teams are contesting for City league championships and the right to oppose the Catholic league title holders March 27 in the Stadium. The senior champion also will qualify for the state tournament which opens March 18 in Champaign.

Manley Beats Hyde Park.

Manley, with eight consecutive central section victories, made Hyde Park its ninth straight league victim, 50 to 28, at Manley. Leo Furie made 17 points for the winners. Amundsen, undefeated in 10 north section games, dropped Austin out of the playoffs, 53 to 42, at Amundsen with Don Rayfeldt scoring 16 points and Jack Weyrich 14.

Dick Buchwald scored 20 points as Schurz defeated Crane, 48 to 36, on the latter's floor. Art Weber of Crane took scoring honors with 22 points. Lane Tech seniors, second place north team, beat Marshall, third in the west section, 33 to 20, and qualified as Kelvyn Park's opponent in the quarter-finals.

Both Hirsch Teams Are Out.

The Harrison juniors eliminated Hirsch from the playoffs, 30 to 26, on the Harrison floor. Lindblom had knocked the Hirsch senior team out of the playoffs the day before. Harrison came from behind after trailing, 14 to 11, at the half. South Shore qualified its junior team for the quarter-finals by defeating Phillips, 48 to 33. The South Shore seniors qualified for their division quarter-finals on Tuesday by defeating Gage Park. Lineups:

THEY'RE PROUD OF TIM

Hockey Fan's Card Tossing Trick Costs $25

The Chicago Blackhawks' management scored a goal yesterday in its new campaign against the bombing squadron among the upstairs clientele at Stadium games, and Mike Sonsiadek, 142 Honore avenue, Harvey, Ill., drew another kind of card.

Sonsiadek, who was arrested near the end of Sunday night's game against Boston after he had thrown a deck of cards on the ice, was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct by Judge Edward Luczak in Des Plaines Street court. Sonsiadek, a 22 year old machinist, had obtained a continuance Monday to bring in two witnesses. He testified that he had hurled the one deck in a burst of enthusiasm, but denied throwing other decks which showered the ice and rinkside fans earlier in the game.

Tells of Risk to Players.

Sonsiadek's attorney, John Yates, protested the size of the fine, but the state's attorney's office contended that $200 would be an appropriate penalty, since players risk serious injury from tripping on foreign objects.

William J. Tobin, president of the Blackhawks, appeared in court to prosecute. Tobin said that the throwing of missiles from the upper deck is dangerous to players and lower floor spectators alike. He cited the incident of Feb. 18, when Marcel Dheere, a young Montreal player who was making his first appearance in the United States, was struck by a roll of tape thrown from the top seats, necessitating seven stitches in his head.

The throwing also has slowed up games to such an extent that two visiting teams have missed their trains. Tobin said that ten uniformed policemen and five detectives will be assigned to the upper deck.

Wings Next for Hawks.

Manager Paul Thompson and his team worked out briefly yesterday, but will hold two heavy drills in the Arena today and tomorrow, preparatory to leaving for Detroit, where they meet the Wings Saturday, returning for a Stadium encore with the Detroit team Sunday. Earl Seibert, big defense man who suffered an instep injury last Saturday, is still taking diathermic treatments and may be available for Sunday's battle.

TODD AND FOXX HINT THEY ARE THRU WITH CUBS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Mr. James Gallagher, the Cubs' general manager, may be back in the market shortly for another catcher. To relieve a shortage back of the plate the Cubs recently purchased Al Todd from the Los Angeles farm club, but Gallagher revealed yesterday that the deal hasn't solved the problem. Todd is toying with the idea of sticking to his present job as personel director for a Chicago concern.

Confers with Todd.

Todd and Gallagher conferred yesterday, Todd pointing out that he was making good money, liked the work, and wasn't vitally concerned about being returned to the big league. Of course, it could be that the athlete was merely feeling out the Cubs' boss on how high he might go in the way of salary. Anyway, Gallagher is about to resume peeking at minor league rosters just in case Todd decides not to assist Clyde McCullough and Salvador Hernandez, the only other catchers owned by the Cubs.

The Cubs also may lose Jimmy Foxx, purchased from the Red Sox last season. The veteran first baseman declared yesterday in Boston that he had about made up his mind to retire, a threat that might have something to do with the contract submitted to him.

Lengthen Sox-Cubs Series.

Foxx conceded it probably was a good time in which to step out. He said he prefers to be remembered as the original Foxx, and another bad season such as he experienced in 1942 might cause the fans to forget that he ever was a headliner. Gallagher said the club would like to have him back.

The Cubs and White Sox now have decided to play four instead of three games in their annual spring series in Chicago. The battles will be on April 16, 17, 18, and 19, following their return from the joint training camp at French Lick, Ind.

Forest [Tot] Pressnell has been transferred from the Cubs roster to Charley Grimm's Milwaukee Brewers. The stocky right hand pitcher served two years in Chicago.

OTHER SQUADS DUE TODAY FOR TITLE BATTLES

24 Bouts on Stadium Card Tomorrow.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

[SKETCHES ON NEXT PAGE.]

The 32 fighters who remain unbeaten in the battle for Golden Gloves last night began to reassemble in Chicago for the last big smash toward championships — tomorrow night's semi-finals and finals in the Stadium. First arrivals were the Memphis Commercial-Appeal's two survivors, Joe Luciana and Harry Joyce. Luciana is a featherweight and Joyce a middleweight.

Early arrivals today are expected to be the Cleveland, Minneapolis, and Fort Worth delegations. The Minneapolis and Fort Worth squads include two former champions—Jackie Graves and Morris Corona. Other groups of fighters will come in tonight, and those from nearby centers such as Gary will arrive tomorrow morning in time for the weighing-in and physical examinations in the C. Y. O. center.

Fans Snap Up Tickets.

Only four fighters now survive in each weight class out of the thousands who began the quest for Golden Gloves in Chicago and 24 out of town centers. At the end of tomorrow night's bouts only one will be left in each weight class—and he'll be the champion.

Chicago's boxing fans, eager to be in at the finish of this spectacular campaign, have snapped up so many tickets that the $3.30, $1.65, and 55 cent sections have been sold out entirely. Other seats remain, however, at $2.20 and $1.10.

The field which goes into this concluding battle is still representative of the vast Golden Gloves territory despite the steady process of elimination which has been going on. Sixteen of the original 25 centers still have at least one boy in the fight. Cities which top the list with three representatives are Chicago, Cleveland, Fort Worth, and Minneapolis.

Chicagoans Keep Up Work.

Camp Grant, Cedar Rapids, Fort Wayne, Memphis, Milwaukee, Nashville, Oklahoma City, and Richmond each has two. The cities with only one are Gary, Kansas City, Omaha, and Terre Haute.

Chicago's three representatives have been keeping up their work at a speedy clip since coming thru quarter-final matches in last week's Tournament of Champions. Out at the Madison A. C. Pop Howard, veteran Golden Gloves conditioner, has been sending Tim Dalton, west side Irish boy, thru a program designed to keep his exceptional boxing skill up to its sharpest. Dalton is a lightweight.

Out on the south side, in the Savoy A. C. gymnasium, Walter Moore, Chicago's heavyweight representative has been tuning up those solid punches which beat three opponents last week. Reedy Evans, Chicago's light heavyweight survivor, has been busy at his steel pouring job in a war plant—but he has found time to do a daily trick with the gloves.

Other Honors in Store.

In addition to Golden Gloves championships there are other honors in store for the boys who acquit themselves brilliantly tomorrow night. Immediately after the bouts the officials will choose the team which will oppose New York in the Intercity matches in the Stadium on March 31.

Tomorrow night's program will consist of 24 bouts—16 semi-finals and 8 finals.

Ross-Pian-Winch Triumvirate Is Formed and Barney Starts to Climb as Pro

[This is the fourth of a series of articles on the boxing and marine career of Corp. Barney Ross, former world's lightweight, junior welterweight, and welterweight champion, and one of the heroes of Guadalcanal.]

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

THE turning point in Corp. Barney Ross' professional career occurred, fittingly enough, near the same neighborhood where he had gotten his start in amateur boxing. It happened on the night of Aug. 26, 1932, in Sparta stadium, where he won a 10 round decision over another old west side boy, the talented Ray Miller.

But in the period between Barney's triumphs in the Golden Gloves tournament of 1929 and that summer bout in the Sparta ring, at 26th street and Kostner avenue, several things had come to pass. In the course of training for the Golden Gloves bouts, Barney had become acquainted with a number of tournament officials, men who donated their services thru their friendship with the late Walter Eckersall, director of the tournament.

Barney's Brother Brings About Switch in His Managers.

This group included Sam Pian, Art Winch, Mickey Farr, Jim Mullen, Sol Katz, and John McMahon. Pian and Winch were associated in the management of several fighters, and were interested in Ross when he decided in that same year to turn pro. But Barney's idol of those days was still another west sider—Jackie Fields, who won the world's welterweight title only three days before Barney captured his Golden Glove in New York. Fields was managed by Gig Rooney, and Ross decided to join up with him.

For one reason and another, the arrangement didn't quite work out. Rooney naturally was concentrating on Fields, with the result that he more or less neglected the career of the newcomer. So Ben Rasofsky, Barney's older brother, called him back from the Pacific coast, where he had won seven of eight fights, and turned him over to Pian and Winch.

Thus was formed one of the most unusual threesomes in sports. Pian, one of the most popular managers in the game, arranged the matches. Winch, long recognized as one of the ablest trainers in boxing, handled the conditioning angle. And the black-haired kid from the Old Valley, now grown into a full fledged lightweight, attended to the fighting. How well the three worked together is shown by the fact that they never had a serious dispute thru the nine years of their association.

Big Purses Slow to Materialize and Youngster Neglects Work.

There were problems aplenty at first, and generally they were those of Pian and Winch, with Barney providing the problem angle. Barney not only was young, but he had spells of dissatisfaction with the way his path in the pro game was running. He had had visions of large purses, the sort with which he could make his mother and sister and younger brothers financially independent.

Pian and Winch had other ideas, however. They didn't want to rush their charge, and were content to get him preliminary fights. As a result, Barney frequently wandered off of the training routine, and his managers were forced to apply a bit of discipline. One form of this consisted of sending three, four, and sometimes five sparring partners against him in gymnasium drills. It was this rigorous method of work which finally made Ross one of the most determined training boxers who ever lived.

The spring of 1932 saw two important developments in the champ's boxing life. Pian was in the far west, and Winch was in charge of a middle western junket of their fighters. A bout with Nick Ellenwood was scheduled for one of them in Muncie, Ind., but he insisted on more training. Winch had to act quickly, and chose Ross as a substitute. Barney won the decision, but collected only $58 as his share of the small receipts. Two weeks later, the same situation developed in an Indianapolis bout. Barney's opponent was Frankie Hughes, a tough, smart southpaw. Ross never before had encountered a left hander, but the manner in which he floored Hughes six times convinced Winch that he was ready. Barney demanded that Winch wire Pian for a bout with a chance at a larger purse than the $138 he collected for winning from Hughes.

Baseball Injury Robs Him of Chance to Box Kid Chocolate.

Winch forthwith wired Pian, suggesting that Sam try to book a match with the great Kid Chocolate. Before that could be arranged, however, Barney took an evening off with some pals to play softball in Grant park. The result was that a flying bat struck Ross over the eyes, requiring nine stitches. That ended any prospect of a bout with Chocolate, but it brought Pian back. Sam told the boy that if he would buckle down to a faithful training regime, he would get him a shot at a big one. Buckle down Barney did, and Pian arranged the fight with Miller, who had fought such stars as Jim McLarnin, Billy Petrolle, Tommy Grogan, Mike Dundee, King Tut, Joe Glick, and Bruce Flowers.

But Ray hadn't fought his younger fellow alumnus from the Edmills Health club. In a terrific battle during which Ross showed the work of Pian and Winch in changing him from a strict counter-puncher to a boxer who knew when to lead, Barney won decisively. And he and his managers took away a total purse of $2,000. Barney was on his way up.

Gee Walker Tells Reds to Boost Offer

Orlando, Fla., March 3 (AP).—Gerald [Gee] Walker of the Cincinnati Reds today said he had received his 1943 playing contract and sent it back unsigned, adding that unless the Reds made him a better proposition he had no intention of reporting for spring training March 15 at Indiana university.

McGEE TO STAY ON FARM.

New York, March 3 (AP).—William [Fiddler] McGee, veteran right hand pitcher, today notified the New York Giants he will be unable to play baseball this year due to the necessity of working his farm at Hardin, Ill. In a letter to Secretary Eddie Brannick, McGee, who is married but has no children, said he had been classified in 3-C, but if he ceased to run his farm that he would be reclassified in 1-A. He also added that all of his farm help had been inducted. McGee is the 14th member of the Giants lost thus far.

BARNEY ROSS TO MISS FINALS OF GOLDEN GLOVES

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3 (AP).—Corp. Barney Ross, a marine hero of Guadalcanal, said today he had been forced by press of business and the need for a little rest to delay his return home to Chicago.

Ross had intended to start east today, but it looks now as if it will be early next week before he goes. He had been scheduled to present the Barney Ross sportsmanship trophy to Louis Seprodi, Terre Haute welterweight, at the Golden Gloves finals Friday night in Chicago.

NEW TRIER WINS; MAINE UPSETS ANTIOCH, 31-29

Winnetka Five Crushes Warren, 43-14.

New Trier advanced into the Waukegan regional semi-finals by overwhelming Warren, 43 to 14, in Waukegan. New Trier led, 16 to 6, at the half and substitutes played nearly the entire second half. Kent White was high scorer with 12 points.

Maine Township of Des Plaines upset Antioch, the second seeded favorite, 31 to 29, on Rudy Paynich's two field goals in the last minutes of play. Paynich was the West Suburban league scoring champion for 1943. The teams were tied, 12 to 12, at the half.

Tonight Niles Township of Skokie meets Libertyville and New Trier plays Maine.

DUNDEE ROUTS McHENRY.

Dundee won its 16th victory of the season by defeating McHenry, 58 to 27, in the third game of the opening round in the Elgin Regional basketball tournament last night. The Little Seven conference leaders held a 26 to 10 margin at half time and were never in trouble.

Hebron swamped Crystal Lake, 66 to 20, to enter the semi-final round. Hebron led, 35 to 10, at the half. Howie Judson scored 23 points for the winners. Hebron draws Dundee as its semi-final opponent and Elgin plays Woodstock tonight.

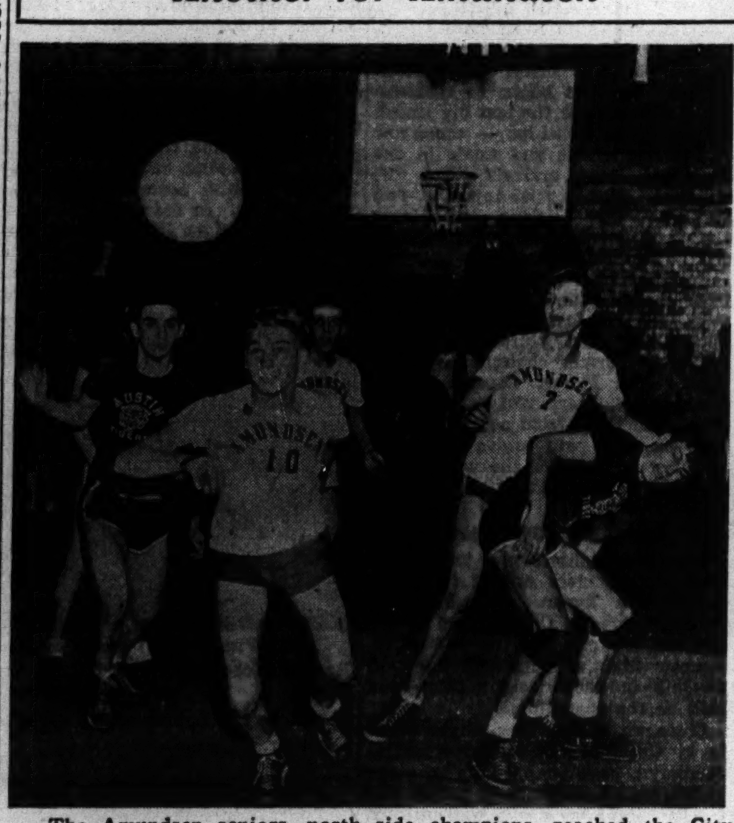
Another for Amundsen



The Amundsen seniors, north side champions, reached the City league basketball quarter-finals by defeating Austin of the west side, 53 to 42, at Amundsen yesterday. Carl Petersen (10) of Amundsen is shown racing for a loose ball with Dave Messro of Austin and Jack Weyrich, Amundsen, behind him. Don Rayfeldt (7), Amundsen center, is blocked out. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

3,335 Series Is Rolled by Budweisers

The Budweisers used last night's session of the Classic Bowling league to prepare for the resumption of their match with the world champion Strohs in Detroit, rolling a brilliant 3,335 series. They had games of 1,117, 1,096, and 1,122 against Schlitz, winning two games and losing the second by a margin of three pins.

The league leading Joseph L. Gills took three games from Meister Brau and increased their margin to four games. The Monarch Beers took the runner-up spot by winning three from Thompson's Restaurants. Buddy Bomar of the Monarchs had a 728 series. Summary of the Budweiser-Schlitz match:

FOUR RECORDS THREATENED IN BIG TEN TRACK

Marks in 440, Half Mile, Both Jumps May Fall.

Four Western conference indoor records may be broken in the 33d annual Big Ten track meet in the University of Chicago fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon and Saturday night in which some 200 athletes will compete. The four records threatened are in the broad jump, the high jump, the half mile, and the quarter mile, with the 440 expected to be the outstanding event of the meet.

The broad jump mark, youngest in the meet, already has been bettered this season in dual meet competition by Herb Matter of Illinois.

Bob Hodgell, Wisconsin high jumper, leaped 6 feet 6¼ inch last week—which is an ¼ of an inch below the conference record, set by Dave Albritton of Ohio State in 1938.

Bob Ufer of Michigan, who set a record of :48.1 in the 440 last year, will be out to crack his own mark.

The fourth record which may be seriously challenged is the oldest of Big Ten marks, the half mile record of 1:53.9 set by Charlie Hornbostel of Indiana in 1933. Minnesota's Ralph Pohland ran a 1:53.6 race at Madison three weeks ago.

Of the 12 conference marks, those in the high and low hurdles, the 440, and the broad jump are a year old. Another, the two mile, is 5 years old, set by Michigan's Ralph Schwarzkopf in 1940; three are 4 years old, and two are 5.

NAVY PIER RING TEAM WILL SEEK TITLE TONIGHT

Navy pier boxers will receive an opportunity to win the Service Men's Amateur league championship when they meet Glenview air station in Glenview tonight. The match will end league competition for this season.

Camp Grant finished its schedule recently by scoring a victory over Fort Custer. The soldiers from Rockford have a record of seven triumphs and four draw decisions against one defeat. The victory placed them in a tie for first place with the pier.

Logan, Trickey Added to Most Valuable List

John Logan of Indiana and Ben Trickey of Iowa, both senior forwards, were picked by their teammates yesterday as the most valuable players on their squads during the basketball season and join Andy Phillip of Illinois and Floyd Lawson of Purdue, named Tuesday, on the list of candidates for the W-G-N most valuable player trophy.

Trickey, who was co-captain of the Hawkeyes, rates his bid for the award made annually to the Western conference representatives by virtue of scoring 162 points in Big Ten play and ranks fourth among the conference scorers for the year. Logan finished 11th with 117 points.

Name Gibert Captain of Michigan Quintet

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 3 [Special].—Ralph W. Gibert, junior forward from Flint, Mich., today was elected captain of Michigan's 1943-'44 basketball team. Gibert was a star at Flint Northern High for three years during which time his team twice won the state championship. He has enlisted in the Navy's V-1 program and is enrolled in the university's engineering college.

The Who's Who of the 1943 Golden Gloves Finals

Following are sketches and Tournament of Champions records of boxers in the lighter weights who will meet tomorrow night in the Chicagoland Golden Gloves semi-finals and finals in the Stadium.

112 POUND CLASS.

Joe Martinez, flyweight champion of the Omaha, Neb., team, works in a meat packing plant. This 17 year old lad, who is of Mexican ancestry, has had about two years of boxing experience. He also plays football. His brother, Paul, represented Omaha in the 1941 and 1942 tournaments. He showed a powerful punch in the Tournament of Champions, knocking out the Richmond and Fort Wayne representatives. Neither opponent was able to finish the first round, one bout lasting 52 seconds and the other 28 seconds.

José Andreas is representing Fort Worth for the third time, having won the flyweight title of that section in 1940 and 1942. He is 20 years old and is employed as a laborer for a chemical construction company. José was born in Rosebud, Tex., of Mexican parents. He has had three years of amateur boxing experience and has played basketball and baseball. In reaching the semi-finals he beat Chicago's George Adams and Major Jones of Kansas City.

Matt Hammond, an all-around athlete, is the flyweight champion of Minneapolis' team. This colored boy, who was born in Cairo, Ill., has been boxing for three years and also has played football, basketball, and baseball. He is 20 years old and is employed as a greaser in a Minneapolis factory. He won two fights by decision in the Tournament of Champions, beating the Gary and Milwaukee representatives.

Barry Darby, a private in the 18th Field artillery in Fort Sill, is the flyweight representative of the Oklahoma City squad. He is 20 years old and is of Irish ancestry. He was born in Marshall, Okla., but his home is now in Yakima, Wash. In the first round of the Tournament of Champions he scored a knockout victory over the Memphis representative and subsequently beat boys from St. Louis and Camp Grant. The latter was Al Noto, Golden Gloves veteran from Chicago, who now is in the army.

118 POUND CLASS.

Ike La Soya represents Cedar Rapids, Ia. He is 23 years old, having been born in Roswell, N. M. He is of Spanish ancestry. He is employed as a machine operator in a battery manufacturing plant. In the Tournament of Champions he won a decision over the Columbus boy and then knocked out Pat Sheehy of Minneapolis. He has been boxing two years. His home is in Dubuque, Ia.

Gene Roberts is a private in the 27th battalion of the medical corps at Camp Grant. His home is in Danville, Ill., where he was born 21 years ago. In the course of four years of boxing he has won the flyweight and bantamweight titles in the Danville Golden Gloves tournament. Last week in the Stadium he knocked out the Grand Rapids representative and took decisions over the Fort Worth and Sioux City boys.

Vergil Zakhi is a Fort Wayne boy of Rumanian descent. Tho he has had very little experience as a boxer, he has shown remarkable skill in his first big tournament, winning his two bouts last week on a decision and a technical knockout. He is 16 years old and is employed as an apprentice meat cutter by a packing company.

Earl O'Neal is a private in the 18th field artillery at Fort Sill, which puts him right at home. He was born in Oklahoma City 19 years ago. Before entering the army he won the state A. A. U. championship at 112 pounds in 1941 and 1942. Twice he has won titles in the Oklahoma City Golden Gloves tournament. His brother also has won amateur boxing honors several years ago. He defeated Memphis and Nashville boxers last week.

126 POUND CLASS.

Jack Graves, a star of the Minneapolis team, was the 118 pound Golden Gloves champion of 1942 and he went on to whip his New York opponent in the intercity matches. Jack's home is in Austin, Minn., where he's employed in the experimental laboratory of a packing plant. In reaching the semi-finals he defeated the Fort Wayne and Fort Worth champions.

Arthur Edmerson, who lives in Cincinnati, won the sectional featherweight title in the Richmond, Ind., tournament. This is his second year of amateur boxing. He advanced thru last week's bouts with a knockout victory over the Port Huron representative and decisions over the Sioux City and Nashville boxers.

Tony Janiro, who lives in Youngstown, O., is one of the mainstays of the Cleveland team. He was born in Springdale, Pa., 16 years ago. Tony, a freshman in high school, is a football player as well as a boxer. His older brother, Frank, won the Youngstown tournament five years ago as a welterweight. Tony numbered Chicago's Bertrand White among his victims in last week's fighting. He also whipped the Milwaukee and Camp Grant champions.

Joe Luciana comes to the Golden Gloves tournament from New York by way of the naval aviation ordnance school at Memphis. He won the featherweight championship of the Memphis squad. He has competed in football, baseball, and basketball, and hopes to become a physical education instructor. He's 20 years old. His victims last week were the Milwaukee, Cedar Rapids, and Camp Grant featherweights.

135 POUND CLASS.

Hubert Gray is a gymnasium instructor in a boys club in Wichita Falls, Tex. He's the lightweight representative of the Forth Worth team. Hubert, who is 18 years old, has been boxing for three years. He's also a capable basketball player, having been a member of a district championship quintet. In last week's bouts he scored impressive victories over Nashville, St. Louis, and Cedar Rapids boys.

Tim Dalton is one of the three representatives whom Chicago has left in the fight for Golden Gloves. He was born and raised on the west side. He now lives at 2817 West Cullerton street. He is employed as a packer in an industrial finishing plant. He was the city novice Golden Gloves champion last season. In the Tournament of Champions last week he whipped Milwaukee, Gary, and Camp Grant representatives, the last being a particularly hard fight.

Chuck Hunter, Cleveland's rugged lightweight contender, is a strong, experienced fighter who has come up all the way from the bantamweight to the lightweight class in the last year. His bid for a championship last season was checked by Jackie Graves, who went on to take the title. Chuck was born in Atlanta, Ga. He competes in basketball, baseball, and football. He attends school in Cleveland. Last week he knocked out Dick Haley of Columbus in the first round.

Levi Southall is a tall, rangy fighter from Kansas City. He is 19 years old and now works in a war plant, following completion of high school. Levi moves fast and is hard to hit because of his height and reach. In the Tournament of Champions he beat the Memphis representative and then scored a technical knockout over Richmond's lightweight.

OPEN TRIAL OF 10 CICERO SCHOOL OFFICIALS TODAY

Nine Women on Jury to Hear Fraud Case.

Testimony offered in proof that a conspiracy of nine former members of Cicero school district No. 99, the district school superintendent, and a school supplies dealer defrauded the district of $7,092 will start today in the Criminal court. After more than a hundred veniremen were examined, a jury of nine women and three men was chosen yesterday before Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

In his opening statement to the jury C. Vernon Thompson, assistant state's attorney, asserted he would present evidence that the supplies dealer, Henry H. Kroll, former office manager of the Crown Supply company, organized a dummy firm to sell supplies to the board after Frank J. Petru, president of the board, refused to sign checks for the Crown company.

Says President Was Overruled.

Thompson declared that overcharges on equipment were approved, over the protest of Petru, by the nine former members when they were serving on the board's finance and supplies committee in July, 1941. Petru is expected to take the stand as a state's witness to prove irregularities.

Former board members on trial are Frederick Weil, Michael Solar, Joseph Kovarite, Frank Jindrich, Edward Hruby, Edward Cepak, Frank Novak, Joseph Idjlaszek, and Donald O'Brien. Another defendant in addition to Kroll is George Schwebel, district school superintendent.

Thompson said the testimony would show that Petru refused to sign orders in favor of a firm known as Farber & Co. until he was reassured by the superintendent that "everything is all right."

Recalls Dealer's Statement.

The firm was said to have been formed by Kroll and Louis H. Farber of Jasper, Ind., a dealer in office equipment, who pleaded that he acted as a "straw man" and lent his name to Kroll for supplies' selling purposes for $175.

Thompson said the evidence also would show that Kroll billed the board for $9,825 for 500 obsolete school desks which he had purchased for $4,687. He said the board also approved the payment of $579 for six manual training benches listed at $285 and paid $7.85 each for a quantity of folding chairs listed at $2.85.

BAN FT. SHERIDAN CIVILIAN PAPER; CAMP PLANS ONE

Suspension of the Fort Sheridan Tower, a weekly camp newspaper published for the benefit of soldiers at Fort Sheridan, was announced yesterday in conformity with a new regulation from the war department prohibiting the civilian sponsorship of a camp publication and the use of advertising of any kind.

Publication of the Tower, inaugurated last July, was sponsored by a group of north shore business men, including William R. Carney of Lake Forest, president, and Kellogg M. Patterson of Highland Park, executive vice president. The paper was published Fridays and distributed free. Its cost was supported by advertising. All profits were to go to camp educational and recreational funds. With the suspension, Carney has turned over $1,000, as initial payment, to Col. F. C. Rogers, post commandant.

With civilian sponsorship ended, Fort Sheridan personnel will publish an experimental camp paper tomorrow, half the size of the Tower, and without advertising. It will be nameless. If the soldiers like it, it will be continued as a weekly, with a name to be selected, at a cost of 3 cents per copy.

ABATING OF HALF 1942 TAXES SEEN AS COMPROMISE

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—The Canadian plan to forgo 50 per cent of 1942 taxes on earned personal income was viewed as a possible pay as you go compromise for the United States today by some leading opponents of the Ruml plan to abate all of one year's taxes.

The joint congressional tax staff requested Ottawa to furnish Washington with more details on its plan immediately.

Chairman Robert Doughton [D., N. C.] of the tax framing house ways and means committee pointed out that Canada's action was similar to a suggestion he already has made to break the deadlock on the question of how much taxes should be abated to ease the transition to pay as you go.

However, Rep. Frank Carlson [R., Kas.], author of legislation proposed by Beardsley Ruml, New York banker, to bypass a full tax year, said he could accept no plan that required the collection of more than one year's taxes within one year, in the swapover to a current collection system.

FORMER HUSBAND SET UP A TRUST FOR CLARE LUCE

New York, March 3 (AP).—George T. Brokaw, who died in 1935, established a trust fund of $425,000 for his former wife, now United States Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, it was revealed today in a Surrogate's court proceeding.

A decision by Surrogate James A. Foley disclosed that the trust fund was set up in 1929 pursuant to a separation agreement under which Brokaw agreed to pay his then-wife for "support of herself and their child."

The agreement was to the effect that the wife was to receive $2,500 monthly, or the income from the trust fund. Brokaw paid $2,500 a month for several months in 1929, until he created the trust fund.

The facts were disclosed when Foley denied an application of the executors of Brokaw's will for an order compelling the fund's trustees to pay a proportionate of $164,070.98, representing state and federal taxes. Foley held that the trust fund was not liable for any part of the taxes.

Firemen Find Taxi Driver Dead and Motor Racing

Firemen responding to an alarm for a Yellow taxicab in front of 42 North Parkside avenue yesterday found Abraham Kelfrey, 62 years old, the driver, dead, presumably of a heart attack. He died with his foot pressed down on the accelerator. The racing motor caused the radiator fluid to boil, but there was no fire. Kelfrey lived at 4714 Clarendon avenue.

MEET, WOO, WED IN THE HOSPITAL; BRIDE IS IN CAST

A romance that began in County hospital more than a year ago reached its climax there yesterday in the wedding of Mrs. Phyllis Begun, 32 years old, and James Abbott, 40, a chauffeur, in ward 66. Mrs. Begun, whose wedding gown was the hospital nightshirt, was in a body cast as the result of an automobile accident several years ago. The bridegroom had been a patient in the hospital at the time of their meeting. The wedding was performed by Municipal Judge Oscar Caplan. Mrs. Abbott expects to remain in the hospital several months.

PRICE RISE PUTS MEAT PACKERS IN TIGHTER VISE

Face Crisis as Live Costs Increase.

Soaring costs of all classes of meat animals, which broke recent high records this week, emphasize the crisis faced by packers trying to operate without violating restriction and price laws of the office of price administration, spokesmen for the industry said yesterday. The "squeeze" of packers between live costs and returns from meat, based on yesterday's operations, was the "most drastic" so far, it was said.

Many attributed the new price advances to recent "leaks" in Washington that the government has no immediate intention of placing ceiling prices on live animals. The resulting "situation" demanding attention of the OPA, they said, was of the OPA's own making. Farmers, more confident of higher prices, caused an acute scarcity by holding back supplies.

Wide Increase in Week.

In the last six days hog prices in the stockyards have advanced 50 to 60 cents a hundred pounds. Gains at other markets ranged from 10 to 75 cents. The first $16 hogs sold legitimately on midwest markets appeared in several small markets south of Chicago. Indianapolis reported sales at $16.10 and Buffalo at $16.60. Top grades which sold at $15.40 in Chicago last Thursday brought $15.90 yesterday, the highest since October, 1920. The average, 15 cents higher at $15.75, was highest since September, 1920, and 15 cents above the previous high this winter.

Farmers shipped only 20,000 hogs to the yards. The three day total of 58,400 compared with 65,595 a week ago and 62,612 a year ago. Twenty large markets this week received 272,000 hogs, a decline of 54,000, or 16 per cent below a week ago. The three day total of these markets was 595,000 cattle, hogs, and sheep, a decline of 94,000 from a week ago.

Cattle at New Highs.

Advances of 15 to 25 cents in most classes of cattle brought the general level of prices to the highest since September, 1928, and to the highest March levels since 1919. Buyers paid $17.40 for best steers, the highest for March since 1919. Most steers and yearlings sold from $14.75 to $16.75. All classes of heifers, beef cows, canners, cutters, and bulls shared in the 15 to 25 cents rise. Calves were steady to strong. Cattle supplies at 9,000 were second smallest for a Wednesday since December, and the three day total, at 30,700, the second lowest since last July.

The light supply of sheep and lambs met active demand at firm prices, with top loads of lambs at $16.50. The bulk brought $15.75 to $16.50. Offerings this week of 22,900 were third smallest since last July.

GRAIN FUTURES CLIMB, SOME TO NEW HIGH LEVEL

Grain prices moved upward yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with July wheat and May oats at new seasonal highs. No. 1 white oats sold at 65 cents a bushel, highest since 1928, and compared with a low of 15¼ cents in 1932.

Buying of wheat futures by mills, less aggressive than earlier in the week, pushed wheat prices ⅝ cent higher at one time. The advance was checked by profit taking and some hedging pressure, and the close was ⅛ to ½ cent higher.

Some trading in May corn was reported by cash handlers, holders of futures exchanging the latter for cash grain, but there were no round lot sales. Prospects of a late start in navigation on the Great Lakes this year helped on the advance in oats futures with the close ¼ to ½ cent higher. Rye closed ⅝ to 1 cent higher.

Egg Prices Rise on Report Government Will Raise Bid

March egg futures closed 0.15 cent a dozen higher at 39.15 cents, and the October delivery advanced 0.10 cent to 42 cents on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. A firm cash market and reports of possible adjustment in government buying prices stimulated demand. March fresh graded futures rose 0.05 cent to 37.55 cents bid. March potatoes were inactive at their ceiling.

3 CAMELS AND DONKEY CAUSE BIT OF UNREST IN THE STOCKYARDS

Stockyards people believed for a moment yesterday that perhaps camel and donkey steaks were to be added to the American diet when they saw three camels and a donkey clamber down from a big truck.

Investigation soon disclosed that the animals had just stopped off in the yards to be fed and were on a long trip from New York to the Black Hills of South Dakota, probably for show engagements.

Men in charge explained that the animal visitors were a trained group and no camel or donkey meat was in the offing.

Lend-Leasers Buy Up More Scarce Foods

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Concurrent with its report today that it had purchased 175 million dollars worth of foodstuffs and other lend-lease materials in January, the department of agriculture revealed it had bought in the last few days $75,000 worth of coffee, $4,320,000 worth of granulated sugar, and 207,200 pounds of tobacco for its world-wide relief programs.

The 175 million January purchases compared with 152 million in December. The department said the increase was largely in grain products, dried eggs and cotton.

It bought a record 23 million pounds of "tushonka," a favorite spiced pork product of the Russian army. Aggregate meat purchases in January, however, dropped 30 per cent from December to $60,700,000.

Flour purchases accounted for a volume "twice as large as the annual flour exports of Europe in prewar years," the announcement said. They included 1,163,000 barrels for the Russian army.

January purchases included $18,134,072 of dairy products, $60,717,141 of meat, $4,301,909 of fish, $11,460,737 of eggs, $11,351,464 of fruit, $5,672,470 of vegetables, $16,342,354 of grain and cereal, $11,397,549 of miscellaneous foods, and $27,168,924 of products ranging from tobacco and cotton to matches and toilet tissues.

SALES OF MORE WHEAT FOR FEED GIVEN APPROVAL

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Legislation authorizing the commodity Credit corporation to sell an additional 100 million bushels of wheat for live stock feed was approved today by the house agriculture committee.

The committee amended the measure to provide that sales must be made at corn parity prices. In previous legislation authorizing the sale of 125 million bushels of wheat, the price was set at 85 per cent of corn parity.

Also sent to the house floor by the committee was a senate bill directing that farm benefit payments should not be included in calculating parity prices for farm products.

POST-WAR MONEY CONFERENCES OF ALLIES REVEALED

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—Important conferences on post-war currency and other financial problems "of common interest" are proceeding in London, a treasury announcement said today.

The statement said one conference has "just been held." It was attended by finance ministers of allied countries with headquarters in London and representatives of the United States, Russia, China, the British dominions, and the Free French.

OPA Seeking Potato Ceiling Price Evasion

The office of price administration announced yesterday that it was investigating reports that intermediate potato distributors in the Chicago market, largest in the country, have been illegally charging retailers a 21 per cent markup without making delivery. Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area OPA director, said the 21 per cent markup is permitted only when the distributor delivers the potatoes to the retailer, whereas a 9½ per cent markup is specified for cash and carry sales.

He said that the reports of price ceiling violations have followed a growing scarcity of potatoes in this market and that his office is particularly determined to enforce regulations so that the shortage cannot be used as an excuse to raise prices.

Investigate Mislabeling Reports.

Other reported illegalities which the OPA staff is investigating involve the labeling of table potatoes as seed potatoes, on which there is no ceiling, and violation of grading rules.

Mulcahy said a fruit and vegetable price specialist who has had experience in the potato trade will be appointed soon.

Chicago potato dealers said there has been no change in the market situation during the last few days, with the normal distribution system disrupted by price regulations and supplies far short of a year ago. The dealers assert ceilings and other regulations have "frozen out" certain distributing groups and have resulted in illegal activities that are diverting supplies from established channels.

Predict Temporary Shortages.

Other factors in the situation were said to be the army requisitioning of Idaho potatoes, a scarcity of transportation, and heavy demand and movement of seed potatoes. Current supplies are believed to be adaquate, but dealers warned that before the arrival of the new Florida crop about the first of May, shortages and uneven distribution in this area are in prospect. The recent Florida freeze reduced crops and will delay harvesting.

A similar situation was reported in the New York market, with wholesalers said to be considering informal rationing. Potato receipts in Chicago yesterday totaled 64 cars, compared with 97 cars a year ago, while 104 cars were on track, against 359 on the same date in 1942.

PLAN 'VICTORY' PARTS TO KEEP RADIOS IN TRIM

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—Manufacturers have started to schedule production on a new line of "victory" parts for radio sets which the WPB said will enable householders to keep their radios in repair regardless of make and age.

It was disclosed simultaneously that WPB is considering resumption of the output of radio tubes, which has been virtually suspended since last June. The number of types of tubes would be reduced from 700 to 114, WPB said, and the latter figure would include enough types to substitute for virtually all those now in use.

The victory line of replacement parts for radios will also contain much fewer varieties than the peace time output of the industry. For example, 350 types of condensers have been reduced to nine.

GYPSUM OWNERS TOLD PROSPECTS DEPEND ON WAR

War time conditions will determine the course of United States Gypsum company earnings this year, Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board, told stockholders at their annual meeting yesterday. He said last year's earnings—equal to $4.27 a common share compared with $5.42 in 1941—were "very satisfactory" in view of severe governmental restrictions on civilian building operations.

About 80 per cent of the building materials moving from the company's plants are going into war buildings or other essential war construction, he said.

Officers and directors were reelected, and the board declared regular quarterly dividends of 50 cents on common stock and $1.75 on preferred.

Study of Ways to Save Small Firms Voted

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—Small business rapidly is being liquidated, Rep. Frederick A. Virkus [R., La Grange] warned the Illinois house today in supporting a resolution to create a legislative committee which would study the causes and remedies for the high mortality rate among the little concerns.

The resolution was adopted after Virkus spoke, delivering his maiden speech in the house. The measure now goes to the senate for concurrence.

Virkus is head of the state Small Businessmen's association and vice president of the national group. He was Republican nominee for congressman at large in 1938.

Warns of Calamity.

"To you representatives of the people I say, act at once to avert calamity," Virkus said.

He estimated that small business mortality in 1942 for Illinois alone totaled 18,000 companies, and predicted it would reach 30,000 for 1943.

The resolution which Virkus sponsored with Representatives George S. Brydia [R., Prophetstown] and William Vicars [D., Pontiac] asserted that about one-third of the nation's small business concerns are doomed.

The resolution calls for a committee of 10 legislators to develop a program of help. Public hearings and consultation with federal agencies would be held.

Deficiency appropriation bills to provide $6,800,000 for old age assistance and $900,000 for the aid to dependent children program completed their legislative journey in the senate.

Seek Spending Control.

The house received five bills sponsored by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois to give tax payers greater control over spending by local governments.

Exempted from the provisions, because they are covered by other statutes, are Chicago and five other major governments in Cook county. Cicero and other Chicago suburbs would be affected.

The bills provide for annual or biennial audits by licensed or certified public accountants.

Budgets would be required to show expenditures for the preceding two years, and tax payers would be given the right to enjoin any expenditure made outside of the budgets.

RAILROAD LABOR PRESENTS BASIS OF WAGE CLAIMS

Representatives of railroad labor yesterday presented arguments and statistics before two Presidential fact finding commissions in the United States courthouse to support demands it is making on the railroads. B. M. Jewell, chairman for the 15 nonoperating unions, accompanied by statisticians argued for a wage increase of 20 cents an hour, with a minimum of 70 cents, before a panel headed by I. L. Sharfman.

David Robertson, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, testified before the panel headed by Frank L. Swacker on the firemen's requests with respect to Diesel-electric locomotive operation.

George Cucich, research director of the railway employés department of the American Federation of Labor, declared that 60,000 railway workers were receiving less than 36 cents an hour in 1941 when a legal minimum wage of that amount was put into effect, and that more than that number now are paid only 46 cents an hour.

DEMURRAGE RATE ON FLAT CARS IS INCREASED BY ICC

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—The interstate commerce commission issued orders today increasing demurrage charges on flat cars and reducing the free time for unloading fresh fruits and vegetables from refrigerator cars.

The commission said the orders, effective March 10, were issued to "prevent shortage of railroad equipment and congestion of traffic."

The demurrage charges under the commission's emergency ruling were fixed at $2.20 per car for the first two days, $5.50 for the third day, and $11 to $15 for each succeeding day. Free time for unloading refrigerator cars carrying fresh fruits or vegetables was fixed at a maximum of 48 hours.

Paepcke Paid $112,910 Last Year by Container Corp.

Container Corporation of America paid its officers and directors a total of $452,937 during 1942, $35,533 less than in 1941, the annual proxy statement showed yesterday. Walter P. Paepcke, president, was the highest paid officer at $112,910, and the largest stockholder among the group, owning 6,687 shares. The management sought proxies for the reëlection of directors at the annual meeting on April 5.

TWA'S 1942 NET PROFIT PASSES THREE MILLIONS

Crane Company Has Earnings Gain.

Net income of $3,220,415 for 1942 in contrast with a net loss of $487,613 in 1941 was reported yesterday by Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc. Jack Frye, president, said the profit included operating earnings of $2,176,035, after taxes and other expenses, and $1,044,380 realized from the sale of planes, engines and accessory equipment. The tax bill totaled $2,167,194, an increase of $1,918,977 over 1941 taxes.

Extraordinary traffic demands imposed by the war lifted total operating revenues to $16,044,632, an all-time high and 14 per cent above the preceding year. Of the total, passenger traffic contributed 67 per cent, mail 22 per cent, and express 8 per cent.

Government Fees Small.

Fees earned under various government contracts amounted to "only a small portion of the net income," Frye said.

The military and economic future of the United States depends heavily upon solution of the manifold post-war problems of the aviation industry, Frye said in the annual report.

"As to the immediate outlook," he said, "commercial air transport operations will be on approximately the same scale as during the latter part of 1942, unless additional equipment is released to the air lines. Because of lowered rates, mail revenue will probably decrease despite increases in volume of mail carried.

Crane Earnings Rise.

Profits of the Crane company, Chicago manufacturer of valves, fittings, and plumbing and heating equipment, increased in 1942, the company announced.

Net income of the company and its United States subsidiaries was $4,824,602, equal to $1.64 a common share, compared with $3,727,818, or $1.18 a share, the preceding year. The 1942 total was after taxes and reserve for contingencies, the latter amounting to 4½ million dollars.

The company provided $2,542,673 for federal income taxes, against $4,425,533 in 1941. Excess profits taxes were $20,489,260, after credits for debt retirement amounting to $600,000 and post-war refund of $1,676,570, compared with $8,162,891 the preceding year.

Bliss & Laughlin, Inc., steel company, with plants in Harvey, Ill., and Buffalo, N. Y., announced net income was $603,094 in the year ended Dec. 31, compared with $909,727 in 1941.

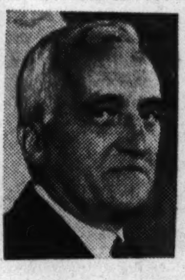
Stuart Offers to Beat Morgan Firm's Price for Erie Bonds

Washington, D. C., March 3 (AP).—A veteran investment banker threw an Erie railroad refinance hearing into confusion today when he offered to underwrite a deal already negotiated.



H. L. Stuart.

The offer was made before an interstate commerce commission examiner by H. L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., of Chicago. Stuart declared he would have bid 99 on 14 million dollars of Erie bonds which the Erie on Feb. 3 contracted to sell to Morgan Stanley & Co., New York, at 96.

Offers Two Alternatives.

The Chicago man offered, in behalf of Halsey, Stuart and Otis & Co. of Cleveland, to underwrite for 10 days the Erie purchase of its notes from the Reconstruction Finance corporation at cost to Erie, the notes to be made into merchantable form.

As an alternative, he said, the two companies would make a standby bid for 10 days if the Erie would reopen its sale to Morgan Stanley of the 14 million of 3½ per cent bonds at 96 and interest.

If either suggestion is acceptable to the Erie, he said, a condition is that the Erie would immediately advertise for bids and accept the highest. Halsey, Stuart and Otis, Stuart said, reserve the right to bid and agree to bid a higher price than 96 and accrued interest.

Willing to Help Erie Out.

The witness said he was offering the commitment for two reasons. He believed, he testified, that bids should be advertised, and he thought "Erie may be embarrassed by this proceeding."

"If they think they are in a hole," he said of the railroad, "we helped put 'em there, and we are willing to help 'em get out."

After he left the hearing room, argument arose between attorneys for the Erie and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad as to the offer's meaning, and the hearing adjourned until tomorrow.

Work on Negro Housing Units to Start Soon

BY AL CHASE.

Work is scheduled to be started within 30 days on 230 row house units for colored families, representing an investment of more than 1 million dollars, at the northwest corner of Princeton avenue and West 95th street. This is the first part of a 4½ million dollar privately financed housing project which will ultimately provide 1,000 homes for war workers.

The announcement was made yesterday by Robert R. Taylor, vice chairman of the Chicago housing authority, at a conference in Mayor Kelly's office attended by Jacob L. Crane Jr., director of urban studies for the national housing agency, who is studying post-war housing conditions thruout the country, and Miss Elizabeth Wood, executive secretary of CHA.

Grant Priorities for 230.

Priorities have been granted for the 230 units, Taylor said. Financing virtually has been completed, and the federal housing administration will insure the mortgages. The first group is expected to be ready 90 days after breaking ground. All will be rented.

The owner is the Princeton Park trust, a group of Chicagoans headed by Donald O'Toole, real estate operator. The project will be known as Princeton Park. The 80 acre tract is owned by the Pullman company. Holsman & Holsman are architects for the project, which was first announced last October.

Tells Need of Housing.

The mayor told Crane of the necessity for approximately 30,000 war workers' homes in the Chicago area. He said sufficient critical materials probably could not be obtained and suggested the use of substitute materials. Crane is assistant to John Blandford Jr., head of NHA, which is being asked by Chicago builders in Washington to give Chicago a new quota of priorities for 30,000 homes.

208 APARTMENT PARK DEARBORN HOTEL IS SOLD

The 13 story Park Dearborn apartment hotel at 1256-60 North Dearborn street was sold yesterday by the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee, to the Sheltar Building corporation, of which Samuel Targ is president, for $600,000, according to Ben Beron of the Dearborn Realty and Mortgage company, who negotiated the sale. The building contains 208 furnished apartments of one, two, and three rooms. It occupies a lot 60 by 145 feet.

Change Afternoon Zephyr Time to Ease Night Load

The Afternoon Zephyr of the Burlington route starting Sunday will leave Chicago at 4 p. m.—30 minutes later. It will arrive in St. Paul at 10:30 p. m. and Minneapolis at 11 p. m. Albert Cotsworth Jr., Burlington passenger traffic manager, said the change was made to give travelers later departure from Chicago in the belief that more will take the train, thereby leaving more space available on the late night trains for military and other essential travel. On the same day the Black Hawk will be rescheduled to leave Chicago at 9 p. m., an hour earlier.

RAIL AND STEEL SHARES SWEEP MARKET HIGHER

Sales Top Monday's Peak Volume.

New York, March 3 (AP).—Stock market prices swept higher today behind the strong leadership of rail and steel shares in the heaviest volume since late 1941.

Gains ranged from fractions to about 2 points in the broadest advance since December. Of 936 issues traded 675 advanced and 151 closed unchanged.

Transfers totaled 2,017,680 shares against 1,327,610 Tuesday and the previous 1943 record of 2,000,890 Monday.

Encouraging war news coupled with inflation prospects brought investors in on the buying side, brokers said. Rail earnings figures helped sentiment for that group.

Price Indexes Jump.

Today's rise boosted the Associated Press rail and industrial averages .8 of a point each, the former to a new 1943 high at 22.9, while the 60 stock index was up .7 of a point at 46.3, highest since Nov. 12, 1940.

The best performers included United States Steel, Bethlehem, and Youngstown, and in the rail section Pennsylvania, Great Northern preferred, Erie certificates, Southern railway, Santa Fe, and New York Central.

United States Rubber set a new high and closed 1⅛ ahead at 32⅝. Western Union was active and rose 1⅝. Pepsi-Cola advanced 1½ at 39½.

BOND TRADE SOARS

New York, March 3 (AP).—A broad advance that took in virtually every class of rail debt and many industrials and utilities was scored in the bond market today.

Trading exceeded all previous active markets since the current advance gathered momentum several weeks ago and was the fourth heaviest trading day since the war started. Sales of domestic bonds amounted to $31,747,000 face value, a new high since Feb. 5, 1934, of which $29,718,000 was in rails. Turnover in all bonds of $32,172,000 was the largest since Sept. 11, 1939, and compared with $26,605,000 Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 20 rail bonds reached the highest price since Dec. 31, 1937, at 71.5, up .5 of a point. A month ago this group stood at 68.0 and two months ago at 64.6 in this index.

CHICAGO PRICES RISE

Chicago Stock exchange prices advanced yesterday on turnover of 43,000 shares. Volume leaders included Loudon Packing company, up ¼ to a new high of 6; Chicago corporation and Commonwealth Edison, up ⅛, and Omnibus corporation, ¼ higher at 7½ after touching a new high of 7⅝. In the final half hour Anaconda Copper was down ⅛ and Sears up ⅛ from the New York close.

NEW BURLINGTON MILLS 5% SENIOR SHARES OFFERED

New York, March 3 (AP).—Lehman Brothers and Kidder, Peabody & Co. today headed a banking group offering 65,000 shares of Burlington Mills corporation 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock [$100 par] at $104.50 a share plus accrued dividends from March 1.

The corporation plans to use $6,563,877 received from the sale to redeem all outstanding cumulative convertible preferred stock and to reimburse the concern for the redemption price of 20,548 shares of such stock redeemed March 1.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS.

Please provide a report on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad. How do the earnings of the reorganized company compare with those of the old?—T. W.

Answer: The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad operates a total of 925 miles of track in Illinois and western Indiana. One main line extends from Chicago thru Terre Haute and Vincennes to Evansville, Ind., while another runs from Chicago to St. Louis.

The principal freight traffic item is bituminous coal, altho large quantities of oil from the newly opened Illinois oil field are carried. Other traffic items include corn and other farm produce, gasoline, and steel products.

The road was incorporated in 1940 in Indiana and acquired all assets and properties of Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway company under a reorganization plan. In the reorganization the preferred stock of the old company was exchanged for common stock in the new company on a share for share basis. The old common stock was eliminated and declared worthless.

Capitalization of the new company consists of 343,297 shares of no par common stock outstanding and 383,862½ shares of $40 par $2 dividend class A stock. Funded debt totals $26,173,000.

The following financial records for 1941 and 1942 are those of the new company, while preceding year's results are for the old organization.

	Total oper. rev.	Net income.
1942	$17,649,208	$2,665,725
1941	14,538,275	750,572
1940	15,688,059	*1,041,022
1939	15,336,251	*1,119,192
1938	14,288,786	*1,387,650

*Loss.

The old company never paid dividends on the common stock, and preferred accumulations totaled $102 per share at the time of reorganization. An initial payment of 59 cents per share on the class A stock has been paid so far this year. No dividends have been paid on the common stock.

BLOOD MONEY.

I understand a person can deduct $50 for income tax purposes for every pint of blood donated to the Red Cross. Is this true?—W. R.

Answer: The blood donated to the Red Cross is of incalculable value, but there is no provision for allowing the donors a deduction from their income tax.

CHRISTMAS GIFT.

Must I report as income a Christmas gift received from my employer?—B. N.

Answer: Gifts are not taxable, but a Christmas bonus from an employer is considered compensation for services, regardless of what it may be called, and it is taxable.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Cattle on Parade.

March 3, 1943.

FARMERS who have cattle on feed have a favorite occupation they indulge in frequently. The men at the farm are no exception and the lot full of white faced cattle causes much speculation.

During the day the men enjoy leaning over the fence to watch the animals and speculate as to their weight. This is not an idle job, for the old axiom, "the eye of the master fattens his cattle," still holds true. This frequent observation also enables the men to see how the animals are behaving, whether they are taking their feed well and whether they are healthy.

In the evenings the manager, like all farmers, likes to figure possible profit or loss on the steers. Feed costs, feed consumption, purchase price and possible sales price all are in his figuring.

Sees Profit on Steers.

The manager believes he stands a good chance of turning a nice profit on this shipment of steers. The animals were laid down on the farm last summer as 400 pound calves at a cost of $15.75 per hundredweight. This is a high price but the steers are prime and should bring the top of the market.

The Herefords ran on pasture all summer with some additional feeding when pastures grew short. Most of their gain, however, was in bone growth put on at little expense. A steer on good pasture will gain one to one and a half pounds a day.

These steers went into the feedlot in January and gradually were put on full feed. They now are eating approximately 25 pounds each of ground corn and cob, 3 pounds of alfalfa silage and about 4 pounds of hay.

Protein Feed Runs Out.

They are not getting any protein supplement now as the farm supply is exhausted and there has been trouble trying to find more to buy because of the shortage of protein feed. When the animals stopped getting their oil meal their appetite for corn increased until now they are taking 700 pounds more of corn a day than when they had the protein.

Speculation puts the weight of the steers now at an average of from 1,000 to 1,050 pounds. Plans call for full feeding until May when the steers should weigh out at 1,300 pounds each.

If good cattle still are bringing $17 or more a hundredweight the farm will realize a fair profit on the investment. Altho a margin of only $1.25 per hundredweight between purchase and sale price is a little thin, it still permits a small profit. With the value of the manure the balance sheets should show another good year on feeding steers.

MONEY FOR INCOME TAXES

$25 for 30 days Costs Only 75c

Higher taxes and larger pay roll deductions may make it difficult for you to meet the March 15 deadline this year. If so, get the cash you need from Commonwealth. By repaying in monthly instalments tailored to your individual needs, you are relieved of the burden and inconvenience caused by large lump sum payments, like taxes. The cost is based on a monthly rate of 3% on balances of $150 or less and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150, and is, as illustrated above, quite moderate for short-term loans. Get any amount from $10 to $300.

FREE INCOME TAX BOOKLET: Written especially for the taxpayer in the low and medium income brackets, this pamphlet suggests numerous ways to reduce your taxes. It may save you money. For your copy call in person at any Commonwealth office.

LOANS

To Pay Income Taxes

If you have been unable to save up enough to pay your tax on March 15, investigate Household's simple plan. Borrow all or part of your tax instalment without endorsers — no credit inquiries of friends or relatives.

Choose a monthly payment plan.

CASH LOAN YOU GET.	3 payments.	4 payments.	6 payments.	9 payments.	12 payments.
$ 25	$ 8.85	$ 6.73
50	17.69	13.46	$ 9.24	$ 6.43	$ 5.02
75	26.54	20.20	13.86	9.65	7.55
100	35.38	26.93	18.48	12.87	10.07
125	44.18	33.63	23.08	16.06	12.56
150	52.98	40.31	27.66	19.23	15.04
200	70.53	53.66	36.78	25.56	19.96
300	105.62	80.29	55.00	38.16	29.76

Payments include charges at Household's rate of 3% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2½% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the lawful maximum on loans of more than $100.

Build 17 Story Hangar for Navy's Blimps—American Submarine Blasts Jap Transport; Spares Hospital Ship

SUBMARINE'S EYE-VIEWS OF A JAP HOSPITAL SHIP (LEFT), WHICH WAS NOT TORPEDOED, AND A JAP TRANSPORT (RIGHT), WHICH WAS. VERTICAL LINES ARE PERISCOPE SIGHTS.

An American Flying Fortress winging her way home in North Africa after colliding in midair with a German fighter plane whose pilot was dead. Arrow points to big slash cut by the German plane. Kenneth Bragg, the Fortress' pilot, inspected the tail, which was wobbling as tho made of rubber, and decided to try to bring the plane back to its field. He made a perfect landing, but next day, when some one opened the door, the whole fuselage broke in half. An expert from the factory that built the plane said: "According to our figures, a ship hit like that can't fly." The crash had ripped the fuselage in half from the top turret to the floor.
